Common lumber, including No. 1 and lower, was reduced $3 a thousand feet. Finish lumber, including No. 1 and up, was reduced $5 a thousand feet.

The decreased schedules are effective in every yard today. Some dealers put the reduced prices into effect Monday. The decrease is a reflection of reduced wholesale prices made ten days ago, cutting down from $2 to $5 a thousand on all grades.

WACO PRICES SLASHED.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

FORT WORTH (Tex.) May 21.—Lumber prices in Waco, Tex., have made a drop ranging from $10 to $30 a thousand.

It is expected that other towns and cities in the State will immediately meet the reduction.

No official explanation was given by lumber dealers for the reduction, but it is understood to have been due to a falling off in building activities, and to general curtailment of loans by banking institutions of the State. For several months all parts of Texas have experienced an unprecedented building boom. As a result lumber prices have soared, along with other commodities. In most cases the lumber yards have been unable to meet the demands for their product.

But there has been a slump in the past few weeks. The yards have large stocks on hand, and still more en route.

They have been told by their bankers that no more loans would be made for surplus stocks, and they have also been asked to reduce their present line at the banks.

In addition, the Federal reserve banks for this district have called upon the people to restrict all building activity, and to erect only such houses as are absolutely necessary. Public organizations, lodges and churches have been asked to forego building for the present. It has been pointed out that there is room in the churches for twice the present attendance.

Planting time on the farms has brought a heavy demand for loans. West Texas, drouth-stricken for several years, has wonderful prospects and as a consequence has unusual demands for money. Stock men are seeking loans to carry their herds until marketing time.

The result is that the banks have felt obligated to carry these obligations to the limit of their power, and to do so have found it necessary to restrict loans in other directions.

The lumber dealers, caught with big stocks, must liquidate.

Another thing which has operated against the lumber dealers is the uncertainty of labor, in many Texas cities. Building trades unions have repudiated their contracts, and asking for higher wages, tying up work already in progress, and making it impossible for contractors to bid with any assurance upon a job. This has had a tendency to discourage building.

It is expected that other announcements of cuts in building material will closely follow the Waco announcement. Price reductions are very apparent throughout the State on dry goods.

TO REDUCE SHORTAGE.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

CHICAGO, May 21.—Moves to reduce the shortage of lumber for building purposes and for an ultimate cut in the cost were launched at a meeting of 500 wholesale lumber dealers from all parts of the country here yesterday.

Waldo H. Holmes of Seattle, when he sounded the keynote of the meeting, said:

"We are the men who by right methods can do away with the lumber shortage, which is tying up so many building projects. We can do this by a careful study of the production, transportation and labor problems. The result will be an eventual cut in the price of lumber. This cut will not be noticeable immediately, however."

From an efficiency standpoint, the wholesale lumber business is considerably worm-eaten. This opinion was unanimously expressed.

The purpose of the convention is to complete the organization of a national association of wholesale lumber dealers, for the purpose of bettering the lumber business.

L. R. Putnam, formerly president of the Southern Pine Association, has been appointed managing director, and has opened offices here.

Here are some of the ills of the lumber trade as at present conducted, according to the diagnosis of Mr. Putnam, and for which remedies will be sought:

"Of all the timber harvested only 37 per cent reaches the market as lumber. The balance is wasted, mostly used as fuel in sawmill power plants.

Marketing and distribution is primitive. Hundreds of cars are shipped from producing centers to big central markets, without regard to whether there is a market there for lumber. Frequently a shipment

NO RECESS IN SIGHT.

Senate Insurgents Want Clean-up.

Democrats in Caucus Urge Living Costs Action Before Adjournment.

Bill Restricting Packers is Specifically Urged to Reduce Foodstuffs.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, May 21.—The bipartisan insurrection in the Senate appeared to be on the verge of victory today, with its demands that Congress stay on the job this summer and pass measures to reduce the high cost of living.

Unless leaders regain the whip hand tomorrow the program sidetracking virtually all measures except appropriation bills, with adjournment on June 5, will be badly upset.

The Democratic insurgents won the fight in their party caucus today, and forced through a resolution declaring it to be the sense of the Democratic Senators that Congress remain on the job until it passes measures dealing with the high cost of living, notably the Kendrick-Kenyon packer bill. They also expressed a willingness to remain at their duties until Congress repeals war legislation.

The caucus action was a virtual repudiation of an informal understanding between Senator Underwood, the Democratic leader, and Senator Lodge, the Republican leader, to adjourn on June 5.

UNSOLVED QUESTION.

Following the caucus Senator Kendrick of Wyoming, Democrat, one of the coauthors of the packer bill, took the floor in the Senate and declared that Congress ought not to be content with Atty.-Gen. Palmer's dissolution decree. It was all right as far as it went, Senator Kendrick said, but it did not begin to solve the packer problem.

He assured the Republican supporters of the packer bill that sufficient Democrats stood ready to vote with them to take up the measure at any time.

It was considered especially significant that Senator Simmons of North Carolina, one of the Democratic stalwarts, supplemented Senator Kendrick's remarks with the statement that the Democrats also were ready to furnish enough votes to pass the bill.

Republican leaders deny there is any jockeying going on to keep the packer bill side-tracked, but Senator Kenyon of Iowa showed signs of irritation when Senator Wadsworth of New York moved to take up the army appropriation bill the moment the shipping bill was out of the way.

Senator Kenyon promptly counter-moved to take up the packer bill.

"This same situation has prevailed now since February 4," said Senator Kenyon.

CROWDED OUT.

"One bill after another comes in here and shuts out the packer bill. The time has come for us to have a real decisive test and settle whether the packer bill is to be considered at this session."

Senator Wadsworth said he was willing to have the test. Senators got ready to "go to bat" on the issue when it was decided to postpone a showdown until after the party conference tomorrow.

Perhaps some way can be devised to satisfy all factions, but the insurgents are determined that the packer bill must go through.

About fifteen Republicans will vote for the packer bill and virtually all the Democrats will support it, according to its sponsors. This would give the measure a wide margin in the Senate.

FARMS GET GAS PRIORITY.

Needs of Ranches Come First During Motive Fuel Famine, is Decree.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, May 21.—Larger cities of Northern California are due to feel the first pinch of the gasoline shortage tomorrow, according to announcement by the Standard Oil Company here today.

"Farmers first" is the motto that will govern the situation, the company says, and the curtailment of supplies to less essential uses must necessarily follow. In a statement the company said:

"The less essential use of gasoline must be curtailed in order that the country districts may have enough to produce crops and supply food.

"There is no general gasoline shortage. The present situation is due largely to the railway strike, disorganization of transportation and to increased demand. Many farmers who depended on electricity to obliged, by the shortage of electrical obliged by the shortage of electrical power, to turn to gasoline engines.

"The shortage will continue throughout the summer and the most careful conservation is necessary. The public can help by curtailing consumption, the most effective method of doing which is to reduce the mileage of automobiles. The San Francisco agency of this company today took ten automobiles out of service. With the smaller volume of sales, numerous trucks will also be laid up."

Industries and business will not be affected by the order, the company said.

PORTLAND, May 21.—Oil companies here today began selling gasoline at 25½ cents a gallon, a reduction of 1½ cents from prices.

SLAIN PRESIDENT OF MEXICO

Venustiano Carranza.

CARRANZA'S RISE DATED FROM FALL OF HUERTA.

Venustiano Carranza, elected President of Mexico March 11, 1917, by the largest vote ever cast in a Presidential election in his country, stepped from political obscurity to national and international prominence on the graves of the hopes of Gen. Victoriano Huerta, the usurper, and his followers.

Simultaneously with Gen. Huerta's coup d'etat and the assassination of President Madero, the news went out to the world that Gen. Venustiano Carranza, elected Governor of the State of Coahuila in 1911, refused to recognize the usurper and would resist him by force of arms.

"Madero's revolution was political," Carranza is quoted as having said. "Mine is a social one."

Born of parents in comfortable circumstances in Cuatro Cienegas, State of Coahuila, December 29, 1859, Venustiano Carranza was educated in the public schools of his native State and later studied law at the Mexican capital. When he was admitted to the bar, however, affection of the eyes prevented him from practicing, and he returned to his native State to become a rancher. His experiences as a rancher first, then as judge, Senator and finally Governor of Coahuila, made Carranza familiar with the agrarian problem, the root of political unrest in Mexico.

HAD DEFIED HUERTA.

Having defied Huerta, Carranza rallied a small band of 500 followers which grew into a sizable army when he won the support of Francisco Villa. Carranza's influence spread rapidly, the military victories of his chief aide, Villa, rallying the various factions of Northern Mexico around his banner. For a time, however, real progress was slow. Huerta's machinations had embroiled Mexico with the United States and intervention seemed imminent. The killing of W. S. Benton, a British subject, by a staff officer of Villa further complicated the situation.

Then came Villa's victory at Torreon, the first real success of the war. Carranza was pressing Huerta hard when the ABC conference to discuss the differences between the United States and Huerta was called in Buffalo. Gen. Carranza refused to suspend hostilities and declined to abide by the result of those diplomatic negotiations. The fighting went on, with the result that Gen. Huerta resigned the provisional Presidency July 15, 1914, and a month later Gen. Carranza made his triumphal entry into Mexico City. Huerta in the meantime having fled to Spain.

Shortly afterward independent revolutions, led by Zapata, Gen. Pascual Orozco and others, commenced. Dissension between Villa and Carranza, which began at the Torreon conference, reached a climax September 28, 1914, when Villa declared war on Carranza. Gen. Alvaro Obregon became Carranza's leading general.

OBREGON AIDS HIM.

The Villa generals met at Aguascalientes in November, 1914, and, in alliance with the Zapata faction, formed a conventionist government. The capital changed hands several times and was not finally taken by Gen. Obregon until the summer of 1915.

The beginning of the end of the Villa-Zapata party as a military power followed swiftly the heavy defeats of Villa by Gen. Alvaro Obregon. Villa was forced to give up Torreon and concentrate his dwindling forces in Northern Chihuahua and Eastern Sonora, making occasional forays and raids, which culminated in the attack on Columbus, N. M., that resulted in the invasion of Mexican territory by Gen. Pershing.

In the diplomatic exchanges that ensued between President Wilson and Carranza, who had been officially recognized as the head of the de facto government by the United States in October, 1915, he insisted on the respect by the United States of Mexico's sovereignty and the concession to the government of reciprocal rights of invasion. He maintained his position despite the crisis caused by the clashes between Mexican and American soldiers at Parral and Carrizal, but when war seemed unavoidable Carranza succeeded in stemming the tide by his proposal for the appointment of a joint commission to settle the difficulties amicably. The proposal was accepted by President Wilson, and the deliberations of the commission resulted in the withdrawal of the American army and the restoration of friendly relations between the two countries.

CARRANZA IS ELECTED.

In the meantime Carranza had called a Constitutional Congress, which accepted most of the reforms he outlined. On March 11, 1917, he was elected President. More than 1,500,000 votes were cast for him. He took the oath of office May 1, 1917.

In a message to the Mexican Congress following his inauguration as President, Carranza declared Mexico's "strict" neutrality. His note to neutral nations, however, urging them to declare embargoes against all the European belligerents, as a means of ending the war, and the warmth of his language in congratulating Emperor William on the occasion of his last birthday, aroused comment in the United States, as did also the publication of the Zimmerman note, inviting Mexico to take "by conquest" the States of Texas, Arizona and New Mexico in payment for a declaration of war on the United States acting in concert with Japan.

Gen. Carranza was married and formerly lived in Saltillo. One of his daughters, Miss Virginia Carranza, became the wife of Gen. Candido Aguilar.

Fugitive President Slain; Companions Share Fate

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

MEXICO CITY, May 22.—Venustiano Carranza, who fled from this city on May 6 and who took flight into the mountains of Puebla following a battle near Rinconado, was killed at 1 o'clock Thursday morning at Tlaxcalaltongo, according to official announcement here.

Carranza's companions, the names of whom are not as yet known, are declared to have shared his fate. The attack which resulted in the death of the President was led by Gen. Rodolfo Serrera, it is said.

RED PERIL IS DOOMED.

Russ Bolshevism is Crumbling Fast.

Lack of Foodstuffs, Fuel and Transportation Insures Collapse by Winter.

Help from America, Europe is Only Hope of the Soviet Rulers.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

[Note: This dispatch does not indicate the date it was filed in Moscow, but it is remarkable because it is the first gloomy picture of Russia that ever has been permitted to be filed in the land of the soviets. It is reported that General Brusiloff has seized control of the government at Moscow. This dispatch, too, seems to indicate some change has taken place at the fountainhead of communism.]

BY JOHN CLAYTON.

MOSCOW (via Paris) May 21.—The lack of fuel, foodstuffs and transportation unite to insure a total collapse of Bolshevism by the time next winter sets in unless the soviets make peace with the Allies, break open the iron ring blockade and get help from Europe and America.

Seventy per cent of the mines in the Donetz basin, Russia's fuel reservoir, cannot be worked for many years, being destroyed by Gen. Denikine during his retreat. Another 15 per cent of the Donetz mines are idle owing to lack of machinery. Thus less than 15 per cent of the normal production has been reached since the area has returned to the possession of the Reds.

The soviet chiefs are trying to substitute peat and wood converting some factories to burn the different fuel, but transportation is broken down so badly it cannot haul feed.

RAILROADS DEMOLISHED.

The railroads are reduced to scrap iron, the rolling stock is rickety, worthless junk, no repairing has been done since 1914 and nearly no equipment has been added.

Trotzky believes Russia can solve its transportation problem itself even if outside help is denied. He thinks if the fighting can be stopped, and the Russian people turn to peaceful pursuits, they can manufacture their own locomotives, freight and passenger cars, rails, switches and other machinery apparatus needed to rehabilitate the lines. Trotzky admits it would require a long term of years for Russia to manufacture its own rails and supplies.

The best opinion in Russia disagrees entirely with Trotzky, however, insisting Russia can never untangle the transportation problem alone, insisting it must purchase equipment and supplies from Europe and preferably from the United States and must invite foreign railway experts to map out the improvements necessary and supervise and direct the reconstruction.

Railway reconstruction must precede the rebuilding of the utterly broken down economic situation.

I asked Sverdloff, assistant Commissioner of Transportation, questions requiring statistical answers regarding the railway situation and he refused to answer.

CITIES HURT MOST.

A short time later I reiterated the questions. He stated he could not answer them, as the truth on the deplorable transportation situation would affect profoundly the negotiations for peace then under way.

Foodstuffs cannot be distributed until transportation is improved, and the Russian cities must continue starving, although the peasants have plenty, because their products cannot be carried to the markets.

The peasant's situation is not so bad as he has food and wood fuel, lacking only clothing.

Gen. Wood Leads Johnson in Oregon

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PORTLAND (Ore.) May 21.—Figures compiled in the office of the Portland Oregonian at midnight tonight from twenty-three out of thirty-five counties in the State, incomplete, including incomplete returns from ninety-six Multnomah (Portland) precincts, gave Leonard Wood a lead of 254 votes over Senator Hiram W. Johnson in the Oregon Republican presidential preference primary. The figures gave: Wood, 2638; Johnson, 2605; Lowden, 934; Hoover, 737.

END OF BAY CITY'S SHIP STRIKE SEEN.

AFTER MONTHS OF IDLENESS UNION LABOR READY TO ADMIT DEFEAT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, May 21.—Indication that a shipyards strike in the San Francisco Bay region, which started October 1, is about to end, came today with the announcement by labor leaders that striking carpenters and joiners had voted to return Monday. Several hundred men were said to be affected.

The action of the carpenters and joiners was said by their leaders to have followed the adoption of a resolution by the Bay Cities Metal Trades Council inviting striking unions to determine for themselves whether they should return to work or remain out.

The shipyards, after virtually suspending work until November, opened up under what is known as the "American plan," which union leaders designated as an open shop. Subsequent efforts of international officers to end the strike proved futile.

The strike was said to have affected between 40,000 and 50,000 men, many thousands of whom have found other employment.

LIBERTY BONDS SELL FAST AND STRONGER.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

NEW YORK, May 21.—Heavy buying of Liberty Bonds and Victory Notes in the first hour of today's trading on the stock exchange resulted in many substantial recoveries for those issues from recent low records.

Liberty Second 4's rose to $2.70, an advance of $1.30; First 4¼'s at $5.00 showed a gain of $1; Second 4¼'s at $3.50 rose $1.40; Third 4¼'s at $7.10 gained $1.30, and Fourth 4¼'s at $4.30 were strongest of all at a gain of $2.30.

Victory 3¾'s rose 96 cents to 95.60 and the 4¾'s gained $1.20 at 96.90. Dealings in these issues up to 11 o'clock approximated $8,500,000 par value.

JAPANESE FINANCIAL SITUATION IS ACUTE.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

TOKIO, May 21. — The recent financial disturbance in Japan still continues to assert itself. The Tokio clearinghouse has announced that the banks which crumpled under the wave were six times those that went under last January, and that the number will be still larger for May. The condition in Osaka is even worse. The press is urging government relief work among the unemployed.

AERIAL EXHIBITION DURING BALL GAME.

In aid of the basket shower for the Los Angeles Orphan Asylum an aerial exhibition will be given over the Washington Park ball grounds today while the game is being played. Girls with a big basket will take up a collection. The airplane will be furnished by Markwell & Co., and the pilot will be Al Wilson, "Daredevil" Gordon Brown will give an exhibition and will climb all over the airplane.

INAUGURAL PLANS LAID.

Gen. Obregon Returns to the Capital; La Huerta to Arrive Monday.

United States Asks for the Names of Agents for De Facto Rulers.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Gen. Obregon has returned to Mexico City, and troops for the inaugural parade are arriving there. La Huerta is expected to arrive Monday.

According to the press, provisional government troops from the States of Sonora and Sinaloa, commanded by Gens. Calles, Serrano and Flores, were being moved to the States of Michoacan, Guanajuato and Jalisco. Border advices to the State Department said Gen. Jose Hurtado was preparing to leave Piedras Negras for Torreon on the Coahuila-Durango border, to begin a campaign against Gen. Arriola, Federal Governor of Durango, who is said to have 500 men and holds the city of Durango for the Carranza government.

CARRANZA PLAIN CITIZEN.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

LAREDO (Tex.) May 21.—El Porvenir, a Monterey daily, in yesterday's issue published a Mexico City dispatch stating that Francisco Gonsalez, chief magistrate of the Mexican Supreme Court, issued a manifesto declaring Venustiano Carranza had ceased to be President of Mexico on May 6, "when he disavowed in writing the powers of the union and constitution of the republic."

The manifesto said since Carranza had abandoned the capital he could only be considered a private resident "wandering about accompanied by only a small number of former supporters."

El Porvenir says Felix Diaz is disposed to turn over his men and leave Mexico, and that he proposes to live abroad for several years.

ASKS FOR AGENTS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 21.—With a view to facilitating commercial returns between the United States and the part of Mexico controlled by the revolutionists, the State Department has asked Charge d'Affaires Summerlin in Mexico City for a list of the commercial and diplomatic agents of the de facto government stationed in the United States.

The personnel of provisional government employees in the United States as made public at the agency named Dr. Alvaro Torre Diaz as confidential agent, Consul R. P. Hopkins, (commercial agent functioning as Consul) Emiliano Tames, Nozales, Ariz., Luis Montes de Oca, El Paso, E. Idor, Laredo; Tudoro Beltran, San Antonio; Aliber Garcia, Philadelphia, and Manuel de la Pena, New York.

The State Department received today a summary of a circular issued in Mexico City by the provisional government which apparently sets out a new policy as to tax payments. "All merchants, owners of industries, private individuals and companies of all classes are notified," the summary said, "that they should pay in advance at the proper collecting offices one bimestre (two-month period) tax assessment which, in accordance with the existing treasury law, should be paid periodically, in addition to the tax assessment for the present bimestre with the understanding that said extraordinary contribution will be discounted by thirds in each of the bimestres July and August, September and October, and November and December of this year."

The circular added that failure to comply by May 25 would result in the collection of a 25 per cent increase.

Mexico City papers yesterday carried reports that revolutionary forces were in close pursuit of President Carranza. They also said the contest for provisional President to of lumber reaches the ultimate consumer after having traveled many times as far as it should—thus adding much freight to the price.

SELLING ON COMMISSION.

Certain fly-by-night speculators accept lumber on consignment, making no agreement on price beyond stipulating that they shall receive a certain commission on whatever amount they can get for it. They throw it on the market at any price offered, with the result that the market is made chaotic.

As a remedy for these ills, Mr. Putnam said, the new association will undertake research work so that the greater part of every tree cut will reach the market in some form. It will try to eliminate the irresponsible speculator, reform the shipping system so that lumber will be shipped directly to the place where it is needed and arrange to route all shipments over the shortest route. In addition, the association will undertake to increase reforesting activities.

TO STABILIZE PRICES.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SPOKANE, May 21.—Weyerhausers, the biggest manufacturers of lumber in the United States, whose sales agency headquarters are in Spokane, announced today their continuance of the plan to stabilize lumber prices.

February 24 they guaranteed their maximum prices till June 1 and today they guaranteed them until September 1. They announced that they are taking this step in an endeavor to reduce the price of lumber.

I. N. Tate, assistant general manager of the company, said today:

"The fir prices will remain the same, while the Idaho prices have been readjusted to bring them into better relationship with each other. This leaves them all below the market except that fir dimension and common boards are lower temporarily.

"Our mills have been running to capacity and we have been shipping to capacity so far as the shortage of cars would permit. From February 24 to May 19 we have shipped 7558 cars of lumber. Figured on an average of 30,000 feet to the car, this is 227,740,000 feet. Of this amount 2174 cars were shipped from the coast and 5384 from the Inland Empire mills.

"A few other lumber companies have followed us in the matter of price guarantee and the fact that the market is nearer our prices than in February is somewhat of an indication of its partial success, at least.

"By guaranteeing maximum prices over a definite period the lumber dealer can then quote a price to the contractor and the contractor can figure on the job with the assurance that he can get his lumber at the price he entered his bid or estimate. The fact that such has not been the case in general had a bad influence on the restriction of building.

"Our northern mills are not included in the new guarantee, owing to their being shut down by a strike. The men in Minnesota and Wisconsin have been working ten hours and are now striking for eight."

HIGHER AUTO PRICES, SAY LOCAL DEALERS.

EVERYTHING THAT ENTERS IN TO A MOTOR CAR IS GOING UP, THEY STATE.

An advance in motor-car prices rather than any cut or decline is predicted by automobile merchants in Los Angeles. Already many distributors here have been advised of coming price increases and practically all dealers agree that the cost of motor vehicles of all sorts is going up, not only in this city, but all over the country.

Several reasons are given for this advance. In the first place freight rates on motor cars are now cheaper than on almost any other commodity and it is certain that an increase in rates is soon due which will boost motor-car prices on the Pacific Coast.

News dispatches from the East indicate that all parts manufacturers are planning on a sharp advance in the price of their products and this rise will be severely felt in the automobile industry, according to local dealers. Tire costs have already gone up and further increases are expected in this line. Practically everything that goes into a modern automobile has advanced in price, from the steel castings to the upholstery.

With production costs soaring in this way, and with the demand for motor cars continuing at an unprecedented rate there is only one way that automobile prices can go for the present, and that is up, say the distributors.

Mr. H. J. Cager, secretary of the Motor Car Dealers' Association of Los Angeles, commenting on the situation, said: "The idea of a decline in motor-car prices at the present time is absurd. All lines of parts have advanced rapidly in the past few months. Tire prices have gone up, and we are warned that they will advance again very soon. We know that the steel mills are scarcely turning a wheel, and that transportation is tied up in a double bowknot. And with the non-essential list looming up again in the minds of those who control such things in Washington there is very small chance of ever producing automobiles, to say nothing about a decline in prices.

"Considering the situation from every angle, it is my belief that prices will advance materially, perhaps several times, before they commence to go down."

MONTEBELLO BOUND TO GET NEW SCHOOL.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

MONTEBELLO, May 21.—This school district voted practically unanimously today to issue bonds in the sum of $150,000 for a new grammar school to replace the old and worn out structure now being used.

This is the second time within a month that the citizens have expressed themselves strongly in favor of the new school as at a former election, a few weeks ago, the sentiment was as strongly expressed as it was today. The issue voted at the previous election failed to find a market for the reason that the securities paid but 5 per cent. The bonds voted today will pay the purchasers 6 per cent on their investment.

PRICE CUTTING AWAKENS EAST.

New York Shopping District Reports Record Sales.

Many People Fear Reductions Will Not Continue.

Merchants Declare Peak has Been Passed.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, May 21.—New York shopping districts began yesterday to reflect in full light the price cutting epidemic. Department stores throughout the city and especially those of the Broadway-Fifth avenue-Thirty-fourth street area—the greatest shopping center in Manhattan—were thronged with bargain hunters, who took advantage of from twenty to seventy per cent cuts which they had been waiting for.

The uncertainty whether lower prices for clothing, house furnishings and general merchandise would continue seemed responsible for much frenzied buying.

W. W. Kirk, assistant merchandise manager at the McCreery store on Thirty-fourth street, which has announced reductions of from twenty-five to fifty per cent, expressing his personal opinion though declining to speak for his establishment said:

HIGH PRICES ERA GONE.

"Indications appear from the general situation that high prices have reached the peak and cannot endure. I look for permanent reductions of from fifteen to twenty per cent immediately and further reductions later. Three reasons appear to indicate this: First, the merchants are going to decline to buy goods from the wholesaler at the prices demanded just as the public have declined for some weeks to pay the prices which the retailer has been forced to ask. This attitude on the part of the public became apparent the first week in April and continued until prices dropped.

"Second, the manufacturer in turn will not be patronized so freely by the wholesaler and he will have a chance to catch up on production. The shortage of production is one reason for high prices.

"Third, competition among retail merchants, now that price cutting has begun, will have a tendency to lower the cost to the consumer.

MERCHANTS QUIT BUYING.

"Merchants generally have shut down on the wholesaler because of the uncertainty of conditions this fall. Rather than hold over his goods for prices demanded at the present time, the wholesaler is also inclined to unload at considerable less gain just as the retailer is doing."

An official of another large store in Thirty-fourth street said:

"We have seven stores in various cities including New York. We are not buying future stock now and will not until manufacturers and wholesalers come down with their prices. Normally we buy $750,000 worth of furs on our initial purchase. So far we have refused to purchase a single piece of fur and what is more, the fur people have been around soliciting trade. We feel that we can buy cheaper. Already wholesale dealers in many lines have broken their market and are offering goods at reductions to the retailer."

N. Spear, owner of a large retail furniture house, speaking of trade in that line said:

FURNITURE DEALERS STRIKE.

"We retailers of furniture refuse longer to be dominated by the manufacturer and are not buying. Therefore, we are not replenishing our stocks and are not making any radical reductions in price, but the prices will come down gradually. It will come down when the manufacturers are brought to realize that they cannot sell to the retailer at fluctuating prices; so much this week and a ten or twenty per cent raise on the same article the following week. In the furniture line trade is direct between the manufacturer and retailer.

Retail merchandise sales today were reported heaviest in silks which article had already slumped in price before reductions on goods generally were announced.

"The buying class are out in force today," said one merchant. "There have been more bona fide buyers in this store today than for many weeks—people who come in with the actual intention of spending money. Many of them are out-of-town people."

All in all, New York shopping district spoke eloquently of the effect of the "nonbuying strike." People who have held off waiting for the merchants to come down to the level of their pocketbooks were out in force with a now-we-can-shop attitude.

Another element was held equally responsible for the break in the merchandise market—the Federal Reserve Board bankers' war on high prices.

Several New York merchants admitted the effect of this situation on their business. In the absence of loans which would allow them to hold over stocks, they are forced to liquidate, expecting to restock when they feel that wholesalers and manufacturers have brought prices down to a safe level.

Far from any disinclination to regard price lowering the National Manufacturers' Association which closed its annual convention here today resolved to urge all its members to "co-operate in all reasonable efforts to bring about that result."

ARMY AVIATOR STARTS ON DISTANCE FLIGHT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

EUGENE (Or.) May 21.—Lieut. R. M. Kelly of the Ninth Aero Squadron, who has been stationed here with his DeHaviland airplane two weeks, hopped off today for Blaine, Wash., intending to leave that city early Sunday for Stockton, Cal., in an attempt to establish a record for distance and time.

He promised his friends that he will stop here for breakfast Sunday. He says he expects to make the only other stop at Montagu, Cal.

ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE BEGINS CRUSADE—SCOTLAND TO GET LOCAL OPTION.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WESTERVILLE (O.) May 21.—William E. (Pussyfoot) Johnson will make a part of his western itinerary speaking under the auspices of the Anti-Saloon League by airplane.

The schedule completed today calls for a trip by air July 6 when he will leave his train at Granger, Colo., and fly to Twin Falls, Idaho, a distance of 500 miles, deliver a speech and catch his train at Shoshone, Idaho, allowing him thus to reach Spokane for an address that evening.

GLASGOW, May 21.—Scotland's Local Option Act, enacted in 1913 after thirty years of agitation, becomes effective June 1.

Prohibitionists are planning to launch an electoral campaign which in intensity, cost and all variety publicity will be comparable with the latter stages of the anti-alcoholic crusade in the United States.

There will be a poll in every town and district of Scotland and out of that vote will come the choice of one of three alternatives—total prohibition, reduction of drinking facilities by one-fourth or continuance of present regulations. Even spokesmen for the liquor interests concede that a good part of Scotland will go "dry."

In the burghs with a population of less than 25,000 the election will be for the whole burgh, while in the burghs with over 25,000, separate elections for municipal wards will be held. Glasgow has thirty-seven wards. Public houses on the one side of the street may be closed, those on the other side, being in a different ward, may remain open.

PLAN INAUGURAL IN MEXICO CITY

be named by Congress May 24 would be between Gen. Gonzales and Adolfo de la Huerta.

GONZALES ISSUES STATEMENT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

MEXICO CITY, May 20 (Via Laredo Junction, May 21.)—The ideals which animated Gen. Pablo Gonsales when he declared against the Carranza government are set forth in a manifesto he has addressed to the nation. Assurances of public order and that property rights, both Mexican and foreign-owned, will be respected, together with the announcement of his withdrawal as a candidate for President to further assure constitutional public order, are contained in the manifesto.

The manifesto follows:

To the Mexican people:

"When the position of the candidate of the Carranza government with its train of dangers for the future became clear to the eyes of the nation, having an earnest desire for the solution of our political difficulties before them a decided factor for conciliation and not one of division or contention, I began to formulate a solution that later developed the realization of which I feel I should not for one moment delay, it being my desire to carry to a national conscience a reassurance of that which at the moment is not quite definite, since it awaits with certain uneasiness the renewal of the electoral campaign of the independent candidates who have been contending.

NO PERSONAL AMBITIONS.

"When at the hands of the Democratic League convention I accepted my nomination as a Presidential candidate, I declared with absolute sincerity that no personal ambition should actuate my purpose, that it was not my intention to become President if by doing so it in any manner should involve the shedding of one single drop of blood.

"The Carranza government having decided upon a plan to brutally impose office candidates, I realized that the entire country was in danger of a civil war. This I tried in every way to avoid. I propose a radical modification in the political situation of the moment, to wit:

"(a) The withdrawal of all the candidates then before the people; in the first place my own withdrawal.

"(b) The selection of another candidate, who, by his ability to fulfill certain conditions, would be a guaranty of peace and order for the republic."

SHIPBUILDING MAY BE STOPPED BY COMPANY.

SCHAW BATCHER FAILURE TO GET FAVORABLE CONTRACTS WOULD CLOSE YARD.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN FRANCISCO, May 21.—The Schaw Batcher Shipbuilding Company, operating shipyards at South San Francisco, may terminate its shipbuilding operations here, it became known today.

The yards are owned by the Western Pipe and Steel Company, the Schaw Batcher Company being a subsidiary concern, that formerly engaged in the manufacture of pipe and other steel products. The Western company also operates a shipbuilding yard at San Pedro, known as the Southwestern Shipbuilding Company.

A. L. Baker, superintendent of the South San Francisco yards, said today that the company had not yet reached a final decision. Whether it continues in the shipbuilding business or not, he said, depends on whether the company is able to obtain future building contracts on favorable terms. The South San Francisco yards were established on a shipbuilding basis shortly after the beginning of the war when a maximum of shipbuilding construction was demanded throughout the country. The yards turned out fifteen vessels, most of them of the 8800-ton freight-carrying standardized variety prescribed by the United States Shipping Board.

POLISH TROOPS DRIVE BACK REDS

Soviet Armies Are Thrust to Rear Twelve Miles.

Claim Germans Still Continue Bolshevik Aid.

Brussiloff Reported as Head of Russian Armies.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

WARSAW, May 20.—Polish troops, counter-attacking Bolshevik forces on the northern sector of the battle-front, have driven the soviet armies back twelve and a half miles near Krzyzeszepol, according to an official statement issued here today.

The statement declares that on the middle Boaresina sector the Bolsheviki were repulsed when they tried to force their way across the river.

Information indicating some elements in Germany are determined to help the Russian Bolsheviki continues to be received here, it is said in military circles.

The latest report is regarding Upper Silesia, where German armed forces have been assembling on the borders of the plebiscite area. Newspapers here today published dispatches stating that 4000 security guards had arrived in Upper Silesia by special train.

For weeks, it is declared, Germans have been hauling ammunition into Silesia, hiding it beneath beets in railroad cars.

BRUSILOFF IN COMMAND.

Gen. Alexis A. Brussiloff, former commander-in-chief of Russian armies, is understood to have assumed command of the Bolshevik offensive against Poland. In Polish military circles they say the soviet attack is designed to overrun Lithuania and extend the Bolshevik front westward to East Prussia.

LONDON, May 21.—Russian soviet troops are continuing their pursuit of the Poles in the region of Polotsk, on the Dvina River, according to an official announcement issued in Moscow and received here by wireless.

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 19.—A newspaper from Brusa reports that Bolshevik troops actually have entered Erzerum, the principal city of Armenia, and are negotiating with Kazio Kaarabekir, commander of the Fifteenth Corps, whose headquarters are there.

MONEY SHORTAGE WILL MAKE BEEF COSTLIER.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

OMAHA, May 21.—L. H. Earhart, manager of the Omaha branch of the Federal Reserve Bank, today declared that the local branch, despite the recent curtailment of credit, is handling agriculture and cattle paper equal to one-third of its total rediscounts.

Mr. Earhart's statement was given out in answer to one issued earlier in the day by Frank M. Currie, cattle man of Omaha, that "for thirty days past no stockman could borrow money at any bank in the city of Omaha at any rate on any kind of security."

Mr. Currie declared that the shrinkage in values in the live-stock industry has been ruinous and that beef production for the next twelve months will be 25 per cent less than it has been.

PRICE OF SUGAR BREAKS WITH PUBLIC AGITATION

Market in Futures Falls One Cent a Pound; Corn and Pork in Sharp Decline; Europe Watches.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, May 21.—Heavy general selling in the sugar market here today broke prices a cent a pound, the full amount permitted in any one day's sugar exchange trading. Continued agitation against the high cost of living, coupled with the threat of packing industries throughout the country to close rather than pay present prices for sugar, was attributed as the cause of the market break.

There also was a spectacular break in the price of cotton contracts for May. A heavy selling movement carried the prices down more than 4 cents below the recent high record.

Meanwhile, Federal and State agents kept hot on the trail of profiteers.

CHICAGO, May 21.—Millions of bushels of grain were flung suddenly on the markets today by holders who had become unnerved. Prices quivered and then collapsed.

The strain and its violent result was attributed mostly to sweeping changes announced in railroad operation and to nation-wide tightening of credits. Wreckage of values totaled 13½ cents a bushel on corn, 6¾ on oats and 1.75 a barrel on pork.

Tonight every brokerage house in Chicago was calling for heavily-increased margins on all open trades, and there was prospect of another strenuous day tomorrow.

Rural owners took a conspicuous part in the general selling rush that precipitated today's big smash in prices.

The outstanding certainty was that liquidation of great magnitude had commenced, and was wholly unchecked when the session ended, with quotations at the lowest point reached and the trading pits a bedlam.

Fear of a glut of supplies at distributing points caused the belief that a drastic order would be issued for the railroads to move grain on a priority basis. Another special bearish influence was the continued attention given to the cutting of merchandise in department stores.

DECLINE RAPID.

The downward sweep of the markets was so rapid that it was almost impossible to fill orders at blackboard quotations. Houses with country connections were especially active in the selling. Tightening of credits received continued notice as a bearish factor and so, too, did extension of department store price cutting in widely distance cities.

Efforts to stop losses added to the wildness of trading in the last hour and instead of reacting the market plunged downward with greatly accelerated momentum. Almost panicky conditions prevailed in the final fifteen minutes. The close was demoralized at the lowest point of the day for corn, $1.58 to $1.50 July, a drop of 11 1-4 to 12¾ cents in twenty-four hours.

ST. LOUIS, May 21.—Grain prices took a severe slump on the local market today. July closed at $1.62 1-4, a drop of 1.2 5-8 cents in the last twenty-four hours. Spot corn was quoted at $2.03 to $2.09.

Brokers attributed the decline to favorable weather and good receipts.

SOLDIER BONUS TAX PLAN HIT.

Congressman Rainey Presents Dissenting Report.

"Dance of Death Over Financial Chasm," He Says.

Stock Dividend Proposal Declared Constitutional.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Declaring that the taxing features of the Soldiers' Bonus Bill will "hurry us ever nearer and nearer toward financial disaster," Representative Rainey of Illinois presented a dissenting report to the House Ways and Means Committee today on behalf of the Democratic members of the committee.

Mr. Rainey said that the Democrats were against all the forms of taxation incorporated in the bill except that on stock dividends. He advocated the tax on war profits contained in the Rainey-Johnson bill.

The bill will be called up for passage tomorrow in the House. A special rule providing for five hours' debate and permitting one motion to recommit will be sought from the Rules Committee tomorrow morning.

CRITICISES TAX PLAN.

Representative Rainey especially objected to the land relamation and insurance features of the bonus bill. He also criticised the tax on transactions on stock and produce exchanges, and on payments for real estate sales.

"This country and the world is engaged in a mad dance of death on the edge of a great financial chasm and their ill-considered taxing features of this bill hurry us ever nearer toward financial disaster," said Representative Rainey.

"Whatever may have been the purpose of the majority in devising these taxes it is perfectly plain that war profiteers, whether individuals or great corporations, have been carefully and tenderly protected."

Representative Fordney presented a report on behalf of the Republicans supporting the bill. He outlined the various forms of adjusted compensation and explained the reasons which caused the committee to reject proposals for issuance of bonds.

TAX CONSTITUTIONAL.

Members of the committee believe that the proposed stock dividend tax will be constitutional. Instead of an income tax upon individuals receiving the stock dividends, like the section of the law invalidated by the decision of the Supreme Court, the new provision levies an excise tax directly against corporations for the privilege of issuing stock dividends.

SPECTACULAR RAIN IS REPORTED AT PHOENIX

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PHOENIX (Ariz.) May 21.—One of the heaviest hail storms known for years swept the vicinity of Phoenix shortly after noon today, with precipitation of about a half inch within a half hour. The temperature dropped 20 deg. In the suburbs there is declaration that hailstones fell two inches in diameter, though there was quick melting in the accompanying rain. The storm was of limited extent, its main pathway being about ten miles long and three miles wide, with the city as its center.

Fears that great damage had been done the cotton crop have been dissipated by telephone reports that show no hail ten miles eastward or westward or beyond three miles to the north. Within that district the young cotton has been cut badly, many of the fields absolutely ruined, with the season too late for further replanting.

No estimate can be made of the damage for several days, but it is probable that less than 1000 acres of the valley's 150,000 acres in cotton have been injured. Some damage also was done to melon and other crops. The storm was a spectacular one within the city, but did practically no damage here.

ENTERTAIN CONGRESSMEN.

Phoenix today was host to a party of ten members of the House Committee on Indian Affairs, headed by Chairman Homer P. Snyder of New York and including Hayden of Arizona, Elston of California, Hernandez of New Mexico, Rhodes of Missouri, Cole of Ohio, Kelly of Pennsylvania, Carter of Oklahoma, Gandy of South Dakota and Hastings of Oklahoma. There was an inspection of the Indian school and in the afternoon, a visit to the upper Pima reservation and the granite reef diversion dam.

This evening the party is being dined at the Country Club. Tomorrow they will visit the Florence and Casa Grande section and the Pima reservation at Sacaton.

The following day will be spent at San Carlos, with return to Phoenix Monday, over the Apache Trail. Tuesday the Parker project on the Mojave reservation will be inspected, the party going to Los Angeles.

GRANT REHEARING.

Court to Give Tide Land Tax Cases More Consideration.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SACRAMENTO, 21.—The Third District Court of Appeal today granted the petition for a rehearing which was asked by both parties concerned in the suit of the Outer Harbor Dock and Wharf Company against the city of Los Angeles.

This action and a similar one against the county, involves the taxing of tide land property leased by the wharf company from the State. In a recent opinion the Appellate Court affirmed the judgment of the Los Angeles Superior Court in one case and reversed it in the other.

In granting the petition for a rehearing, the court said:

"Both parties have asked for a rehearing and as the questions involved are important and not altogether free from doubt we have concluded that further consideration is justified."

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Efforts to bring Villa completely into line with the revolutionary movement in Mexico are continuing despite failure of Gen. Calles and Villa's representative to reach an agreement yesterday at Chihuahua, it was said here today by representatives of the de facto government.

Messages were sent today to both Villa and Calles urging the necessity of co-operation, they said.

Unofficially some doubt was expressed as to the possibility of a satisfactory understanding with Villa.

CALLES LEAVES CHIHUAHUA.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

CHIHUAHUA CITY (Mex.) May 20 (Via El Paso, Tex.) May 21.—Gen. P. Elias Calles, Minister of War for the new revolutionary government, left here tonight for Mexico City after a conference with envoys from Gen. Francisco Villa.

The conference, it was understood, did not result in the acceptance of conditions laid down by Villa, where by he would retire to private life. Elimination of Villa as a military or bandit factor in northwestern Mexico in the immediate future because of the conference is believed unlikely. However, revolutionists announced means for his elimination were being considered. Gen. Calles announced earlier today that all the revolutionists were ready to guarantee Villa safety for his life and personal guarantees, but nothing which would give him a voice in the new government.

CHARGE VILLA ABDUCTOR.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 21.—George Miller, a British citizen, is being held by Francisco Villa for $50,000 ransom, according to official advices today to the State Department from Chihuahua.

It was not stated whether Miller was captured in an attack on Parral, where he lived, or was kidnaped. He was superintendent of the Alvarado Milling and Mining Company of Parral.

VILLA RELEASES MILLER.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CAMARGO (Chih., Mex.) May 21. George Miller, superintendent of the Alvarado Mining Company, who was reported captured by Villa, is at liberty on his own recognizance, according to messages received here today from Miller and Villa by Gen. Calles. Miller will remain with Villa at La Bouquillas, southwest of here, until certain "obligations" with Villa have been fulfilled, after which, the message said, he will proceed to Parral.

MINING COMPANY SATISFITD.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, May 21. — George Miller, superintendent of the Alvarado Mining and Milling Company at Parral, Chih., reported as held for ransom by Francisco Villa, "is a guest of Villa," and no fears are felt for his safety, it was stated at the company's office here tonight.

"A few days ago," the statement said, "Miller and other representatives of the Parral mining concerns motored over to Villa's camp. They remained there as guests at his request that they stay with him until May 20, or thereabouts, until he could complete arrangements with principals of various Parral companies in the United States, concerning the levying of taxes on the operation of the Parral district over which Villa intends to assume control."

SOLDIERS SEEK VILLA.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

PIEDRAS NEGRAS (Mex.) May 21.—One thousand liberal revolutionary troops under command of Gen. Jose Huertadó, left here today for Torreon, following receipt of advices that Francisco Villa and his band of rebels was heading toward Muquaiz, Coahuila, with the avowed object of taking possession of the wheat crop in that section. Huertado was under orders to block Villa's reported plans.

Rafael Zubaran Capman left here last night for Chihuahua city to confer with Gen. P. Elias Calles. It was understood the question of an Ambassador to the United States and other diplomatic subjects would be discussed. Sr. Capman was well known as a Mexican diplomat under the regime of President Diaz.

Piedras Negras merchants were called upon today for a loan of 30,000 pesos to help finance the new government. Twenty-five per cent of the customs duties collected at this port will be set aside to repay the loan.

VILLA STILL STRONG.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

IN CAMP WITH GEN. VILLA, BOQUILLAS (Chi.) May 19, (via El Paso, May 21.)—Francisco Villa, variously described as a revolutionist, patriot and bandit, is yet a factor in Mexican affairs, as ready and willing to take the field against the newest revolutionary forces as he was against Carranza, he told the Associated Press here today.

Villa, the man who drew the American army under Gen. Pershing in close pursuit of him, after the raid on Columbus (N. M.) in 1916, when Villistas raided that border town, declared the successor of Carranza must fully satisfy his ideals of government before he would retire to private life and quit the life of a Robin Hood.

Villa does not like Gen. Alvaro Obregon, candidate for the Presidency of Mexico, who apparently has become the "man of the hour" in Mexico to the country's new revolution. Villa, discussing the revolutionary leaders, joked and laughed about Obregon's action at the convention of Aguas Calientes which led to the selection of Carranza as President of Mexico, through a split of revolutionary leaders.

"Obregon signed the flag as did others at the convention," said Villa. "He kissed the flag and cried as he kissed it. Then those who wanted to break the agreement stole the flag with the signatures of the delegates."

DISLIKES POLITICIANS.

Obregon is the Mexican leader who first decisively defeated Villa. This fight occurred at Celaya. Obregon then was leading Carranza troops against Villa and later became Minister of War in the Carranza Cabinet.

Villa would not make public the guarantees he demands from the new government except that politicians must be kept from ruling Mexico.

An interpreter, acting between Villa and a correspondent, when asked to direct a question to the rebel whether or not Villa was present personally at the Columbus raid, refused to put the question. Villa sympathizers have denied he personally was present, while evidence presented by persons at Columbus declared he was there.

Villa's first question to his interviewer was concerning the health of Gen. Hugh L. Scott of the United States Army, who held frequent conferences with Villa at the border. Villa expressed a strong liking for Gen. Scott.

Villa's greatest emotional period was during questioning concerning Gen. Felipe Angeles, who was executed by Carranza forces at Chihuahua in November, last, for rebellion against the government. Tears came to Villa's eyes as he discussed Angeles and condemned the men who ordered him executed.

"Angeles is the man Mexico should have now," he said.

Villa declared Carranza officials prevailed on American officials at El Paso in June, last to cross the Rio Grande and drive him from his attack on the city, which he was about to take in company with Angeles.

"None of my bullets fell into American territory," he said. "Certainly those who know me will credit me with having sufficient tact to disperse my men so American lives and property in the United States would not be endangered. Those who have studied the situation know this to be true. The Carranzistas fired into El Paso as the excuse for American troops to cross."

WAR MATERIAL EXPORT TO MEXICO STOPPED.

STATE DEPARTMENT ISSUES NEW ORDER REGARDING SHIPMENTS TO SOUTH.

Customs Collector Elliott yesterday received from Washington a list of articles that cannot under the new regulations be shipped into Mexico without an individual export license issued by the Department of State. The list follows:

Aircraft of all kinds, apparatus that can be used for the storage or projection of gasses, flame acids or other destructive agents, capable of use in war-like operations, arms, small arms of all kinds, including air rifles, other than those classed as toys, together with spare parts of such guns, camp equipment for military purposes exclusively, explosives, explosive ingredients, chlorates, nitrates, perchlorates, sulphur and sulphuric acid gasses for war purposes, guns and accessories, gun grease, military motor cars and trailers, projectiles, signalling apparatus, including searchlights, uniforms, warships, and wireless apparatus. The Secretary of State will furnish application blanks for requests for permission to send these articles into Mexico.

The articles that may be sent into Mexico without official permission of the Department of State, are:

Barbed wire, electrical equipment, other than that for wireless or war purposes, machettes, air rifles coming within the classification of toys, provisions of every kind even though intended for the commissariat, hats, under clothing, shoes, puttees, and cloth for uniform except that of the colors adopted by the United States Army; horses and their equipment, riding saddles of nonmilitary patterns, and all articles of peaceful commerce.

FRIENDS OF SLAIN TWO ARRIVE HERE.

MEXICAN PEOPLE PLEASED WITH CHANGE IN GOVERNMENT, REFUGEE SAYS.

After living near Mexico City for ten months, Mrs. E. H. Barton and her daughter, Miss Minnie Barton, friends of Eben Greenlaw and his son, Ralph, who were slain by Mexican bandits May 1, arrived in Los Angeles yesterday. Mrs. Barton had been living with her son, who is a mining engineer in El Oro, and Miss Barton has been teaching school there.

The overthrow of Carranza was accomplished peacefully so far as she could see, stated Mrs. Barton yesterday at the home of her friend, Mrs. E. G. Thomas, 228 Oxford avenue. The Obregon forces took possession of the executive offices and Carranza fled with 13,000,000 pesos, she stated. The people of Mexico City seemed pleased at the change in government and no demonstration was made.

Mrs. Barton was unable to give any account of the murder of the Greenlaws other than that which appeared in the press dispatches, stating that they were killed while carrying the pay roll to a saw mill near Pallado.

RAILROADS WILL GET HUGE LOAN.

Interstate Commerce Committee Grants $125,000,000.

Body Takes Other Steps to Break Freight Jam.

Money Advanced to Roads is for Improved Equipment.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 21.—A loan of at least $125,000,000 out of the $300,000,000 revolving fund to enable railroads to purchase equipment required to meet the transportation needs of the public was approved today by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The commission in a few hours has taken three other important steps toward breaking the freight congestion. These were orders for:

Forwarding of traffic without reference to previous routing; abrogation of all railroad rules governing car service; transfer of 32,000 coal cars from West to East and of 20,000 box cars from East to grain fields of the West.

These moves were expected within ten days, members of the commission said, but they expected that a much longer period would be required to "get the entire tangle straightened out."

IS TO BETTER EQUIPMENT.

Hearings to consider applications for loans will be held here May 29 and the commission asked that applications embody detailed statements of the transportation needs which the carrier would be unable to meet and what service for the public could not be performed if the loan asked was not granted, statements of security offered and the earning power of the applicants.

"The $125,000,000 for equipment might best be disbursed," the commission said, "through a national equipment corporation in which the carriers would take stock for 25 per cent of the cost of the equipment, the United States advancing the cash for the stock, up to $125,000,000, and the remaining 75 per cent being financed through a car trust. Provision would have to be made for adequate per diem or rental with such an arrangement."

CLASS OF EQUIPMENT.

Other recommendations for the disbursement of the revolving fund provided in the transportation act were as follows:

Temporary reserve for claims and judgments, $40,000,000; appropriation for short line railroads $12,000,000; temporary reserve for motion for short line railroads, $12,tion for additions and betterments which will prompt the movement of cars, $73,000,000.

New equipment is estimated by the Interstate Commerce Commission at 2000 locomotives and 100,000 freight cars, including 20,000 refrigerator cars.

ONLY SMALL PERCENTAGE.

The commission estimated that equipment already ordered and to cost $125,000,000 represented probably less than 25 per cent of that needed.

"It is evident," the commission's statement said, "that the equipment required cannot be secured unless the carriers themselves assume the burden of financing the remaining 75 per cent."

The commission said allocation of the $125,000,000 for equipment would be made according to the percentage which the standard return of a company bears to the total standard return of all the railroads.

TEXAS NEEDS CARS.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

AUSTIN (Tex.) May 21.—A shortage of 3250 cars to move grain, said to be spoiling at points in the Texas Panhandle due to lack of storage, was reported today to the Interstate Commerce Commission by the Texas Railroad Commission. Congestion of 2400 carloads of grain at Galveston also was reported.

The Texas commission urged that the United States Shipping Board and the British Embassy be requested to rush additional bottoms to Galveston.

NEW YORKERS PLEASED.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

NEW YORK, May 21.—Orders of the Interstate Commerce Commission designed to break the present freight congestion will "materially help the situation," J. J. Mantell, chairman of the Railway General Managers' Association, announced here today. He said that the railroads were hastening to comply with the new car rules.

NEW ENGLAND IS NOT OVERESTIMATING WOOD

PARTY LEADERS NOT SURE THAT SOLDIER CANDIDATE CAN WIN THIS YEAR.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

BOSTON, May 21.—The opposition of various Republican leaders in New England to Gen. Wood will be misunderstood if supposed to be purely personal.

Argument is, of course, made pro and con as to the ability with which he would administer the office, and the value of his training, including his service, both in Cuba and the Philippines.

But hardly less fundamental in the eyes of sagacious party leaders here is the question whether or not he could be elected. The general assumption that a Republican victory is absolutely assured next fall is no longer shared by many who are in the inner circles of the party. They find the times too chaotic to establish such confidence, and they are doubtful as to what will become of the voters who have supported Hiram Johnson in the primaries if Johnson is not nominated in Chicago.

Johnson's vote, however, illogical it may be, has done as much as any other one development to raise a doubt as to the outcome of the election, and has added materially to the feeling that the nomination of a soldier candidate would be dangerous indeed.

KENYON TO LEAD IN CAMPAIGN FUND QUIZ.

SUBCOMMITTEE APPOINTED IN SENATE; CANDIDATE MANAGERS TO APPEAR.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Senator Kenyon of Iowa was named today as chairman of the Senate subcommittee which will begin next Monday investigation of the preconvention campaign expenditures and pledges of both Republican and Democratic Presidential candidates.

Other members of the subcommittee are Senators Spencer, Missouri, and Edge, New Jersey, Republicans, and Pomerene, Ohio, and Reed, Missouri, Democrats.

Managers of the campaigns of various candidates will be asked by telegraph to attend the session Monday.

PERSHING'S BOOM FOR PRESIDENT ABANDONED

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, May 21.—The disappearance of Gen. John J. Pershing from the list of Republican Presidential "dark horse" possibilities became certain yesterday, when it was learned that the option on a suite of rooms at the Congress Hotel, to be used as his political headquarters, had been canceled by the Woods brothers of Nebraska, who managed his campaign in that State.

Gen. Pershing's supporters built their hopes at the beginning of the Republican race on the possibility of a deadlocked convention, at which time his name would be given prominence as the logical man to lead the 1920 race. They figured his record in France, Mexico and this country would give him much prestige, especially with the members of the A.E.F.

Enthusiasm began to ooze out of the movement, however, when Gen. Pershing in his own State ran far behind Wood and Johnson. Since then he has been considered a very remote possibility, and the abandoning of his headquarters is taken to mean that he is entirely out of the race.

Wood headquarters gave out a statement today that he is leading as a popular choice in seventeen out of twenty-nine normally Republican States, in a nation-wide poll being taken by a magazine of wide circulation. In the other twelve States Wood is second choice in five, third in three and fourth in two.

Palmer headquarters emitted joyous sounds over the results in Pennsylvania, which they claim shows a solid delegation of seventy-six of Palmer men.

CALIFORNIA RAISINS BRING $30 PER TON.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

FRESNO, May 21. — Checks amounting to $4,300,000 will be mailed to growers tomorrow by the California Associated Raisin Company, it was announced this afternoon by President Wylie M. Giffen, who added that the checks represented $30 a ton on all varieties.

They also represent 9 cents on Muscats, Malagas and Fehresages and 10½ cents on Thompson's and Sultanas.

The mailing of these checks means a total to growers on last crop of $33,000,000, with another payment due in November still to be made.

SEAPLANE DELIVERY TO SPEED UP MAILS.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

NEW YORK, May 21. — A saving of four days for American mail to the Orient through postoffice contracts for seaplane delivery of postal matter from Seattle to Victoria, B. C., to begin about July 1, was announced here today by E. N. Gott, general manager of a Seattle aircraft manufacturing company.

With Victoria three days nearer the Orient than San Francisco, Mr. Gott said daily delivery of between 700 and 750 pounds of mail across Puget Sound by plane from Seattle will save an additional day in clearing postal matter for trans-Pacific shipment.

MELBOURNE CATHOLIC BISHOP TO VISIT HERE

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, May 21.—Most Rev. Daniel Mannix, archbishop of the Roman Catholic archdiocese of Melbourne, Australia, is due in San Francisco, June 7, on his way to Rome, and he will be greeted here by delegations of Catholics from all parts of the State, it was announced today.

Archbishop Mannix is former president of the National College of Maynooth, Ireland, and is considered one of the best known Catholic churchmen in the world.

CLOSED SHOP BOOSTS COST.

Wages Should be on Production Basis, Claim.

Union Labor Limits Output, Asserts Speaker.

Newspapers Scored for Silence on Question.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, May 21.—"Whether it is a Communist state or the United States, we must insist that labor earn its wages," said Charles S. Piez to the 300 members of the Industrial Relations Association of America in session today. Cheers greated his vigorous declaration.

"There is no pot of gold at the end of the rainbow as agitators would have the world believe. It is an industrial mirage."

The president of the Chicago Link Belt Company and former member of the Emergency Fleet Corporation was one of a group of speakers debating the subject of "organized labor in industry." It was a heated, acrimonious argument before it finished, charges and counter-charges being hurled back and forth.

"Union labor for years has been endeavoring to limit output," declared Mr. Piez. "When production is reduced to its present basis, it is time to act. Wages should be placed on a strict production basis.

"Save, be thrifty. When a violent Red establishes a bank account he turns a delicate pink."

DENOUNCES CLOSED SHOP.

E. J. McCone, general manager of the Buffalo Commercial, assailed the closed shop as the enemy of production and denounced newspapers of the country for cowardice in not advocating the open shop.

"An employer who signs a closed shop agreement is just as bad as the agitator who thrusts it under his nose," he asserted. He charged that organized union printers had been so dominated by leaders that they exercised a censorship over discussion of the closed shop.

"Union labor leaders are the masters, not the representatives of their men," he stated.

Sidney Hillman, president of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America, defended organized union labor. "It is not a question of open or closed shops," he said, "but whether humanity shall be starved to death through lack of production. The vital industrial relationship is one of co-operation. The life of the nation hangs on greater production."

NEW STATE IS FORMED IN EASTERN SIBERIA.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, May 21.—The Allied High Commissioners in Siberia have been notified by M. Krasnoshokoff, Minister of Foreign Affairs of the provisional government in Siberia, of the formation of the buffer state of Verkhnie Udinsk, consisting of all the territories to the east of Lake Baikal, including Kamchatka and Sakhalien, it is announced in a Peking dispatch dated May 19. The notification stated that the Chinese Eastern Railway would be a free property under this plan. M. Krasnoshokoff said he hoped that after the formation of this state all the Allied forces, including the Japanese, would evacuate Siberia.

The Peking message adds that, although it is believed this movement is inspired from Moscow, the legations are disinclined to consider it seriously without further information.

CALIFORNIA RIVERS AT LOW WATER MARK.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, May 21.—The Sacramento and San Joaquin rivers with their tributaries are at the low water mark that usually occurs at the end of a hot summer, according to tabulations made by Engineer H. D. McClashan, of the Water Resources Division of the Geological Survey.

McClashan attributed this to the lack of rain and snow during the past winter.

The flow of water in the tributaries of the two rivers ranges from 37 to 60 per cent below normal, the tabulations show.

DOPESTERS PICK WOOD WINNER.

All Figured Out that He Will be the Nominee.

Lowden Considered to be the Next Strongest Man.

Democrats Get Very Little Out of Primaries.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, May 21.—Managers of the Wood campaign looked over the field today and made the assertion that the general would be nominated for President on the fifth ballot, in the convention, which opens seventeen days hance.

No claims were made as to the number of votes he would get, but his adherents said there would be teen days hence.

According to the line of argument issued by the Wood headquarters, Gen. Wood and Gov. Lowden will be the two candidates of the dozen or more whose names will be presented, to fight it out to the finish. The Lowden men are making practically the same claim. Privately the Lowden men admit they fear Wood more than all the others combined, while the Wood men just as frankly say Lowden is the man they have to beat. Neither camp gives Johnson a chance.

BACK FROM NOMINATION.

There will be close to 600 uninstructed delegates in the convention, and it is said these can be manipulated. Harry Daugherty, campaign manager for Senator Harding, says the candidate will be chosen in some quiet room at a hotel shortly after 3 a.m. on the third day of the convention.

This would bring the nomination on Friday, June 11, but wise old campaigners here predict that it may not come until Tuesday or Wednesday of the second week, depending upon how hard a fight Johnson and Mayor Thompson may be able to put up.

Gov. Allen of Kansas and Gov. Sproul of Pennsylvania will be put into the running before the final switch is made. Very little is heard of the man who will have second place on the ticket, but Ole Hanson, former Mayor of Seattle, Gov. Coolidge of Massachusetts and Gov. Allen of Kansas, have been suggested.

DEMOCRATS UNDECIDED.

With the Democratic convention a little more than a month away, a canvass of the situation shows one has received as many as 100 pledged delegates, while the uninstructed delegates thus far chosen number 587.

There are 243 delegates yet to be elected.

Under the Democratic convention rules a two-thirds vote is required to nominate, or 738 out of the 1092 votes which will be cast in the convention.

Of those candidates who have votes instructed for them, Atty.-Gen. A. Mitchell Palmer is leading with the seventy-six votes given to him by his home State of Pennsylvania this week.

Gov. James M. Cox of Ohio is a close second with seventy-four votes, the solid delegation of Ohio and Kentucky. The names of three favorite sons stand third, fourth and fifth in the list; Gov. Edward I. Edwards of New Jersey received his State's twenty-eight votes.

VIRGINIA FOR GLASS.

Senator Carter H. Glass has Virginia's twenty-four, and Senator Robert L. Owen of Oklahoma is the choice of that State's twenty delegates.

James W. Gerard of New York, former Ambassador to Germany, who filed a petition in South Dakota, will receive the State's ten votes.

Only one contest has appeared to date. In Georgia, friends of Mr. Palmer, dissatisfied with the action of the State convention, which was dominated by Senator Hoke Smith and Thomas E. Watson forces, organized a separate convention and selected twenty-eight Palmer delegates.

Hospital Burns; Patients Escape.

WILSON WOULD DIVIDE MEXICO.

Armed Intervention is Urged by Former Ambassador.

Declares Buffer Republic is Needed in South.

History Professor Would Loan New Government Funds.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WORCESTER (Mass.) May 21.—Division of Mexico at the Twenty-second Parallel by the creation, with force if necessary, of an independent Mexican republic—including the present States of Sonora, Chihuahua, Sinaloa, Durango, Coahuila, Nuevo Leon and Tamaulipas and the territory of Lower California, was advocated here tonight by Henry Lane Wilson, former United States Ambassador to Mexico.

Speaking at Clark University's conference on "Mexico and the Caribbean," Mr. Wilson declared that such an independent republic, as a buffer State, three times the size of Texas, between this country and Southern Mexico, would afford self-government to Northern Mexico. "The breeding ground of all recent Mexican revolutions," which Mexico City never had been able to control successfully.

Mr. Wilson revealed that at the time of his retirement as Ambassador in 1913, he had recommended armed intervention by the United States as an alternative to recognition of the Huerta regime. In the present emergency, however, he questioned the capacity of the present administration at Washington to carry out intervention with success.

POPULATION IGNORANT.

"Mexico can never be revolutionized into the practice of constitutional and democratic methods," he said. "Eighty per cent of the population can neither read nor write and are as ignorant of the fundamental principles of true democracy as a Zulu or Hottentot. Any scheme for the restoration of peaceful conditions in Mexico, must involve firm government, accompanied by gradual extension of power to the people as they become more fitted for its exercise by education."

As an alternative to his "buffer state," Mr. Wilson advocated active and sympathetic support of the "natural governing elements" in Mexico. By these, he said, he meant the "white race and elements in the population in sympathy with it." Of Mexico's 14,000,000 population, probably 3,000,000 would fall under this description, including the mass of landowners, office holders, the bar, the bench, army officers and most of the shopkeepers.

"Sooner or later," he predicted, "this element will come into control and it will be the part of wisdom to recognize this element, to weld it into an organized force by the supply of arms, and to support it with official sympathy."

ADVOCATES FINANCIAL HELP.

An immediate loan to Mexico was advocated by Dr. I. J. Cox, professor of history at Northwestern University.

Dr. Cox, who was a member of the commission of 1918 to study conditions throughout Mexico, said the problem there was one of self-help or self-destruction. "Carranza," he said, "espoused a program combining political privilege with social regeneration. Carranza failed for lack of adequate funds to maintain his army and his public servants. His successor must not be permitted to fail for like reasons. An immediate loan adequately safeguarded will insure against such a failure."

Francis R. Taylor of Philadelphia, chairman of the recent commission to visit Friends' missions in Mexico, found the lack of educational facilities and of popular thrift very serious. He had little faith in the present revolution so far as it promised any improvement in conditions.

CALIFORNIAN GIVEN DAMAGES BY SENATE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, May 21.—Payment of $10,000 to Francis Nicholson of this city as a result of injuries he received in Oct. 2, 1916, in the discharge of the evening gun at the Presidio was favorably reported to the United States Senate today by the Senate Committee on Claims, according to an announcement from the office of U. S. Senator James D. Phelan here.

A board of army officers had recommended a $30,000 award.

Are Post-Office Employees Human Beings?

AN AMERICAN BOY went to work one day in the United States Post-office. He was wide-awake and ambitious, and so he chose the biggest business and the biggest employer in the country. Step by step, he rose to be supervisor, and then superintendent of an important department. He made a record of "supreme industry, faithfulness, and loyalty." Age came on, but his zeal did not diminish. Postal officials pointed to him with pride and said he upheld "the very highest traditions of the service," and was "ever ready to sacrifice his personal interests for the public good." Seventy years without a break he served his big employer, the American people, a shining example for all who would hear that crowning tribute — "well done, good and faithful servant!" Last winter, at his post of duty, he was stricken with a chill. Pneumonia followed. Even then he begged that he might dress and return to his duties. And his big employer — the American people — what generous provision and tender care did it give to this oldest employee who had always "sacrificed his personal interest for the public?" The man had not yet taken his annual vacation of fifteen days. His absence now from his post of duty was charged against his vacation. In fifteen days all his "vacation" was gone and his salary stopt. For three days, as he lay on his death-bed, his pay was deducted. Then death came, and he went to receive the "well done" from One whose words are backed with eternal reward. But on earth, where he had toiled so long, the praise given him was empty. No allowance for sickness; no allowance for burial; nothing for his family; his meager salary docked after seventy years of faithful service. What an employer!

You can hardly believe it? You think it must have been an accident, quite unusual in the service of the United States Post-office? You say such a thing could not be tolerated by the American people? It is not unusual, except for the man's extreme age. It is tolerated by the American people—by you and by us—to our shame. Our postal laws, until we change them, treat all employees, high and low, letter-carrier, porter, clerk, and superintendent, in the most niggardly way. They work night and day, often in unwholesome quarters and under severe strain. Their minds are crowded with the endless details of an exacting system. Their bodies are racked and worn by harsh conditions and cruel burdens, and they are the lowest-paid free workers in the United States. It is time for us all to know the facts and to see that quick justice is done.

Congress has been looking into these facts, but Congress is not the "big employer" against whom the prophet Malachi thunders when he threatens swift judgment for "those that oppress the hireling in his wages." The bitter protests poured out to the Committee of Congress must ring in our ears and rouse us to action. Crowding the experience of thousands into a single sentence, a letter-carrier from Camden, N. J., exclaimed: "If you men really knew the want, and distress, and sorrow, and trouble that reach into the life of the poor letter-carrier, you would be up at night trying to find a remedy."

From every city and village of this great rich country and from every branch of the postal service have come these protests and appeals for fair play: "We are not able to provide our families with the necessities of life" . . . "Our wives and our children have to go to work in order to exist." . . . "If you compel men to be ill-fed and undernourished because of insufficient salary, it will have a far-reaching effect on the coming generation." . . . "We bought Liberty bonds to help the Government and had to sell them at a loss to buy food."

Can we hear such things from the men who are working for us and not tingle with shame and indignation? Can we rest easily and take our own pleasure and comfort until we have first done all in our power for quick relief?

Consider the kind of man our post-office demands as clerk. His work is highly specialized and complex; he must be skilled by long and intensive training, and study, memorizing thousands of facts, intricate systems of classifications, and many methods used in banking, insurance, and commercial business. He must be familiar with the postal laws and regulations filling a volume of 1700 sections. All this study and preparation must be in his own time and at his own expense. And when he stands in his hard-earned place, a full-equipped postal expert in the employ of the American people, he is paid less than the common unskilled day-laborer on the street. One of these experts who after twenty-four years of postal service had acquired special knowledge and experience invaluable to the Government, testified, "I could go out as a milk-wagon driver and get $50 a week, yet the Government pays me an average of about $4 a day." The stedfast loyalty of such a man through long years of pinching penury may be a splendid example of American patriotism, but not one of us can claim a like virtue if we fail to raise our voice against the continuance of such shameful parsimony.

But that isn't all. These meager salaries are constantly shrinking throughout the year. Any absence for sickness or other causes is penalized by forfeiture of pay. If death occurs in the family of the employee, whether wife, child, or parent, not a day nor an hour of absence with pay is allowed. Even the solemn hours of funeral rites can be taken only at the expense of the employee.

Letter-carriers are converted into pack-animals and loaded down with burdens often weighing sixty to eighty pounds or more. Through driving rain or blizzard, in burning heat or stinging cold, they must cover their routes on schedule time. The stoutest often succumb to the inhuman strain; yet the highest salary they can earn, after years of smaller pay, is less than $32 a week.

New York is the biggest post-office in the world. It does the biggest business and turns in millions of dollars profit. It is one of the most highly specialized and responsible organizations in modern industry, the center of innumerable activities on which the progress and prosperity of the entire nation depend. Its banking and financial transactions last year alone totaled more than $672,000,000. The management of this vast business concern, with its great central office covering two city blocks, its fifty branch offices, its 250 substations, and fourteen thousand employees, requires supreme managerial abilities on the part of its department chiefs. They would be receiving salaries of $25,000 to $75,000 for such official services in big commercial organizations. Yet the highest salary paid to the "big four" superintendents at the head of the four main departments of the great New York Post-office is only $3360 a year, or less than $65 a week, and not one of these men attained his position in less than twenty-seven years' service. The superintendents of the great railway terminal postal stations receive less than $46 to $56 a week after serving an average of thirty-five years each! And we pay more than that to longshoremen and window-cleaners and drivers of milk-wagons!

We are doing more than this act of cruel injustice to the 280,000 postal employees of the country. We are bringing a serious menace to our own interests. The postal service is being crippled by wholesale resignations. It is becoming impossible to induce competent men or women to fill the vacancies. In the New York post-office alone nearly eight hundred resignations have occurred within five months. False economy is destroying all efficiency and threatening a collapse of the service. Time and energy that ought to be given to handling the mail is diverted to instructing and managing a shifting, dissatisfied organization. The same thing is true in all parts of the country. Our indifference and neglect as the "big employer" of the post-office workers is recoiling on our own heads.

THE LITERARY DIGEST has made thorough investigation of the facts and is making this brief, urgent statement to its more than two million readers because many times they have responded nobly to appeals for worthy action as Americans, and now is a time for such action. Congress is not to blame for the existing conditions. The men now sitting in the Capitol at Washington are human beings like the rest of us. They have warm hearts and ready sympathy and as keen a sense of justice as any American citizen can have. The blame and the shame for this pitiful injustice to the nation's postal employees are ours as a people. It is yours who read this page. It is ours who write and publish it. The change of policy from a brutal stinginess or careless indifference to a fair and liberal American policy must be wrought by us, the Americans who always love fair play.

Write to your Congressman and to both of your Senators, every one of you men and women who has a heart and an active sense of human justice. Don't put it off; the time before Congress will adjourn is short. Urge them to give their most ardent support to the bill putting into immediate effect a substantial increase of salaries throughout the entire postal service of the United States. Congress will gladly and quickly pass this bill when the American people rally to its support. If you don't know the names of the Senators and Congressman ask your letter-carrier, or postmaster, or banker. Let all business houses be heard from, and all civic societies and fraternal orders. Rescue these postal toilers from penury and narrow lives and set them on their feet as American citizens who need not suffer nor be ashamed in their service of us all.

The Laborer Is Worthy of His Hire

If—I had only put on—WEED TIRE CHAINS

Regrets avail nothing when the harm is done.

Many an accident might have been avoided and many a life saved if drivers of automobiles had only exercised ordinary, everyday precaution and had listened to the warnings which for years have been sounded through the magazines and daily newspapers, viz.—"Always put on Weed Tire Chains when the roads and pavements are wet and slippery."

It's all very well to say, "I'm sorry—I didn't mean to do it."

Regrets don't mend broken limbs or bring back the lives that have been taken. The innocent victims have suffered through no fault of their own while the careless motorist escapes with a reprimand, the payment of Doctor's bills and the expense of having his car repaired.

In the interest of humanity—in the interest of wife and mine—insist: Put on your Weed Tire Chains "at the first drop of rain," and insist that others do the same.

Is there no way to make such fellows realize their responsibility and have more regard for the rights of others?

Skidding accidents would never occur if every motorist exercised care in driving and put on Weed Tire Chains whenever roads and pavements were wet and slippery or covered with mud and slime.

METHODISTS TO USE OLD CREED.

Word "Catholic" Will Continue as Formerly.

Minority Report Declares Against its Retention.

Committee on Education Makes Changes.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

DES MOINES (Iowa) May 21. — The majority of the Committee on State of the Church of the Methodist Episcopal general conference today prepared and published a report recommending that no change be made in the present apostles' creed of the church.

The third ballot for publishing agents resulted in the election of Robert H. Hughes of Portland. He will take the place made vacant by the retirement of Dr. H. R. Jennings, who has been publishing agent for many years.

A minority report, however, will be submitted to the general conference, it was said, asking that a change be made to eliminate the phrase "the holy Catholic church."

The creed now reads: "I believe in the holy gospel, the holy Catholic church, the communion of saints, the forgiveness of sins," etc. The word "Catholic" is used in the sense of general, and has no reference to the Catholic church as that term is generally understood. However, the minority report requested elimination of any reference to the word "Catholic."

The Island of Haiti may become the newest home mission field of the Methodist Church, if a report of the committee on home missions is adopted.

The report of the committee on education, recommending a number of changes in the law of the church relative to the conduct of the Board of Education, has been adopted. The most important change is a provision which makes it necessary for each annual conference of Methodism to send to the Board of Education all money raised in the conference for educational purposes.

Heretofore 80 per cent of such money has been retained by the annual conference, and 20 per cent sent to the board.

Sharp debate was elicited over the proposed change. The report contains a clause which guarantees to all educational institutions at least as much money as they received under the old plan.

The judiciary committee report decides that the annual conference has no authority to alter or reject such apportionments for the benevolent enterprises of the church as may be sent to them by the benevolent bodies.

GOVERNMENT MAY SELL SHIPS TO AMERICANS.

SENATE PASSES HOUSE BILL PROVIDING FOR PERMANENT MERCHANT MARINE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 21.—The Senate without a record vote today passed the House Merchant Marine Bill providing for a permanent merchant marine policy and sent it to conference.

The bill provides for the sale of government owned ships to American citizens or corporations as soon as advisable and pending such sale for the operation either by the government or under lease. A permanent body of seven members would be named by the President, comprising two each from the Pacific and Atlantic coasts, one each from the Gulf and Great Lakes, and the seventh from the interior.

Conferees on the army bill were said today by Senator Thomas, Colorado, Democratic member of the committee, to have agreed to the substitution of "war" for "national emergency" in the provisions for automatic operation of draft law machinery.

President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor declared that the term "national emergency" might permit peace-time conscription of labor.

Republican leaders of the House decided late today not to attempt passage tomorrow of the soldier relief legislation. No date was fixed for calling up the bill, but leaders said they expected to get it before the House Tuesday or Wednesday.

FLOOD UNCOVERS BODY OF EARLY MISSIONARY.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

QUINCY (Ill.) May 21.—The skeleton of what may prove to have been a missionary connected with the Joliet or La Salle expeditions of 1679, was uncovered by the recent floods in the Mississippi River at Meyer, Ill., a village twenty miles north of Quincy.

Along with the remains, which reposed on a rock slab, were found two silver bracelets and three solid silver crosses, one being stamped "Montreal" and the smaller ones "R." The bracelets or wristbands were marked "N. H."

DANIELS SCORES SENATE BOARD.

Committee Has Exceeded Its Authority, He Says.

Claims Sims Said Benson Lacked "Will to Win."

Charges Were Impersonal, Claims Chairman Hale.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Secretary Daniels today accused the Senate Subcommittee investigating Rear Admiral Sims's charges with having exceeded its powers in going outside the original controversy over naval war decorations.

The committee, Mr. Daniels told Chairman Hale, had given Admiral Sims an opportunity to make an "ostentatious" representation of his charges when it required him to produce his letter of criticism to the department.

Chairman Hale, in a preliminary statement, stated Admiral Sims's criticisms were impersonal and aimed at "responsible heads" and not at the navy as a whole.

Secretary Daniels declared Admiral Sims has charged Admiral Benson, chief of naval operations, with lacking the "will to win."

Senator Hale replied that the charge was not directed at Benson, but at the men who had the final responsibility.

"Whom do you mean?" asked Secretary Daniels.

"He referred indirectly to the chief of naval operations and directly to the Secretary of the Navy," replied the chairman.

"And in view of that you still maintain that there were 'no personalities' in the Sims letter?" asked the Secretary.

"That wasn't a charge, it was a criticism," Mr. Hale said.

If Admiral Sims thought, when he left the United States, that Admiral Benson lacked "the will to win," he should have so notified President Wilson, Mr. Daniels declared.

TO REVEAL STRATEGY.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Navy plans for war with Germany as they stood prior to April, 1917, about which controversy has centered during Senate investigation of the conduct of the war, will be shown to the Senate committee next week in executive session.

Secretary Daniels told the committee today that, after a conference with Rear-Admiral Badger, head of the navy general board, it had been decided that the full plan could be presented, although it embodied, he said, fundamental strategy that would govern war in the Atlantic with any power.

SHORTAGE OF CARS TO START MEAT FAMINE.

PACKERS DECLARE LACK OF REFRIGERATORS CAUSES PLANTS TO CLOSE DOWN.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, May 21.—An immediate constriction of the nation's meat supply is threatened by the reduced quota of refrigerator cars apportioned to packing companies by the Interstate Commerce Commission, according to a statement issued tonight by Thomas E. Wilson, president of the Institute of American Meat Packers, in behalf of American packing companies.

"Reports received from several sections show that some plants may have to shut down on account of the lack of cars," the statement said. "Other plants have been forced to effect a 50 per cent curtailment of the production of meat, and some of these are on the point of stopping operations entirely.

"No packer owns enough refrigerator cars to take care of his own business. The I.C.C. has diverted to other uses a considerable share of the quota of cars usually assigned and urgently needed to move meat.

"As a consequence labor is being laid off and the quantity of live stock dressed is being reduced. A shortage of meat is bound to follow."

ENGLISH WOOL CHEAP AT AUCTION SALES.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

BOSTON (Mass.) May 21.—Auctioneers said they were virtually giving wool away when prices at the final sale by the British government today went slightly below the low levels established in yesterday's break.

There were few bidders and only 24 per cent of the wool offered was sold. In the two days' sale less than one-third of the offering was disposed of. As a result 7,000,000 pounds remain.

Typical of the transactions today was best shafty combing 70's Brisbane spinners' wools, sold on a clean basis, which brought from $1.90 to $1.94 a pound. The quotation yesterday was $1.98.

TEN PERSONS DEAD IN MATEWAN BATTLE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

MATEWAN (W. Va.) May 21.—An official checking late today disclosed that ten persons, not twelve as previously reported, were killed in the battle here Wednesday between Baldwin-Felts detectives and miners. Three were listed as wounded in the fighting.

The State constabulary and deputy sheriffs still patrolled the streets today, but there was no disorder.

AMERICAN LEGION MAY HELP FRENCH ORPHANS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

INDIANAPOLIS (Ind.) May 21.—The American Legion today inaugurated a campaign for the readoption of approximately 3000 of the more than 3700 fatherless children whom the American Expeditionary Force cared for during the war.

It was said that only about 700 of the children have been able to live without outside assistance since the A.E.F. ceased to provide for them.

SPAIN'S HUNGRY IN FOOD BATTLE.

Martial Law Declared in Bejar Because of Bread Riots.

Labor Disturbances Said to be of Syndicalist Origin.

French Strikes Called Off by General Federation.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

MADRID, May 21.—Martial law has been declared in the town of Bejar, forty-five miles south of Salamanca, as a result of disturbances arising from the bread shortage.

Collisions occured between police and crowds engaged in a food riot in several districts of the city yesterday and for a time great excitement prevailed. In many instances mounted police rode in among the people to disperse those engaging in demonstrations. The situation here because of the lack of bread is apparently becoming worse.

A government statement describes the labor movement throughout Spain as not distinctly Socialistic, but of a syndicalist nature, with revolutionary tendencies. He declares the movement is being followed up by the Socialists because they do not wish to lose touch with the mass of workers.

PARIS, May 21.—(Havas) The General Federation of Labor decided today to call off the strikes it had ordered in support of the railwaymen's walkout. The decision for the resumption of work was reached by a vote of 96 to 11.

Saloons throughout Paris will be closed from 4 until 6 o'clock this afternoon as a result of a general strike called by the proprietors in protest against additional taxes being levied on cognac, rum and other beverages.

The Chamber of Deputies today gave a vote of confidence to the government regarding the striking railroad men. The vote was 526 for and 90 against, and came after a lengthy debate. Premier Millerand in a stirring speech upholding the government's position.

BERLIN STRIKE SETTLED.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

BERLIN, May 21.—The strike in the Hamberg shipyards has been settled and workers will resume their labors at once. Before the settlement, collisions occurred yesterday between strikers and security police as a result of which three persons were killed and ten others wounded.

AMERICAN EDUCATORS PRAISED BY BRITISH.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 21.—The trend of education in Great Britain and in South America was set forth at the National Citizens' Conference on Education today by Sir Auckland Geddes, British Ambassador, and Dr. Jacob Varela, Minister from Uruguay.

Declaring it was important to analyze the color of education, because it forecasts national policy ten years hence, Ambassador Geddes said:

"British educational color was strongly antimilitaristic."

British education, he added, "is as it always has been, entirely friendly to the United States. It is almost too sentimental about you and presents America so favorably as to slightly misrepresent you."

Dr. Varela said American educators had played an important part in the rapid advance made by South American countries in education.

GOVERNMENT SEEKS TO CONTROL SUGAR SALES.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 21.—To aid the government to control distribution of sugar, representatives of importers and brokers, conferring with Department of Justice officials today agreed to furnish the government with details of transactions and sales. With this as a basis, Asst. Atty.-Gen. Garvan said the department hoped to trace "every pound of sugar and seek means of directing it into channels where domestic consumers can get it."

PERSIA SEEKS ALLIES' HELP.

Wants League of Nations' Aid Against Bolshevism.

Bulgarians and Turks Join in Fight Against Greeks.

Germans Will Ask for Reduction of Occupation Costs.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, May 21.—Persia has appealed to the League of Nations to protect her against Bolshevik aggression. The appeal, which follows the landing of Bolshevik forces on Persian soil from the Caspian Sea, was made through the Persian Foreign Minister, who is in Paris.

The appeal alludes to the presence in Enzeli harbor of warships belonging to the anti-Bolshevik forces formerly operating under Gen. Denikine, and maintains that Persia acted within her rights as a neutral with regard to these vessels.

TURKS DISMISS OFFICERS.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 20.—The new Thracian government at Adrianople has dismissed all the old officials. Former Sub-Gov. Erdinment Ekran Bey, who has arrived in Constantinople, said today that Bulgarians are crossing into Turkey in large numbers and joining the Turks, who are preparing to resist the Greeks.

Bulgarians, according to Ekran Bey, will form the backbone of the forces opposing the Greeks, but he declared that Col. Jafar Tayar, who was the Turkish commandant at Adrianople, has 20,000 Turkish soldiers available.

ANTI-FRENCH ATTITUDE.

Ekran Bey asserted that the French are permitting the Bulgarians to enter Turkey at will, but as he is considered in Allied circles here to be decidedly anti-French, is believed his statement should be taken with reserve.

Turkish Nationalists have seized the village of Koum Kaleh at the southern entrance to the Dardanelles and are either defeating the Sultan's troops or are persuading them to desert to the army of Mustapha Kemal Pasha, the Nationalist leader, at various points along the sea of Marmora.

BARBARIC TREATMENT.

Ansevour Pasha, the only conspicuous supporter of the Sultan in Anatolia, has been severely wounded and his chief of staff hanged by Nationalists, near Douvre, at points along the Anatolian Railway, the Nationalists are bringing in unwilling recruits in groups of five or six with iron rings locked about their necks and connected up by chains with fellow shirkers.

Frequently draft evaders have broken heads and bandaged arms and legs as a result of rough treatment by the guards. Only Moslems are conscripted, the Nationalists declaring Christians untrustworthy.

Damad Ferid Pasha, Grand Vizier, went to Ismid Wednesday, where it is reported he will have a conference with some of the Nationalist leaders from Angora, probably Djemal Ladine and Arif Bey.

A Nationalist official statement says that a British officer was at Angora May 6, conferring with Mustapha Kemal Pasha. It is believed the officer was Col. Rawlinson, who formally communicated with the Angora government when he was arrested near Shivas and ordered to act as liaison officer with the British.

HAS REPARATION ESTIMATE.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

MANCHESTER (Eng.) May 21. Writing on the forthcoming conference at Spa with the Germans, the Berlin correspondent of the Manchester Guardian says:

"I am assured that Germany is potentially in a position to put forward a reparation estimate that ought not to fall short of intelligent and reasonable. Allied demands, but it will be expressly pointed out that the maximum of a figure must be made dependent upon the revocation of the European economic machine to something like working order."

THE CITY AND ENVIRONS.

Washington-Kentucky Picnics.

Former residents of Washington and Kentucky will hold reunions in Sycamore Grove today. The picnics will be held separately and programs will be given after the basket dinner at which coffee will be served free.

Scotia's Daughters' Festival.

A May festival and dance will be enjoyed by Lady Cameron Lodge, Daughters of Scotia, at Garfield Hall, Walker Auditorium, Monday night. The program will include songs, instrumental music, Highland dances and a sketch.

Memorial Exercises.

Bartlett-Logan Post and Corps will hold joint memorial exercises at Patriotic Hall, 1816 South Figueroa street, at 7:30 p.m. today and tomorrow will attend, at 10:30 a.m., the Baptist Church, Hicks and East First street, Boyle Heights.

Empire Day Service.

Empire Day will be observed at the evening service tomorrow at the South Main-Street Methodist Church, Fifty-second and Main streets. Rev. George Steed will talk on "Our Relation to the British Empire," and Harold Proctor, the English tenor, will sing.

Two Picnics Today.

Former residents of Washington will hold their annual picnic reunion in Sycamore Grove today. The county registers and headquarters will be open all day and hot coffee will be supplied. After the noon dinner there will be an informal program. Former residents of Kentucky will also hold their annual reunion at the same park.

Seeks Missing Papers.

John Clark, an overseas service man, is seeking the return of a blue army bag containing his discharge papers and some clothing that he placed in the hands of a woman on Main street, Wednesday evening, for temporary safekeeping during a minor brawl. The bag may be left with the property clerk at Central Police Station.

On Terminal Problems.

At the City Club luncheon at noon today in the Investment Building, George Dunlop, president of the Municipal League, and Samuel Storrow, civil engineer, will present two different plans for the proposed new passenger terminal in this city. George E. Roberts, who was to have addressed the club on the subject, "United States Financial Relations with Foreign Countries," cannot be present.

On Christian Science.

There are eleven Christian Science churches and two Christian Science societies in Los Angeles, which conduct services on Sunday at 11 a.m. The subject of the lesson-sermon in each of them for Sunday is "Soul and Body." Sunday evening services are held at 8 o'clock in First, Second, Third, Fifth and Sixth churches, and each Wednesday evening a meeting is held which includes testimonies of Christian Science healing.

Summer School-teachers Chosen.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PORTLAND, May 21.—Two Oregon college instructors have been chosen as members of the summer school faculty for the University of California, it was announced today. They are Prof. Eric W. Allen, dean of journalism at the University of Oregon, and W. C. Morgan, professor of chemistry at Reed College.

Tennessee Newest Dreadnaught.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, May 21.—The superdreadnaught Tennessee, one of the largest warships in the world, will be commissioned at the New York navy yard June 3, it was announced here today. Six hundred Tennesseans will be included among the ship's crew of 1420 men.

Texas to Study Pink Boll Worm.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

AUSTIN (Tex.) May 21.—The lower house of the Texas Legislature, in special session today, adopted a concurrent resolution providing for a full legislative investigation of the pink boll worm situation before efforts to enact legislation looking to eradication of the cotton pest are taken up.

Nitti Forms New Cabinet.

RICH SLACKER OUT OF PRISON.

Grover C. Bergdoll, Notorious Draft Evader, Escapes.

Makes Successful Dash for Liberty in Philadelphia.

Omaha Policeman Convicted as a Hold-up Man.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

PHILADELPHIA, May 21.—Grover C. Bergdoll, notorious draft evader, escaped from custody today. He had been confined in a military prison near New York, serving a five-year sentence, and was brought here to sign papers.

GETS AWAY IN AUTO.

Bergdoll was brought here from Fort Jay on a court order. He was in custody of a sergeant and a corporal and the escape was made from his mother's home at Wynnefield, a suburb. He was sitting in the drawing room with his guard. He arose and walked slowly to the door. The men made no effort to stop or question him, but jumped to their feet when they heard the purring of a motor car. Looking out of the window they said Grover's car speeding down driveway, his chauffeur at the wheel.

Bergdoll's mother was not at home at the time. Her attorney said he did not believe she knew anything of a plot to escape. The fugitive is dressed in the regular olive drab denim uniform of Federal prisoners. All roads are being watched by police, who say he will soon be apprehended.

Two noncommissioned officers who had Bergdoll in custody may be court-martialed as a result of his escape, according to Col. R. W. Greene, aide to Lieut.-Gen. Bullard, commandant of the Eastern Department. An investigation will be made at once to determine if the guards were lax, he said.

POLICEMAN CONVICTED.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

OMAHA, May 21.—Homer Raff, a policeman, was convicted today of holding up and robbing eight persons at a South Side residence.

PORTLAND TRAGEDY.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PORTLAND, May 21.—August Bjorkland, grocer, is dead and his wife is at the point of death in a local hospital as the result of an unexplained shooting affair at the Bjorkland home here today. Bjorkland died about two hours after he had been shot, supposedly by his wife, according to a police theory.

Mrs. Bjorkland recovered consciousness late today and informed hospital attendants that she had not shot her husband. She admitted shooting herself, however, hospital attendants say. Jealousy, according to the police, was responsible for the tragedy. A note found in the apartment, according to the police, indicated domestic trouble.

CALIFORNIA ROMANCE ENDS WITH DIVORCE.

ENGLISH LORD SECURES SEPARATION FROM BAKERSFIELD YOUNG WOMAN.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, May 21.—Lord Sholto Douglas, third son of the eighth Marquis of Queensberry, has been granted a divorce from his wife, who was Loretta Audis Mooney of California. The case was not defended. Their marriage took place in San Jose, Cal., in 1895.

Lord Sholto Douglas made his presence well known in California in 1895, when he went to Bakersfield to look over ranch property with a view to settling there. He saw in one of the dance halls Loretta Mooney and married her. A honeymoon month was spent in a cottage at Alameda and later the couple returned to Los Angeles, when, it was said, Lord Sholto was without funds. Lady Douglas then took to the stage to earn a livelihood pending the arrival of money from England. Attention was again attracted to the couple in 1903, when Lord Sholto took out an insurance policy of $110,000 in favor of his wife.

In the summer of 1906, Lord Sholto was taken into custody by the Portland (Me.) authorities, who mistook him for an American bigamist known as "Lord Douglas," wanted by the authorities of many States. Lord Sholto had rented a cottage in Maine, for his wife's health. He was at this cottage with his wife and their son when arrested. His identity was proved after communication with London and he was released.

A grand jury at Nelson, B. C., on May 4, 1909, acquitted Lord Sholto of the charge of shooting with intent to kill, in September of 1906, a former British officer, J. B. Rowlands. The story had it that Sholto, upon returning from a hunting trip to his house at Creston, found Rowlands there and ordered him to leave, Lord Sholto, it was said, then fired at Rowlands.

Lady Sholto Douglas, in 1914, was said to be appearing at a London theater under the name of Lorna Leslie.

PERPETUAL ENNUI ON EASTER ISLAND.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, May 20.—If a daily train were ever operated on Easter Island, 2300 miles off the coast of Chile, the natives never would gather at the station to see it come in, according to Dr. William A. Bryan, professor of geology at the University of Hawaii, who arrived here after scientific exploration of the South Sea Islands.

Dr. Bryan said the 250 natives of Easter Island are neither energetic nor curious, for when his ship arrived there, the first in eighteen months, it was greeted only by one man, seated on a box on the pier, facing in the opposite direction. He did not even look around.

SALLIE AT THE MARKETS

ORANGE DESERT.

Take half cupful of instantaneous tapioca, put in one quart of boiling water, add juice of six oranges and a little of the grated rind, half cupful sugar, boil fifteen minutes. Let cool and just before serving stir into it the well-beaten whites of two eggs and fill the orange shells, put whipped cream on top with a candied cherry in the center.

Right in our midst we have some bakeries and the quality of goods shown won't long remain in doubt. They are no other than the Bake-Rite and already their reputation is spreading like wild fire. Only the best of everything is used in the preparation of all the good things turned out. You'll find in their two bakeries; one at 342 S. Main, and other 129 S. Broadway, every kind of baked goods, white, graham, bran and rye bread—then if you like raisins in your bread or nuts they have that, too, and such as endless variety of sweet cakes, in fact a cake for every need and the two stores will make it convenient for you Saturday Shoppers All.

Did you know that molasses rubbed on grass stains will remove them? and lard takes the black grease out of any garment if it is applied before being wet.

If "A stitch in time saves nine," the same rule may be applied to an order. Just because we have had several warm days mustn't be your excuse for not ordering your coal or wood or those carbon briquets I hear so much about. It's a real "comfy" feeling one has, when the fuel is in the cellar and when a cool overcoast day, or an unusually cold night takes us unawares, to know in a few moments, with no trouble to speak of, a warm and cheerful fire may be built. Make a memo of this and call any dealer while the thought is fresh in your mind.

White corn meal cleans white furs beautifully.

Did the warm days descend upon you and find you unable to get a breath of air? It could all have been avoided if you had owned an electric fan. They were as scarce as hens teeth, I know, but the Electric Lighting Supply, Co., 216 W. 3rd, have recently received a new shipment of large ones as well as small. Nothing more cooling after a days shopping, in fact when its hot they alone can make life bearable. No home should be without at least one.

A suggestion for Sunday night supper, thin sandwiches of bread and butter, cold meat, cheese wafers, head lettuce with Roman dressing, raspberries and cream, small fancy cakes, tea.

"Tea, thou soft, thou soothing sage" and so on, wrote Robert Ingersoll in his ode to tea drinking, and you feel he must have had a delicious tea to have been so inspired when he wrote as he did. I feel like rhapsodizing myself after a cup of "Ben Hur" tea served me by Mrs. Clarkson in the booth Joannes Bros. have on the third floor of the Express Bldg. Enough blends to suit the taste of all. Have your next tea Ben Hur; include it on your list for today.

You know my family is spoiled by having had me bring home to them Jevne's Supreme Butter Creams. But, aren't they luscious! Yet how could they be any thing else? Nothing but the very finest materials being used in making them as well as all their candies.

Wouldn't a Duplex Fireless Cooker be the thing to take with you this summer when you begin to take week end motoring trips and feel as tho you wanted a hot dinner after a drive in this appetite giving air we can so proudly boost of. What could be more ideal than to have a cooker such as only the Duplex is, strapped on the side or back of your car or even put in the tonneau—that small size takes up so little room you know, like a Magi producing a steaming meal fit for a King, and with absolutely no trouble. Parmelee and Dohrman's so conveniently situated on Broadway, between Fourth and Fifth streets, carry a fine line of Duplex Cookers and for your benefit are giving a free demonstration of their use.

Haven't you ever felt as though your day might be saved if you could just have a good cup of coffee to start out with? If you haven't used the Assembly Coffee Company's Guatemala brand you have missed a great deal. Not only will a cup of it promote self-confidence—for it does just that—but, because it is always the same, never varying in its fine quality, therefore, giving utmost satisfaction to its users. Telephone Wilshire 4943, and give it a trial.

Stop a moment and think on which day breakfast tastes best! Sunday!! You will all acclaim with one voice—for there is no need to rush, seizing a small piece of dried toast, before dashing downtown, instead, a comfortable meal, with those far-famed Hauser sausages—made with the best meat only, no cereals, nor potato flour used to deceive you. My but I can taste them now! And you'd adore hot biscuits made with Violet Brand of Shortening, served with the sausage. Surprise "him" with the excellent fare mentioned. Ask any grocer for Hauser sausage, and the Violet Brand of Shortening. don't take any other.

Always rinse glasses which have milk in them, before putting them in hot soapsuds, for heat drives the milk into the glass. And soak in cold water all egg and dough dishes, as hot water cooks the egg and batter on, instead of removing.

You can't go in the Elite Caterers and Confectioners huge establishment without feeling that you wanted to give a party every single day as we did when we were very small children. Such a wondrous array of cakes, big ones, middle-sized ones, and teeny weeny ones. Words failed me yesterday when I looked upon them and in my mind's eye I could see the tables they were to grace, the pleasure their deliciousness would bring.

A cooling drink for the warm days is made of two parts grape juice, one part Elderberry wine and one part water. Chill thoroughly before serving.

The educated woman now demands everything electrical in her kitchen and why not. Take a washing machine? Its introduction in our homes has been one of the biggest boons to womankind, and the "Blue Bird" make, I think can't be beaten. Now the long desired task of dishwashing has been done away with, no more red hands, fair ladies—a machine again comes to your rescue so let not another morning pass without an electric toaster and grill. Here is the newest use to which it has been put, baking your biscuits for you and broiling bacon at the same time. Seems to me the most sumptuous breakfast is made a pleasure on such a grill. Now all these most useful articles may be bought at the Wilson Shop, 207 W. First st. and more information about them will be told you by Mrs. Wilson, who may be seen in an attractive booth on the 3rd floor of the Express Bldg., where the cooking lessons are being given by Mrs. Kafe Vaughn.

A stale crust of bread, boiled with cabbage, will absorb the dissagreeable odor of cabbage.

All seeds don't grow I have found out, so after buying many kinds from several dealers, I at last found my reward. The Theodore Payne Seed Store, 345 S. Main, have the most satisfactory flower seeds I have used so far—you will be richly repaid and absolutely satisfied with results.

To those of my readers who didn't hear of the bargain I found last week, I'll say a bit regarding it today. When we hear of a good thing it's only fair to pass it along, don't you think? Every woman takes pride in her kitchen and its furnishings and aluminum certainly adds to its attractiveness. Colyear's Furniture Store, at 507 S. Main, have left a few aluminum sets—seven pieces it comprises—and all for $16.85. The set ordinarily is priced at $25.00, so you can see what you are saving. Don't let this opportunity go unheeded!

Oh, by the way, today before any more hot weather descends upon us, go into the United Wholesale Paint Co.'s store at 639 S. Main and buy the paint for that old furniture you found in the attic when house cleaning. It'd fascinating work, this painting and decorating of old furniture, making it prettier than when new, and ever so easy. Just be sure your paint is good, that is why I recommend the United Paint Co. You may buy your brushes of them, too, and directions as to how to use the paint will be given by their accommodating clerks.

You could not spend your afternoons more profitably than by going to the cooking lessons given by the Permanent Household Economics Exposition, presided over by Mrs. Kate Brew Vaughn, whom all of us know of by reputation, and now may have the privilege of knowing personally. The lessons in catering will be finished this week. Wait until you, who have neglected this great opportunity of learning new things, see the elaborately-iced cakes and candies others have been taught to decorate! They are too pretty to eat, yet I couldn't resist them if tempted. Remember the address, 240 S. Broadway.

Hurrah for Hoover! I heard a small boy shout quite unexpectedly, at my elbow, one day this week, while I was in search of good things eatable to tell my readers about. The reason for his glee was soon made known, for in both hands he held a fresh crisp waffle—and the outcry had been for the market on 7th and Grand. If all the good things seen and bought that day, in the inviting booths of the Hoover Market, had brought forth such an outburst, me thinks the noise would have been deafening.

Let's be different! or isn't it different to have a Belgian Hare. Buy one from Young's market on Broadway, or in any of his markets where his meats are sold, and prepare it this way: Cut the hare up as you would chicken for frying, season each piece and flour well, put in a baker or covered pan, with bits of butter and a cup of water, place in the oven to cook; when tender the top may be removed and the meat allowed to brown—you'll declare your hare better than chicken, in fact, it's hard to distinguish between them, the rabbit being the better in my estimation, for the meat is all white, and simply delicious! especially when bought at Young's.

PARIS FASHIONS IN FALSE TEETH

Paris, Mar. 8.—We may safely predict for the coming season that styles in artificial teeth will include their being worn snug fitting and smoothly cushioned in place by means of the dental plate comfort-powder Corega, procurable at drug stores and dental dealers.

This antiseptic adhesive powder gives a pleasing sense of security to wearers of false teeth. It allows complete mastication of foods with ease, relaxes facial muscles and prevents sore gums.—[Advertisement.

PUZZLE FOR YOU; FIND THE HOG.

Pork on Hoof Higher Here Than After It is Shipped Clear to Chicago.

Amateur mathematicians are attempting to reach a solution of the following problem, which the puzzle editor has long since given up:

If hogs on the hoof, all transportation charges paid, bring $13.25 per hundredweight in Chicago, $13.40 in Omaha and $13.60 in Kansas City, upon what basis is the Los Angeles charge of $15 to $16.50 when they may be turned into the yards here direct from the feeding grounds?

In other words, it costs, according to latest quotations, an average of $2.25 per hundredweight more to handle home-grown pork than it does to ship the same stock to an eastern market and pay charges.

CABBAGE OFFERED AT ONE CENT PER POUND.

BIG CROP ABOUT TO ROT IN FIELD WILL BE SOLD AT ROADSIDE TOMORROW.

Within two miles of San Fernando 250 acres of the finest cabbage is ready for the market, but there is no market. Los Angeles commission brokers and retailers are said by the growers to be refusing to handle the product. Small farmers, answering the call to produce more food, are without funds, and the results of their weeks of labor are a total loss. Some of them are threatened with foreclosure proceedings. "It's pretty expensive fertilizer," said A. E. Wilkie last night.

In a week it will be too late to save the crop. Thousands of tons of food will be wasted while the public clamors for lower prices. Quantities of perfect lettuce have already gone to enrich the soil, and before that tomatoes.

Tomorrow, the biggest, firmest heads of cabbage in the fields will be cut and hauled to the roadside and sold to whoever will take them away, for 1 cent per pound, about 50 per cent of cost of production. It's not a question of price, but of saving the crop from ruin.

This offer is specifically made by three cabbage growers—J. C. Etter, Earl McRill and A. E. Wilkie, whose ranches are half a mile from Saugus boulevard, left turn at Lassen, or Devonshire avenues, two miles south of San Fernando. But Mr. Wilkie, speaking for the trio, says that any of the growers will do the same.

COST OF SHOES WILL DECLINE.

Dealers Say Reduction is to Come in Special Sales.

Wholesale Prices No Lower, but Stores Overloaded.

Wanamaker's Reduction is Called Mere Advertising.

That there will be sweeping reductions in shoe prices in Los Angeles this summer, but that the reductions will come in special sales, rather than along the lines of the recently-announced Wanamaker price reductions, is the opinion expressed by Los Angeles shoe dealers yesterday. These reductions, the dealers said, will come in spite of recent advances in wholesale prices.

"Ever since prices reached their high level a couple of months ago dealers have seen the end ahead," one prominent merchant said yesterday. "Already there have been more than the usual number of reduction sales for this season, and certainly there will be some surprising ones between now and September 1. While shoes are high, probably not any merchant is getting full price for all his lines. Last year the wholesale prices of shoes advanced nearly 20 per cent, but a great many stores which bought heavily see a reduction wave coming, and are going to duck under it. The man who wants to save money on shoes need only watch the papers from now until September and he will see plenty of chances. Our firm has a number of annual sales. This year we are going to make those sales more sweeping than at any other time in recent years."

"NOT PROFITEERS."

E. Y. Stewart of the Stewart-Dawes Shoe Company, wholesalers, defended local retailers from any charge of profiteering, but pointed out a way by which prices could be reduced.

Mr. Stewart said: "The reduction of 33 1-3 per cent in the retail prices of shoes in El Paso is not due to any market reduction, but probably to a desire to unload. I recently returned from the shoe market in Boston and saw no indication of lower prices there. We sell work shoes to retailers at $3 a pair and dress shoes from $5 to $9.45 a pair. You will see from that that the retailers are not getting exorbitant profits.

"The announcement of Wanamaker's 20 per cent. reduction, however, brings out one interesting fact. Dealers figure 15 per cent of the price of an article for delivery and charge accounts. The reduction announced by Wanamaker does not apply to goods to be delivered or to be charged. That shows now some permanent reductions in prices may be secured. Of late years the public demand has been for service, more service and still more service—and service costs. When you figure out the cost of service, Wanamaker's 20 per cent. reduction is really only a 5 per cent reduction, with a 20 per cent advertising value."

At A. Hamburger & Sons no immediate decline in shoes was predicted, as some of the shoes recently bought cost more at wholesale than the present retail prices.

"The idea that one must pay $25 for a good pair of shoes is incorrect, however," said one of the department heads. "A thoroughly good pair can be bought around $10. We do not carry shoes which sell for more than $15."

Army shoes are selling from $5.45 up to $10.45. It was learned at the Army and Navy Store.

PRICES OF MATERIAL.

Hides, the raw material of which shoes are made, steadily have advanced during the last ten years, but not as much, tanners say, as have the prices on finished products. Best packer steer hides, which sold from 16 to 18 cents a pound in the Chicago market in 1911, brought from 38½ to 50 cents in the same market in 1920. Best country hides, which sold from 11 to 11½ cents a pound ten years ago, bring 27 to 30 cents a pound now. Figure out the number of pounds of finished product there are in your shoes and you will have some idea of their cost in the raw. Bull hides, which brought 9 1-4 cents a pound ten years ago, were quoted at 25½ cents last week, and calfskins, which brought 15 to 17 cents a pound then, are worth 35 to 65 cents a pound now. That price, 65 cents, is the highest ever quoted on the raw material. Prices on twenty grades of hides are quoted on the Chicago market. The tanners and hide buyers assert that the big part of the increased prices is tacked on by the manufacturers and retailers, and is not justified by the prices paid for leather.

AGAIN INDICT KITTLE.

Former Policeman and Detective Charged with Violating Dry Law.

Indictments charging Hubert Kittle, a former member of the city police department, and Richard Lucas, a detective, with violation of the Volstead Act were returned yesterday by the Federal grand jury.

It is asserted in the bill that Kittle purchased twenty barrels of whisky and stored nine barrels of the stuff in the residence of O. L. McConnell, 218 East Forty-third street, and that one barrel was taken to the quarters of Lucas in the Hayward Hotel, where it was dealt out through the assistance of a bellboy at the place, at a price ranging as high as $25 and $30 a quart.

Kittle was indicted some time ago with a number of striking switchmen and engine men for violation of the Lever law and is now at liberty on bond.

There are nine counts in the indictment involving charges of conspiracy and various overt acts in violation of the Volstead Act, including the delivery of a suit case of whisky to Alfonso Conrad at the Hayward Hotel February 1.

PARK YOUR CAR NOW FOR DIME.

Price of Standing Room the First to Tumble Here; Business Too Slim.

The downward swoop in prices has at last reached Los Angeles. Old H.C.L. is slipping. You can now park your car for 10 cents.

This news is contained in bulletins posted in front of many of the downtown auto parks. Where it formerly cost from 25 to 50 cents to leave your car for a day, it now can be done for a dime.

It is all the result of the law of supply and demand, and bad guessing. When the no-parking law went into effect, various persons thought parking space would be at a premium, and sundry new harbors for citizens' old boats were opened up. Now it seems that people are leaving their cars at home.

WOMEN HERE LAUNCH ECONOMY CAMPAIGN.

WIDELY SUPPORTED BODY TO WAGE SYSTEMATIC WAR ON EXTRAVAGANCE.

By Alma Whitaker.

At a meeting held in Los Angeles yesterday, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Boyle Workman, plans were completed for the launching of an organized economy campaign, indorsed by many of the leading women's clubs and associations. With the price-slashing wave that is engulfing the country, it is hoped that the need for the organization will be short-lived.

"But an era of practical economy will play an important part in restoring sane commercial conditions, in helping production to catch up and prices to settle down," said Mrs. Workman.

Headquarters have been opened at 417 Bryson Building, where meetings will be held, information received and given, a bulletin maintained, complaints investigated and a "white list" of merchants heartily co-operating with the movement published. A committee of experienced shoppers has been appointed who will report upon conditions. The organization proposes to boost heartily for the merchants who are endeavoring to aid in the deflation of prices, and to ignore the others. Complaints of profiteering will be carefully investigated and the results published.

The executive board of the new organization is composed of Mrs. Boyle Workman, chairman; Mrs. Granville MacGowan, vice-chairman; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. O. P. Clark; membership, Mrs. W. A. Edwards; speakers and meetings, Mrs. O. M. Sowden; Parent-Teacher Federation, Mrs. Charles F. Gray; churches, Mrs. C. Q. Stanton; Protestant churches, Mrs. Albert Crutcher; Jewish churches, Mrs. W. T. Barnett; Catholic churches, Mrs. J. C. Drake; clubs, Mrs. Mathew Robertson; theater and screen, Mrs. Theodore Roberts; office and information, Mrs. C. L. Hovey; press, Mrs. Herman Darling.

Organizations manifesting warm interest in the campaign are the executive board of the District Federation of Women's Clubs, executive board of the Parent-Teacher Federation, the Ministerial Union, the executive boards of the Friday Morning and Ebell clubs, the Woman's City Club, the Woman's Legislative Council, the Federated Daughters of the Golden State, and Division 104, Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

A meeting will be held at the Friday Morning Club Thursday at 10:30 a.m., when members of all the organizations interested will be present. At that meeting the blue buttons adopted by the organization will be distributed, together with the pledge, which runs as follows:

"World shortage of raw material and production places upon the women of the country the obligation for concerted action to relieve the situation by limiting expenditures to necessities. I promise to support actively the anti-extravagance campaign in Los Angeles as long as the necessity exists."

The campaign will be actively launched June 1, when ministers will preach economy sermons from the pulpits, speakers will be heard at many of the clubs and active membership culling will be started by all the women's organizations.

"It is not our intention to antagonize the merchants," said Mrs. Darling, "nor to wage any hysterical campaign against any of them. We believe that when the merchants appreciate that the women are in earnest, and do not, as has been declared, prefer paying high prices, they will all readily aid in meeting the situation. Nor are we concentrating on the dry goods trade. The economy campaign must extend to all classes of extravagance, including gasoline and motor luxuries, picture houses, expensive foods and lavish entertaining and candy, and the men will be persuaded to consider their purchases of tobacco and other such unnecessaries. We shall call a big mass meeting about June 2 in the Chamber of Commerce Building, to which the men will also be invited."

"It will prove a highly instructive adventure in economy for our women," said Mrs. O. P. Clark. "A great many of us have the haziest ideas of what real economy means, and the lesson will be a lasting benefit."

CUTS MAY BE FATAL.

Auto Climbs Sidewalk, Knocks Man Through Window.

While walking on the sidewalk in front of 240 South Main street last night, August Beulke, 40 years of age, of 129 Sotello street was knocked through a plate-glass window of the store by an automobile driven by Nat Levinstadt of 722 East Adams street, whose machine plunged over the curb out of control. At the Receiving Hospital Police Surgeon Goodrich stated that the man's leg was cut to shreds and the main artery severed. He is not expected to live. Detectives are investigating the accident.

COSTLY TO AIR POOR OPINION OF COURT.

TRAFFIC LAW VIOLATOR PAYS FINE, VENTS WRATH AND PAYS SECOND TIME.

It cost L. D. Kaufman, a clerk, address unknown to the police, just $25 yesterday to tell Police Judge Chesebro that he had been imposed upon by the court. In addition to the $25 he also paid a traffic fine of $10.

Kaufman came into court late yesterday, charged with violating traffic ordinance. He stated he was not guilty, but following a trial was fined $10. He paid the fine and left the courtroom.

Returning a short time later, Kaufman gave the judge his opinion of the whole affair in the following language: "I came back to tell you that I did not expect to get any justice when I came in the first time."

Judge Chesebro then explained the traffic ordinances to Kaufman in full, and when the lecture was completed informed him that he was in contempt of court, and imposed a second fine of $25. Kaufman at first refused to pay and was taken to the City Jail. After one look around, he called for the property clerk and deposited the fine.

The total season's rainfall in Los Angeles and vicinity was increased to 12.53 inches by a light rain that began falling early Thursday morning and continued intermittently until yesterday afternoon. Up to last night, the Los Angeles fall was 13 inches, among the lightest in a mild storm confined to the southern part of the State. Clearing weather is expected today.

Rain was recorded as far east as Redlands and all foothill cities between Los Angeles and that place reported a precipitation. This year now leads last in this city by 2.95 inches. The normal to date is 15.47 inches.

Heavy rains were reported in the mountains back of Pasadena and Sierra Madre and rangers coming in from the reserves stated last night that a regular midwinter rain was falling. Slight damage was reported in some sections, the heaviest being near Redlands and San Diego where quantities of grain have been cut.

At San Diego and in the foothill regions here, heavy electrical displays took place. In the southern city rain, thunder and lightning featured the storm. In Santa Ana lightning struck the home of N. C. Turner and found an outlet through an electric heater. A barn at Harper was damaged by a flash. Lightning was reported at practically all inland cities, but no damage was felt.

Bringing news of a cloudburst at Mecca which destroyed several hundred bags of cement owned by the State Highway contractors, William and Jack Mushet, sons of former City Auditor Mushet, returned from a trip to Imperial Valley made during the storm yesterday. They say the cloudburst occurred about 9 a.m. and quickly converted the roads into a sea of mud. It took their auto one and one-half hours to travel nine miles. They also report a heavy rain in Riverside county.

LAWYER UNDER FIRE.

Bar Association Files Complaint Against A. C. Vaughan.

An accusation was filed against Arthur C. Vaughan, an attorney, by the Los Angeles Bar Association yesterday, charging him with moral turpitude. One count deals with an appeal to the Supreme Court in the suit of E. M. Gordon against C. D. Hillman in which an affidavit is said to have been made stating as a reason for an extension of time the illness of Mr. Hillman who was quarantined at his home. The accusation states that at that time, Mr. Hillman was not ill. Mr. Vaughan could not be reached last night for a statement.

HELLMANS BUY NEW BANK.

The People's Trust and Savings Bank of Riverside was yesterday taken over by the Hellman Commercial Trust and Savings Bank of this city, according to an announcement by Charles F. Stern, State Superintendent of Banks, and Irving H. Hellman, vice-president and manager of the Hellman institution here, of which Marco H. Hellman is president. The latter conducted the purchase. It will be known as the Hellman Commercial Trust and Savings Bank, Riverside branch. All assets and deposit liabilities have been taken over by the new owners, Supt. Stern said.

According to Irving H. Hellman, J. Odell, the retiring president of the People's Bank, is to withdraw entirely from the management. The new Hellman branch will be operated by Riverside executives, under the general directions of the Los Angeles officials, under present plans.

The entrance of the Hellman interests, with resources of upward of $28,000,000, into the Riverside field, will be an important step in Southern California business and financial development.

The People's Trust and Savings Bank is the institution that figured recently in the charges against W. F. McShane, president of the Sutherland Fruit Company, involving the supposed loss of more than $300,000 through reputed fraudulent bills of lading for shipments of fruit from Southern California points. Later it was announced by Mr. Stern that the People's bank did not lose a dollar on the transactions, and that the Odell family personally took over the responsibility and paid out of their private assets whatever loss there was.

EX-FLAME TURNS ON CIRCUS KING.

Jane Hartigan Says She Lied at Barnes's Bidding.

Admits Story of "Platonic" Relations Was False.

Magnate's Trial for Perjury is Highly Spiced.

Alpheus G. Barnes-Stonehouse, circus magnate, told Jane Hartigan just before his suit for divorce from his wife came up for trial that if she didn't testify the way he wished, he was "through with her," according to the testimony of Miss Hartigan yesterday in Justice Summerfield's court. Barnes is having a hearing on a charge of perjury, it being charged that he swore falsely in Judge Taft's court when he testified that he had no relations with Jane Hartigan and Vivian Bordeaux, both the women having been named as corespondents by Mrs. Dolly L. Barnes-Stonehouse in a cross-complaint to his divorce action.

While the hearing yesterday was in progress, Virginia Lee and Rose Mary, daughters of Jane Hartigan, played about the courtroom, for the most part on Barnes's knees. When court adjourned, Rose Mary, the younger, said, "Buy some'n', papa!" and Virginia called out, "Good-by, papa!" The courtroom tittered.

Miss Hartigan, main witness for the prosecution, represented by Dep. Dist.-Attys. Hill and Fitts, testified that she first met Barnes in 1914, in the menagerie of his circus, then at Harbor City, Mich., and that he showed her about the circus. In 1915, she said, she joined the circus, later traveling in Barnes's private car as his wife. In October, 1916, said the witness, Virginia's Lee was born. The witness said she traveled thus that time as Barnes's wife and lived with him as his wife at a Venice hotel.

Rose Mary, testified the witness, was born in July, 1918, in a bungalow in Hollywood, provided by Barnes. She said she wired to Barnes, then in the East, and he wired back, "Be with you soon." She said the birth certificates showed George Stonehouse (Barnes) as the father of the girl. She said that at Barnes's direction she gave the name of a man named Brown in Chicago as the father of the child. The witness was represented in court by Kemper B. Campbell and A. W. Sorenson, who were attorneys for Mrs. Barnes in her defense of the divorce action.

Leo Youngworth, attorney for Barnes, introduced in evidence the testimony given at the divorce trial by Miss Hartigan in which she said that her relations with Barnes were purely platonic. The witness then said that Barnes had told her to testify as she did, or that "he was through with her," and that she did so to protect her children. Regarding an affidavit signed with her name and containing the same facts, she said she had induced a Jane Earle to sign her name to it. She said that representatives of Barnes made arrangements for her to receive $60 a week and that she did receive $1000.

BIRTHDAY OF THE CHURCH.

Whitsunday Sermons to be Preached from Many Pulpits Tomorrow.

In many Los Angeles churches tomorrow there will be special Whitsunday services and sermons. Whitsunday, the seventh Sunday following Easter, is one of the great festivals of Christianity and is frequently called the "Birthday of the Church." It commemmorates the descent of the Holy Spirit on the Day of Pentecost. Celebration of the holy communion and the reception of new members will mark the services in a number of churches. While Memorial Day services, as a rule, will not be held until a week from tomorrow, some will be held tomorrow and Grand Army posts and relief corps will attend.

"THE FUTURE LIFE."
IMMANUEL PRESBYTERIAN.

Did Jesus only swoon on the cross or did He really die? Did He actually appear to His disciples after His death or was it only a hallucination? These and other questions will be discussed by Dr. Herbert Booth Smith tomorrow morning at Immanuel Presbyterian Church when he will preach the fifth of a series of sermons on "Problems of the Future Life." His general subject will be "The Case Against the Resurrection." Tomorrow night Dr. Smith will open the question box for the second time and answer several questions, such as: Did Jesus use absent treatment? Was He, ever Sick? Is prayer a demand or a petition?

WHITSUNDAY SERMON.
FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

Dr. Hugh K. Walker will preach a Whitsunday sermon tomorrow morning at the First Presbyterian Church. His topic will be "Pentecost and Present-day Perplexities." It will give a somewhat novel interpretation of the significance of this great Christian festival and will deal especially with matters that have been disappointing and disillusioning in these reconstruction days. His evening topic will be "The Friendly Citizen Who Hails from Missouri."

"THE DIVINE GLORY."
FIRST CONGREGATIONAL.

"The Divine Glory and the Human Dread" is the topic of tomorrow evening's sermon by Dr. Carl S. Patton at the First Congregational Church. "Why are people so terribly scared of God?" asks Dr. Patton. "The way in which people speak of Him with bated breath reminds one of the way in which a rope was stretched around the bottom of the mountain when Moses went up into it and talked with Jehovah. The Christian revelation should long ago have dispelled this dread of the divine. God is no one to fear, or to dread, or to fight against, or even to surrender to. He is an infinite attractiveness, which no man can see or understand without loving."

BIRTHDAY OF THE CHURCH.
ST. PAUL'S PRO-CATHEDRAL.

Whitsunday, one of the great festivals of Christianity and the birthday of the Christian church, will be observed at St. Paul's Pro-Cathedral tomorrow. At the 11 o'clock service there will be a reunion of all those who have been presented for confirmation during the rectorship of Dean MacCormack. The service will consist of a celebration of the holy communion and a sermon by Dean MacCormack on "The Man with a Measuring Line." Being the Sunday nearest to Empire Day, British-born people of the community will gather in the evening at 7:45 for a special service. Dean MacCormack will preach on "The Anglo-American Entente Cordiale."

"WAS PAUL MISTAKEN?"
TEMPLE BAPTIST CHURCH.

Dr. J. Whitcomb Brougher will preach tomorrow morning at Temple Baptist Church on "A Special Letter About Christ Coming Again —Was Paul Mistaken?" Constance Balfour will sing and there will be numbers by the Temple Quartet and the male chorus. In the evening Rev. Eli M. Erickson, ex-Monk, will give an address illustrated with pictures. His subject will be "Savanarola, or the Call of the Martyrs; Come Out from Among Them."

"MAN WHO STUCK TO IT."
FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH.

Dr. James A. Francis will preach tomorrow morning at the First Baptist Church on "The Man Who Stuck to It," and in the evening on "Does God Ever Sing?" The First Church has engaged Rev. Oliver U. Chapman of Winnipeg as assistant pastor. He will arrive the 31st inst. and will take up his duties June 1.

"THE CHURCH IS OF GOD."
TRINITY METHODIST CHURCH.

Dr. C. C. Selecman will preach at Trinity Methodist Church tomorrow morning on "The Church is of God" and in the evening on "The Unfailing Guide to Duty." Special musical programs will be given at both services. Miss May A. Trude and Mrs. Alma K. Moss will sing in the morning and Raymond Elliott in the evening. J. Paul Elliott, cornetist, and Miss Lecile McArthur, violinists, will render special number in the evening.

"JAZZ RELIGION."
WESTLAKE PRESBYTERIAN.

"Jazz Religion" will be the subject of Dr. G. A. Briegleb's sermon tomorrow evening at Westlake Presbyterian Church. During the past few months Dr. Briegleb has been making an investigation into different types of religious experience and expression and will review the results tomorrow evening. His morning topic will be "The Romance of Faith."

"THE NEAR EAST."
KNOX PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

Dr. William W. Cumberland, member of the commission conducting an investigation for the State Department of conditions in Armenia regarding the advisability of a mandate, will speak on "The Situation in the Near East" at Knox Presbyterian Church tomorrow evening. Dr. Cumberland is an alumnus of Occidental College and a classmate of Rev. Leslie Logue Boyd, pastor of the church. He is a member of the faculty of the University of Minnesota, but has been on a leave of absence for several years in the service of the State Department. He recently returned from Constantinople.

"MORE THAN CONQUERORS."
FIRST METHODIST CHURCH.

Dr. S. T. Westhafer will preach tomorrow morning at the First Methodist Church on "More Than Conquerors" and in the evening on "Has New Thought Abolished Future Punishment?" Mildred Campbell will sing in the morning and Harry Hahn will sing at the evening service."

"PRACTICING RELIGION."
WESTLAKE METHODIST CHURCH

Rev. Thomas Oliver Grieves will preach tomorrow morning at Westlake Methodist Church on "Practicing Religion, or the Art of Godliness," and in the evening on "The Modern Man and His Religion." These sermons were prepared with "the man in the street" in mind, whether rich or poor, a citizen or an alien, a Christian or an Atheist. Mr. Grieves is undertaking to answer the question, "Are the churches meeting the needs of the people who are living today?"

"THAT SOMETHING."
CHURCH OF THE PEOPLE.

"That Something, Something More—Then Something," will be the topic of Reynold E. Blight's address tomorrow morning at the Church of the People. The sermon will be a discussion of the film play, "That Something." There will be a special musical programme by Miss Modeste Mortenson, violinists; Mrs. Paula Dohrman, soprano; Miss Laura Lewis, contralto, and Miss Ruth Snow, pianiste.

TALK FOR YOUNG PEOPLE.
PICO HEIGHTS CHRISTIAN.

Dr. Sarah J. Wise of the National W.C.T.U. will give a talk on "Sex Problems" tomorrow evening at the Pico Heights Christian Church. Dr. Wise is making a tour of the country, giving instructive talks to young people. The pastor, Rev. S. M. Bernard, will introduce the speaker and will speak of the educational value of her talk. Many members of the W.C.T.U. will attend.

REV. RUSSELL BROUGHER.
HOLLYWOOD BAPTIST CHURCH.

Rev. Russell Brougher, who returned last Thursday from Rochester, N. Y., where he has been attending the Baptist Theological Seminary, will preach at both services tomorrow at the Hollywood Baptist Church. He will leave next week for San Francisco, where he will preach for two months at the First Baptist Church there. He is a graduate of Los Angeles High School and Occidental College.

TALKS ON DIVORCE.
MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION.

Judge Charles S. Crail will speak on "Experiences in the Divorce Court, or How to be Happy Though Married," at a meeting of the Ministerial Association Monday morning at 10:30 at the Y.M.C.A. A paper on the divorce evil written by Judge W. H. Thomas of the U. S. Appellate Court will be read.

"JESUS, THE PRIEST."
BIBLE INSTITUTE.

Dr. R. A. Torrey will preach tomorrow morning at the Church of the Open Door on "Jesus, the Priest." It follows his sermon last Sunday on "Jesus, the Prophet," and the series will culminate the following Sunday with a sermon on "Jesus, the King." In the evening Dr. Ralph Atkinson will preach on "A Remarkable Confession."

MEMORIAL SERVICES.
AT THE SOLDIERS' HOME.

Memorial services at Soldiers' Home will be held tomorrow in memorial hall. Rev. M. S. Kaufman, chaplain, will preach on "God's Voice in Our Memorial Services." There will be selections by a double quartette and by the Home band. There will be high mass at 9 o'clock in the Catholic chapel, with Rev. P. Hawe celebrant, and sermon by Rev. Fr. Cullen. There will be music under the direction of Miss Josephine Murray.

ON WORLD MOVEMENT.
UNIVERSALIST CHURCH.

The Interchurch World Movement will be discussed by Dr. C. Ellwood Nash tomorrow at the Universalist Church. "The interchurch movement," says Dr. Nash, "is officially declared to be strictly evangelical and thus expressly excludes all who are not so classified. This raises an interesting question as to the attitude and intentions of liberals. Will they merely resent the snub, or will they get together on their own line? This is not a sectarian issue, but one of broad public interest."

THE FEAST OF WEEKS.
JEWISH CONGREGATIONS.

The Feast of Weeks, or Shabuoth in Hebrew, falls this year on Sunday, May 23, when it will be observed in reform congregations, also on the same day and on May 24 in orthodox congregations. Special services will be held in all Jewish houses of worship, and in many of them the festival will be celebrated as confirmation day. These exercises serve the two-fold purpose of signalising the pledge of loyalty on the part of the Jewish children to the faith of their fathers, and of re-establishing the covenant of consecration to the one God and to the belief in His justice and truth as manifested in history.

SUIT OVER DEAD WOMAN

Son-in-Law Wants Widower to Pay Him for Care of Her.

Henry O. Goebel is suing his father-in-law, Daniel Perkins Boswell, before a jury in Judge McCormick's court, for providing for his mother-in-law, Lucy Senter Boswell. He demands $1577.30, covering necessaries, lodging, nursing and care.

Mr. Boswell says in his answer that his wife deserted him and denies he owes his son-in-law any such sum for her care. He testified that when they were first married she wanted him to make a division of his property and when he refused she quarreled with him. They lived in a ten-room house and when he suggested that they live in the garage, she became hysterical and finally left him. The son-in-law contends that chickens and rabbits were kept in the garage and that it was not a proper abode for an invalid woman. Mrs. Boswell has since died.

POPULARITY INCREASES.

For Man Back from East with an Optimistic Market Report.

P. W. Meyer of the Obrikat-Meyer Fur Company yesterday returned from a tour of cities across the continent, studying the markets at the important fur centers, and he gives it as his opinion that furs will continue to be as popular as ever, and even more so.

"Furs," said Mr. Meyer "have come to be regarded as a necessity in the wardrobe of the well-dressed woman. She wears them, not so much for warmth as for style, to give a finish to her toilette; and she has come to feel that there is no occasion that does not demand its certain kind of furs. As much thought, as much genius and artistic creative ability go into the planning and the making of furs today as is given to any other article of apparel. The time is gone by when the ugly, straight-line seal skin coat comprised the single article of fur owned by the fashionable woman. Furs today are as smart, as novel in line and in finish as are gowns and millinery; and as necessary to a good appearance."

CREDIT MEN OF STATE GATHER.

Delegates from Many Cities in Convention Here.

Unique Invitations Command Presence at Conference.

Practical Business Problems Discussed by Experts.

Answering to a "subpoena," issued in lieu of formal invitation, retail credit men of Los Angeles, together with delegates from all over the State, convened for conference yesterday in the auditorium of the Broadway Department Store.

No legal turn was omitted in the "document" commanding attendance, said document being duly signed and sealed by H. Victor Wright, chairman; L. M. Crosthwaite, chairman attendance committee, and I. S. Levitt, deputy.

The "fine print," as interesting as the bold face type, contains some valuable "don'ts," among which are: "Don't always be asking, what has the association ever done for me, but rather ask what have I done for the association?" And other commands and suggestions useful for any organization.

The first subject on the program, "Why direct communication of credit information between members should be the exception rather than the rule," was handled in an able address by E. H. Furth, credit manager H. C. Capwell Company and president Co-operative Credit Association, Oakland.

The evening session opened with a "unit meeting" in session; conference subject "The adjustment department for collection of accounts as an adjunct to the retail reporting bureau," I. S. Levitt, manager Retail Merchants' Credit Association, and secretary Retail Credit Men of Los Angeles. Open forum.

Debate: "Resolved, that interchange of credit information between cities or bureaus should be furnished without charge." Affirmative, Mr. William Loewi, manager Retailers' Credit Association, San Francisco; negative, W. O. Talbot, secretary Merchants' Association of San Diego. Open forum, discussion led by Robert L. Conway, manager Merchants' Credit Association, Santa Barbara.

Much valuable information was brought out and many new angles developed to the credit question. It was also proven that even a subject so profound and practical as credit, when handled by brilliant minds, may be interesting, and even fascinating.

About 100 delegates from towns and cities throughout California were present and the total attendance was over 300.

Sessions continued from 4:40 p.m. to 9:30 p.m., with a social intermission for dinner.

Today's sessions will open at 9:30 a.m., and will continue until 12, reopening again at 2 p.m. and continuing until 3:40 p.m. There will be a banquet this evening at the Alexandria, with many interesting speakers, including John Jacob Arnold, supervisor international business department, Bank of Italy, San Francisco; John Steven McGroarty, historian and author of the "Mission Play;" Maynard McFie, president Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce. Oscar Lawler, attorney, will act as toastmaster.

The formation of a State association of credit bureaus is the motive of the conference, and many interesting reasons will be given for such a consummation. Meetings are held at the auditorium of the Broadway Department Store (Fourth street entrance) and are open to all interested. Hotel Clark is official headquarters.

AIR TERMINAL PLAN FAVORED.

Linked by Utilities Board With Scheme for Union Depot in This City.

A Los Angeles terminal for passenger, freight and mail airplanes was pronounced feasible yesterday by Chief Engineer Osborne of the Board of Public Utilities. The Aero Club of Southern California laid before the board a suggestion that an aerial terminal be made part of the railroad depot plans now under consideration by the Railroad Commission, and the board directed that the suggestion, together with Mr. Osborne's comments on the plan, be forwarded to the City Council and to the commission.

POLICEMAN DIES AS RESULT OF ACCIDENT.

Police Detective John Magness, 32 years of age, of 1103 West Eighty-ninth street died early yesterday morning as the result of injuries received late Saturday at West Adams and Grand avenue when the police ambulance was wrecked in a collision with another machine. Officer Magness, who was riding in the front seat of the police machine, was hurled to the pavement and internally injured. He was removed to the White Memorial Hospital. The body is at the undertaking parlors of Edwards, Gamash & Heath.

TO ELIMINATE THE BUMPS.

Depressed and bumpy gutters along the city streets are to be eliminated at a cost of from $40,000 to $50,000, according to steps taken yesterday by the Board of Public Works in co-operation with the City Engineer.

MEZTA BROUGHT FORTUNE HERE.

Governor's Declaration Shows Eighty Thousand Cash.

Justice Department Agent Submits His Report.

Consul's Appeal for Arrest Goes Unrecognized.

Special Agent Connell of the Department of Justice yesterday submitted the report of his agents in regard to the arrival of Gov. Manuel Mezta and a party from the southern district of Lower California by the Mazatlan, at the harbor, Thursday, stating that Mezta had declared legally and through the customs authorities the sum of $75,000 in American gold and $2000 in Mexican pesos to U. S. Atty. O'Conner.

After the consideration of the report, the latter states there was nothing in the situation at this time calling for the action of the Federal government, so nothing will come of the appeal of Theodore Frexieres, Mexican Consul at San Francisco, for the arrest of Gov. Mezta and his party and the seizure of funds that the party brought to the United States.

The request of Consul Frexieres was supposed to come through provisional Gov. Adolfo de la Huerta of Mexico, who succeeded to the post of authority upon the flight of Venustiano Carranza. Up to this time, however, the new government has not been recognized at Washington, and until this is done it has no standing from a diplomatic point of view.

Whether the election by the Mexican Congress of a successor to President Carranza to hold office until the national elections are held on July 4 will result in the recognition of the new government, is a matter for future determination. If that government, after its recognition should demand the extradition of Gov. Mezta and his party through the proper channels that would present another angle to the situation, but at this time here is nothing official upon which any action can be successfully based, local Federal officials state.

It was announced yesterday that the Mezta party, consisting of Francisco Lopez Cortez, his secretary; Augustino Estado Ravelo, Collector of Internal Revenue for the district; Caesare Gonsales, the district magistrate, and Jose A. Mesta, the District Attorney, will remain in Los Angeles indefinitely.

"BIG HUTCH" TAKEN IN EAST.

Traced across the country, Everett A. Hutchings, known to the police as "Big Hutch," secretly indicted by the country grand jury on a charge of grand larceny, was arrested yesterday in New York City by Malcolm McLaren, sent East two weeks ago for that purpose by Dist.-Atty. Woolwine. Hutchings and Hugh Trainor, both said to be known as hunko men, were indicted for swindling J. B. Norris, a wealthy business man and farmer of Decatur, Ill., out of $51,000, in a fake stock deal in Los Angeles on December 22, 1919.

According to information given the grand jury, Hutchings and Trainor established a fake stock exchange in the Grosse Building, this city, and pretended to Mr. Norris that they were going in with him on an investment in what is said to have turned out to be a fictitious stock. Mr. Norris, it is charged, "invested" $51,000, but later received back $30,000 from a local man, acting for Hutchings.

Mr. Woolwine, after the indictment of the pair, sent circulars throughout the country, and two weeks later received information that Hutchings was in New York. Mr. McLaren was sent East and yesterday arrested Hutchings. A search is still being made for Trainor.

Mr. Woolwine said yesterday that Mr. McLaren will at once seek a fugitive warrant for Hutchings to hold him and that extradition papers are being prepared now in this city to bring the prisoner here for trial.

TO ELECT DIRECTORS.

Prominent Women are Candidates for Vacancies on "Y" Board.

The annual election of the board of directors of the Young Women's Christian Association will occur Monday. The polls will be open from 8:30 a.m. to 8 p.m., at the main building at Third and Hill.

There are thirty members of the board of directors, with several vacancies to be filled, and the candidates for the places are Miss Rose P. Smith, Miss Alice Gastren, Miss Grace Dering, Mrs. O. Shepherd Barnum, Mrs. A. S. Heineman, Mrs. J. M. Newell, Mrs. Nicholas Milbank, Mrs. William A. Moses, Mrs. Edgar S. Hyman, Mrs. Mae Garvell, Mrs. Cecelia A. White and Miss Monette Todd.

Dinner will be served at 6 o'clock by the religious education department and at 8 o'clock the annual meeting will convene to hear the reports of the department chairman. After the business has been transacted an entertaining program of stunts, showing various phases of the association activities, will be featured.

ATTORNEYS BARRED.

City Employees Must Get Along Without Counsel at Hearings.

The Fire Commission yesterday adopted a resolution prohibiting the appearance of attorneys as counsel representing discharged or dismissed employees of the department in investigations and hearings held in connection with suspensions and removals. Mayor Snyder and Commissioner Denman were present at yesterday's meeting and voted in favor of the resolution. It is considered probable that the Police Commission, consisting now of Mayor Snyder and Commissioner E. C. Wilson, may adopt a similar rule. Mayor Snyder has expressed himself of the belief that city employees do not need the protection of attorneys at hearings before commissions. One of the former police commissions had a similar rule.

WOMEN'S WORK, WOMEN'S CLUBS.

BY MYRA NYE.

Congress of Mothers and P.-T.A.

"The greatest work in the world—the care, advancement and protection of our future citizens, the boys and girls of the State—belongs to us who are a part of this wonderful organization, the Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher associations," said Dr. Jessie Russell yesterday afternoon in her closing address at the last session of the convention in the Bible Institute auditorium.

The convention marks the close of a remarkably successful year, with a membership of 39,978 and with $4455 in the treasury, in contrast to a membership of 15,253 and $800 in the treasury two years ago.

Invitations for the next convention were received and in all probability the meeting will be in Oakland, although the final decision rests with the governing board.

With no diminution in attendance the last session proved as interesting as any and probably more vital in that the reports of the federation presidents from all over the State were heard. Those who spoke were Mrs. John T. Cave, Alhambra; Mrs. Hattie Morrison, American River; Mrs. J. Koughan, Berkeley; Mrs. F. A. Huffaker, Bakersfield; Mrs. A. A. Barton, Glendale; Mrs. Genevria E. Wall, Long Beach; Mrs. Charles F. Gray, Los Angeles; Mrs. Newton Glazier, Los Nietos; Mrs. S. Elliott, Monrovia; Miss Jennie Frater, Pomona; Mrs. John Clarkson, Santa Ana; Mrs. C. Fulton Jones, San Bernardino; Mrs. Grace Conroe, San Diego; Mrs. Jerome O. Cross, Fresno; Mrs. P. C. Chadwick, Redlands; Mrs. Hugh Bradford, Sacramento; Mrs. Stephens I. Simmons, San Francisco; Mrs. E. M. Jones, Oakland; Mrs. R. L. Cardiff, Santa Cruz; Mrs. Fred J. Keller, San Jose; Mrs. R. H. Weldon, South Pasadena; Mrs. Gertrude Jordan, San Gabriel Valley district; Mrs. L. L. Morrison, Los Angeles, and Mrs. Laura Strangeman, Garvanza.

In the afternoon Miss Nellie Green Clarke, a young high school girl, who is student counselor at Pasadena High School, spoke on the social life of the high school girl. Other subjects discussed were the social life of the boy, dress, responsibility of the school authorities and the responsibility of the parents.

Miss Helen Watson, assistant Superintendent of Schools, spoke of the responsibility of the school authorities and the dangers which surrounded the young people of high school age in such a city as Los Angeles.

CALLING NAMES.

Congressman Madden called the Confederates traitors and destroyers in the course of some remarks in the House the other day. He may have kept within the truth, but he certainly showed no tact. There is no warrant or justification for any man to stand up on the floor of Congress today and tell the sons of the South that their fathers were traitors and ingrates. It sets not well on any man's chest.

THE POINT OF ATTACK.

A jury gave a judgment of $25,000 against an eastern restaurant man who served a paper of tacks in a bowl of oxtail soup set before a physician. The doctor has a punctured inner tube and a lot of other troubles and may never be as good as he once was. People run up against some new form of tax every day, but when a man gets a paper of tacks in his chowder the iron enters his soul. There are several points to this.

FAIR FRANCE.

Senator Joseph Irwin France of Maryland claims that he will be disappointed if he does not receive the Republican nomination for the Presidency. So far as known he is the only candidate in the party who is willing to run on a wet platform. He would have his State Merryland, with the ha-ha inspired by the grape. But we fear that the mild wines of France will not have much standing in the Chicago convention. The blunt bite of Wood alcohol catches more of the crowd.

BEING SKINNED.

The president of the International Fur Exchange says that the supply of furs in the world is insufficient to meet the demand. There's another gent who has the fumes of artificial prosperity in his head and doesn't know what he is talking about. The supply is inexhaustible and the demand is waning. By this time all the poor working girls have their furs and few are suffering for them. Besides this there is always the public to be skinned. Think of all the pelts that could be obtained in this way. It will be a long time before we run out of skins.

THE MIDDLEMAN.

When a commission house pays $2 a hundred for potatoes and sells them for $8 without even unloading them from the car it shows what the commission system does when it gets its feet around the human neck. The forty fat commissions of our otherwise fair and beloved State exemplify the same idea. They are the middlemen standing between the people and the government and getting a rake-off from both sides. They fatten on the hand that made them and they bite the one that feeds them. 'Tis the same in business. The man between—the man who gets the commission—has the largest end and draws the biggest profit in the daily transactions of life, yet virtually he creates nothing and is actually as nonessential as a fifth wheel to a Ford.

PASSING THE PEAK.

It is promised—and indeed the evidence is materializing—that the peak of high prices has been passed. This is declared by the government experts to apply to virtually all lines, and if any attempt is made to charge more for an article than was asked during the early part of the month some detailed explanation will be in order. The mere statement that the dealer needs the money will not suffice. There are warehouses that are jammed full of merchandise and foodstuffs. There is no real shortage in essentials and no need for suffering. If people would buy what they must have instead of what they think they would like to have there would be plenty to go 'round and prices would reach their proper level. The Lord loveth a careful buyer.

TRYING TO PUT BROADWAY TO SLEEP, EH?

There is such a thing as being too thorough. Los Angeles, and particularly that part of it lying along Broadway between First and Seventh streets, is suffering from the overexertion of its friends. Broadway became congested, filled with the accumulation of street cars, autos and other vehicles. The doctors were called in, said physicians being experts of the State Railroad Commission—whose sins of commission are many—the city and the Los Angeles Railway. They solemnly examined the patient. They nodded their heads over poor, bungled-up Broadway and retired to their offices to think over the case. The first prescription was that specimen of railroad-board foolishness, the no-parking law. The commission urged it on the Council and the meek souls at the City Hall accepted the suggestions of the San Francisco traffic muddlers; result, big kick, loss of business, quick change in the ordinance. Broadway, which had been in danger of expiring under the blood-letting treatment of the commission-Council professors, began to revive. Then came a blow like the famous one that almost killed father—the Los Angeles Railway put into effect its extraordinary reputing plan and Broadway fell sick again. Other sections of the city suffered with it, some from too much traffic and others from too little. The authorities were so determined to end the Broadway traffic problem that they gave the street too stiff a dose of quieting mixture and now many merchants are once more compelled to cry, "Give back our traffic to us."

MEXICAN REVOLUTIONS.

With all its faults Mexico has achieved distinction in one line in which it is in a class by itself. The Mexican leaders have reduced making revolutions to an exact science. Not only can they make more revolutions in less time than the people of other countries, but they have solved the problem of bloodless revolutions. Taking the last as an example, it was much cheaper than a national election; and there was less disturbance than generally accompanies national campaigns in this country.

Judging by the acclaim with which the advent of Obregon is welcomed by all the Mexican States, the result of the revolt that overthrew Carranza is satisfactory to the great majority of the Mexican people. The coup d'etat was accomplished with a skill and precision which would have awakened the supreme admiration of a Talleyrand or a Metternich. There were no hitches, no bunglings. The thing was over in three weeks, without riots, without destruction of life or property. The skirmishes between the few troops who remained loyal to Carranza and the forces of the revolution were little more than outpost affairs.

That there were no massacres, no plunderings is a tribute to the character and forbearance of Obregon and his associates. The ways of Mexico are not those of our own country; but, viewing the results attained, there is much to approve and little to condemn. Whether Obregon will find his position secure can be only a matter of conjecture. After making many bad revolutions Mexico has apparently made a good one. But there is, of course, the danger that the Mexican people will not be content to abandon the revolutionary habit. It will require wisdom, judgment and foresight to prevent them from starting new revolutions, just for the sake of making them.

Something more than skill and daring of leaders was necessary, however, to crown the Obregon coup with immediate success. The Mexican States and districts, with one or two notable exceptions, have been torn by revolutions for ten years and a majority of the people are exceedingly weary of them. They have had enough of the strenuous life; they have tired of changing their political faith overnight; they have seen the wealth of the country wasted and the best blood of Mexico spilled or driven into exile. They were ready for a leader whose patriotism is above suspicion and whose poise and tolerance are proverbial. There comes a time in the lives of all turbulent peoples when they prefer security to turmoil, when peace is a blessing, when they are ready to unite behind a national leader who can subordinate personal ambition to the country's good.

Revolution itself is often little more than a mental malady. The fever rises and subsides. Peoples, like individuals, sow their wild oats and reap for a few seasons sorry harvests. Then comes the time when they plant more wisely, when they uproot the tares and give the wheat an opportunity to mature. It is to be hoped that Mexico has come to this stage in its national life. That Obregon is the man selected to succeed Carranza is a good omen. The foreign policies which he has outlined are much more acceptable to this country than those of his predecessor. He does not ground his administration in hatred of the foreigner. He has not sought to cultivate popularity at home by shaking his fist in the face of his neighbors. He recognizes that a policy of complete isolation would be a bar to the progress of the republic. His empty sleeve is visible evidence that he knows what war means. He probably shares the opinion of Gen. Sherman and Gen. Grant. He seeks to establish friendly relations abroad and security at home. The future of Mexico is on the lap of the gods; but the gods always have inclined favorably towards those who were able to help themselves.

If Obregon can re-establish a reign of law in Mexico, guaranteeing security of life and property alike to the native and to the foreigner, he will live in history as the greatest Mexican of his generation. No foreign country, least of all the United States, has any designs on Mexican territory. If the Mexican people show themselves capable of self-government they will receive both moral and material aid from without. It is too soon to say that Mexico's troubles are ended. It is too soon to even prophesy that the different factional leaders will be content with the regime of lawful government which Obregon is evidently seeking to establish. But there is visible from without a ray of sunshine breaking the gloom that has hung for ten years along the Mexican horizon.

NEED OFFICIAL BACKING.

Once again it has become necessary to call attention to the unfortunate lack of firmness which marks the foreign policy of the Democratic administration. In an interview with The Times A. C. Bedford, chairman of the board of directors of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, calls attention to the flabbiness at Washington. He insists that the only relief from the impending acute shortage of oil and gasoline in this country must come through an aggressive policy under which the State Department will back up American business men who go into other lands. At present the United States is the pre-eminent petroleum nation. Consumption here is so enormous, however, that the time is bound to come when it must lose that position and must import oil. The big American companies realize this and are constantly scanning the world for new fields which they can exploit. It is absolutely necessary that in their enterprises in other countries they have the support of the State Department in seeing that they get a square deal. Mr. Bedford hints that American companies are imposed upon abroad and that the State Department does not uphold them in their efforts to get fair treatment. The heads of oil companies are not alone in making this charge. A dispatch to The Times from Floyd Gibbons in Paris declares that American business men and commercial representatives abroad are commencing to renew their old complaints about the apparently inexplicable attitude of the State Department toward Americans in foreign countries. Those Americans need the utmost encouragement by Washington, yet the official attitude is marked by a painful lack of the backing which is necessary to give our capitalists confidence to go ahead with enterprises which, although outside our borders, are of the utmost importance to this country.

THE CARELESS CONSUMER.

Will somebody kindly start a school of instruction for the careless consumer? Possibly the course could be administered by correspondence, but it looks as if something more impressive would be necessary.

But really the consumer should be protected from his own insanity and indiscretion. He needs a guardian or a straitjacket to keep him from the barbed entanglements of the bankruptcy court.

His education has been sadly neglected. He hasn't even opened the primer of economy.

The alphabet of thrift is all Sanskrit to his thinking.

He buys everything that looks good to him—and a great deal that doesn't look good. Sometimes he is thoughtful enough to rail at the price. But he pays it.

The prudent housewife is only a fragrance blown back from mid-Victorian fiction. There doesn't seem to be any such worthy creature. We have with us this evening the baby doll, the jazz baby and sundry other ingenues who sprinkle their manuma to the humming birds. They shed their money with the careless ease of Madam Midas. If they were sentenced to do the shopping for a large family they would telephone to the silk mills and the delicatessen to send out what they had and call it a day.

The thrifty buyer is hard to find among our domestic pets. Prices have therefore been steadily climbing because no one shook the ladder or sought to rear any barrier. Up they went and people only seemed to wonder how high they could go. They stood about like children watching a balloon. First they followed the ascent with their naked eyes and then brought out their field glasses.

They took to betting how high they would go and made sport of it. When prices got lost in the clouds they showed some signs of worry and asked the government to send out a relief expedition.

Instead of doing that the government took the usual course and began a set of investigations. They had committees and commissions of all kinds and the bureau of justice or something or other handed down a decision that during the open season profiteers could be shot without a license. The commission on safety of the Chippendale bureau, after ten thousand dollars' worth of investigation, presented an exhaustive report proving that the advance of 96 per cent in the price of curling irons was due to an unexpected deflection in the current of the open polar sea and that no relief could be expected until the voters could be trained to plunk their ballots for A. Mitchell Palmer. But a Senatorial committee on primitive revelations made the distressing disclosure that the sharp increase in the price of soap in Cincinnati could be traced to the advance of Wood in New Jersey.

Instead of locating and shaking the ladder by which prices had climbed the people mixed the query with their politics. Every time a man would ring up his government to ask why alfalfa was selling at $38 he would be told that it was on account of German opposition to the League of Nations—and up would go the price another notch.

The good old law of supply and demand is supposed to regulate prices, but what we want is a stabilizer to regulate the law of supply and demand. People have heard so much about the unions and their demands that they have grown woolly over the word. Maybe they wake up in the middle of the night and ring for sponge cake and ambrosia. They demand a lot of things that they don't need and do not even care for. That is why the law of supply and demand is just now only about 50 per cent efficient. Quite a bunch of our proletariat are soldiering on the supply end to keep pace with a demand whose head is full of hop.

The blind is leading the blind—in the political path.

Now that the thing is in politics it is more than ever assured that it can never be taken out or the people relieved without a change in their program of politics. The administration and its Department of Justice promised to have prices on the run in no time.

They had.

But they were on the run on the up-grade and in high, at that.

That is why the cards are shuffled for a new deal. The people feel that the administration has not kept pace with its promises. There will be no confidence until that administration is changed. The confidence that then comes will be in itself a victory, and restoration of normal and proper conditions will follow as day follows night.

In the meantime a little training in the principles of personal and domestic thrift is advised. Let the demands be measured by the rigid rule of necessity. Prices will be gradually hammered down under this application. Any further advances cannot be excused.

DOGS AND CARS.

Noticed a lady driving a big limousine on the boulevard the other day. She commanded the wheel of the handsome car herself and had no human companions, but on the luxurious upholstering of the rear seat were three big Airedales sitting erect, eyes front, like drum majors in a row. The dogs were as rigid and stern faced as were the liveried footmen of the olden days when milady went abroad with her team and carriage.

But the point is that the motor people are getting so far behind in their deliveries that dogs frequently have to double up. Here was a lady who was undeniably able to give each of her dogs a car and yet, through force of circumstances, three of them were compelled to herd together in one measly coupe or else take their exercise on foot.

Since children are unfashionable the average family in the smart set consists of a couple of dogs and a canary. The canary is not expected to have an outing, but dogs need the air and nowadays it seems that the only way they can get it is to ride in a $3500 buzz wagon.

But there are hardly enough autos to go around, and with this freight congestion and the steel strike the deliveries are so belated that sometimes two and even three dogs may have to use the same car. Possibly our esteemed Humane Society can do something to ease the situation. According to the testimony of some of the members this would be in its line.

Of course there are a few people with cars who have no dogs. These people might telephone the Mayor or some other responsible person that they have room for a bloodhound or a terrier and in that way some of our suffering canines would get their ration of California ozone. It is pretty tough when a man has a dachshund in these days and cannot get a car with more than 136 inches of wheel base.

Met a fox terrier the other day that never had a car and was rather glad of it. Seemed to have a lot of fun running after other dogs and cars and barking at them. But dogs without cars are scarce, and when Henry Ford gets all the steel he wants he may be able to relieve a situation that seems to be disturbing for the moment.

RIPPLING RHYMES.

OVERALLS.

I bought a suit of overalls, a suit of dingy blue, with creases down the outer walls and bib and tucker, too. And all my neighbors did the same, and everyone in town, to knock the profiteering game and bring the prices down. The rich men in their gilded halls with poor men fell in line; we all were wearing overalls and feeling mighty fine.
At last we'd found a useful way to curb the rising cost and make the profiteering jay feel like an early frost. And then the price of denim rags went soaring to the moon; the dealers sprung the same old gags and crooned the same old tune. The honest toiler in, the ditch could not afford to buy new overalls—we idle rich had sent the price sky high.
The honest workers everywhere in fig leaves were arrayed; the dealer had no duds to spare—we'd bought his stock in trade. We wore our overalls a week and then the thing grew stale; we took and threw them in the creek or hung them on a nail. And thus a great reform, my dears, was to the discard hurled:
and still the busy profiteers are fencing in the world.

"Whom the World Calls Idle."

Tom Morris is a gypsy.
A thriftless, shiftless wight,
Who tramps the country roads by day
And sleeps in fields by night.
His meal ofttimes a crust,
But overhead the thrushes sing
Their melody of youth and spring
And down the road with ardent swing
He plashes through the dust.

Tom Morris hath a comely face
And laughter in his eye,
And country maids would stay the pace
With which he hurries by,
But a fonder voice than woman's
Is ringing in his ear,
It's the wanderlust a-swaying,
It's the voice of Asia praying,
It's the round world's voice a-saying:
"Come, Tom Morris, over here."

Oh, the winds of heaven bring him
Strange smells of foreign lands,
And the ocean waves they sing him
A song of coral strands;
Not his to leave unheeded
The call his gods have hurled
(The gypsy gods of Maytime,
The gods of youth and playtime,)
He must follow while 'tis daytime
To the other side the world.

IMPERIAL VALLEY.

Where the mountains sink and fish
In a valley vast and green,
There are blanching fields of cotton
With alfalfa blows between.

Here coyotes once were roaming
Where the desert shimmers now,
In a land of blight and thirst,
In a land which God forgot.

Lonely land of desolation,
Left to sizzle, seethe and die,
Far beyond man's habitation,
Far beyond his dreams to buy.

But today a garden blooms
'Neath a friendly, smiling sun,
In a land of peace and plenty
Where the roaring floods have run.

Dwell a people strong and free
Regnant, Aztec, white and brown,
Changed, a desert's fearful waste
Into beauty of the rose.

Here a people, strong and true,
By King Action's hand led on,
On the desert's dust and sand
Reared an empire in the sun.

GIGANTIC PLAN FOR RESERVOIR.

Rights of Way to be Asked for Veritable Lake in Big Tejunga Canyon.

A gigantic natural storage reservoir in Big Tejunga Canyon, to cover 15,000 acres and hold 15,000,000,000 gallons of water for Los Angeles use, is part of the program of development projected by Chief Engineer Mulholland of the Water Department, which he believes will be put through in three years. The reservoir is to cost about $800,000.

The Board of Public Service Commissioners voted yesterday to ask the Department of the Interior for the necessary right-of-way concessions, as the canyon is in the Angeles Forest Reserve.

ESTIMATES ARE CUT.

Budget Committee is Trying to Make Income go Around.

The Budget Committee of the City Council which is trimming down the estimates asked for by heads of city departments for the next fiscal year at the close of their day's work yesterday had lopped off to date a grand total of $1,400,571. It is estimated that the city's income during the next fiscal year will be $8,500,000, so there remains but $980,818 to deduct from the estimates yet to be considered. These departments include the police department, which is asking for 275 additional patrolmen made necessary by the growth of the city.

Under the estimates already tentatively agreed upon the fire department will be completely motorized during the coming year. Department estimates considered yesterday and the amounts deducted were: electrical, $15,861; purchasing, $145; bureau of assessments, $1225; City Attorney's office, $2195.

HAD WRONG TIP.

Scales Didn't Weigh Right and Poultryman's Fined.

When M. Block, a buyer for the Los Angeles Poultry Market, 2309 Central avenue, tipped the scales at his place and made it appear that Mrs. P. L. Sandiford, 245 Walnut street, Walnut Park, only had twenty-eight pounds of poultry instead of thirty-three and a third pounds, the action cost him $50. Block pleaded guilty yesterday in Justice Hanby's court and was fined for petty larceny.

Mrs. Sandiford complained to C. J. Buck, deputy sealer of weights and measures, that Block had short-weighted her several times when she sold him chickens. A watch was kept and it was found thirty-three and a third pounds was made to appear at only twenty-eight, the difference being $1.67, which Block was accused of stealing from Mrs. Sandiford.

COUNCIL TO CONSIDER WATER RATE RAISE.

COMMISSIONERS TO HELP PAY BONDS IF REQUEST GRANTED—LOT TAX ILLEGAL.

In conformity with a request by the City Council, the Board of Public Service Commissioners yesterday adopted a resolution, contingent upon the granting by the Council of the proposed increase in water rates, whereby the commissioners pledge themselves to transfer from water revenues each year $500,000, to be used for payment of interest and sinking funds toward the retirement of the outstanding $31,000,000 bonds. The resolution was offered by Commissioner Del Valle.

The Council yesterday laid over for one week consideration of the ordinances increasing the water rates, and also asked the City Attorney for an opinion on the legality of assessing owners of vacant lots to assist in paying the operating expenses of the water department. Assistant City Attorney Jess Stephens said last evening that this plan is unconstitutional. Public Service Commissioner Del Valle said that the water board tried several years ago to raise money by this plan, but that it was killed in the Council on account of the objections of citizens.

FOR BURBANK VACANCY.

At the request of the Postmaster-General, the United States Civil Service Commission announces an examination to be held at Los Angeles on June 16 for the position of postmaster at Burbank, Cal. This office has an annual compensation of $1600. Full information concerning the requirements of the examination may be secured from the postmaster at the place of vacancy or from the Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C.

JURY FINDS HE DID AND DIDN'T.

Larcenist Oddly Caught Found Guilty and Innocent in Same Trial.

Joe Mumola had the remarkable experience last evening of being found guilty and not guilty by the same jury. He was convicted in Judge Craig's court of grand larceny, found not guilty of robbery and the jury was unable to agree whether he was guilty of burglary. Dep. Dist. Atty. Richardson prosecuted him on the three charges after similar accusations against his two brothers, Tony and Mike, had been dismissed.

The fact that a Chinaman who was held up with three countrymen on a ranch near San Fernando and robbed of several sacks of potatoes, cut the rear cushion in an automobile afterward found in the yard of Mumola's home played an important part in the trial.

WOULD STUDY LAW.

Prisoner Wants Order so that He May Visit Law Library.

"I want the court to make an order that I be permitted to go regularly to the county law library to study up the law in my case," said Mike M. Gonyou, accused of perjury during the trial of Nicholas Steelink, when he appeared before Judge Willis yesterday. Gonyou is acting as his own counsel.

"The law is all right," responded the court. "What you want is more witnesses for the evidence. I might recommend John Lapique, who is studying the law in his case."

Gonyou's trial was reset for July 12, the jury in the first trial having disagreed. In the meantime Gonyou intends to study law to fight his case.

TO HELP LEGION.

Patriotic Program is Prepared by Hollywood Festival Chiefs.

Tonight has been set aside as American Legion night at the Hollywood May Festival, Sunset Boulevard and Wilton Place. An elaborate and patriotic program has been arranged and a large audience is expected. This will help to swell the fund that is to be used for the purpose of erecting an auditorium for the American Legion in Hollywood. On the program are Gertrude Ross, composer; Mme. Anna Ruzena Sprotte, contralto and Mme. Manuella Budrow, Spanish prima donna.

There will also be a concert by the Royal Italian Band, patriotic addresses by leading Hollywood citizens, followed by the aerial exhibit, a Mercury airplane in illuminated flying.

HAD HIS HAND IN THE WRONG POCKET.

Roy Sheldon had his hand in the pocket of William C. Weese, 1787 East First street, a jury decided yesterday in Judge Willis's court when the defendant was found guilty of attempted larceny from the person. Mr. Weese, who had two pocketbooks, testified that he was on a street car at Sixth street and Broadway when he discovered the defendant's hand in his pocket. He objected and the defendant ran, he said, but was arrested. Seldon will be arraigned on Tuesday for sentence.

BRAIN WORKERS TO GET REWARD.

Speaker Tells Pasadena Pupils Education Pays.

Civil War General Seriously Ill at Crown City.

Taxpayers' League Wants Facts About Big Deal.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PASADENA, May 21.—Discussing the rise of laborers and the decline of brain workers, so far as money returns go, Will C. Wood, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, said in an address to Pasadena High School students today:

"High wages being paid to laborers are temporary. When the demands of a topsy-turvy world have been brought back to normal the readjustment which will follow will restore brain workers to a position where the pay they receive is consistent with the sacrifices they have made and the time they have spent in training their minds.

"Present demands for material goods have placed a premium on the services of the laborer. The attractive wages are inducing many students to leave school, thinking education does not pay. But we must not let our heads be turned and become side-tracked with immediate prospects which look bright, but are without a future."

SOLDIER INJURED.

Cyril B. Sheppard of Pasadena came out of the army two weeks ago, after going through the war without being wounded, only to be seriously hurt today when the motorcycle he was riding was struck by an automobile. He was treated at the emergency hospital for cuts and bruises and removed to his home in Burton Court.

CIVIL WAR GENERAL ILL.

Gen. William Aumen, veteran of the Civil War, who entered the army the day after President Lincoln called for volunteers, is seriously ill at the Overholt, where he makes his home with his daughter, Mrs. E. FISHERMEN PROTEST.

Insist on Demand for Higher Price, Private Yacht Arrives.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LOS ANGELES HARBOR, May 21.—A big meeting of purse seine boat owners will be held tonight at the Moose Hall to discuss the price of tuna. The purse seine owners are holding out for $160 per ton for blue-fin tuna. Canners declare that they cannot pay this price, although they offer $200 per ton for long-fin or albacore tuna. The meat of the albacore is whiter and the fish is larger. On account of the waste the canners claim blue fin at $140 would cost 25 cents per case more than albacore at $200 and sell for considerably less. The purse seine boats have been coming down from Puget Sound in large numbers during the last two years. There are now about eighty boats here, employing nearly 900 men.

PRIVATE YACHT IN PORT.

The palatial yacht Aquilo arrived here today with H. F. Alexander, president of the Pacific Steamship Company, aboard. The yacht is owned jointly by Alexander and Col. D. C. Jackling, the copper magnate. Alexander came down from Seattle to attend the foreign trade conference at San Francisco, and concluded to continue the voyage to look after business interests in Los Angeles.

NOW HE'S CERTAIN DREAMS COME TRUE

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

RIVERSIDE, May 21.—After reporting to the police the theft of his treasure box containing $4000 in Liberty Bonds and $6000 in notes and certificates of stock, W. E. Burris of 155 Russell street today joyfully proclaimed the discovery of the box and contents in a haystack, in accordance with the direction he claims to have received in a dream. Burris instructed one of his farm hands to search for the box in a haystack near the residence. The box was found much as the owner dreamed it would be, the only articles missing being two watches and some gold pieces valued in all at about $75. The papers were intact.

FRESH-WATER SAILORS.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

VISALIA, May 21.—Capt. John Clark of Chicago and Capt. William H. Bonner of Detroit, both well-known men, are sojourning in this section. Both Capt. Clark and Capt. Bonner are well-known lake men, having sailed the Great Lakes for more than sixty years in the early sixties, Clark being the master of the schooner Eagle Wing and Bonner of the Flying Cloud. The two schooners raced from Chicago to Straits of Mackinaw, which was the most remarkable and most talked-of race of its time. No doubt some of the old-timers will recall the event. Capt. Clark won with his Eagle Wing and established a world record in sailing ships of fifteen knots an hour.

Both of the gentlemen are approaching their ninety-first birthday and are still young.

GOVERNMENT BALLOON FIRED BY LIGHTNING.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LOS ANGELES HARBOR, May 21.—A captive balloon belonging to the navy, and valued at $65,000, was totally destroyed at 4 o'clock this morning. The gas bag was anchored to one of the battleships in the outer harbor, and was struck by lightning and set afire during a freak thunderstorm. The balloon was one of two towed up from San Diego a few days ago to be used for observation in the long-range battleship practice. There was no one hurt, as the observation basket was empty during the night.

The rain supported the theory advanced by many that heavy firing causes precipitation. Yesterday the battleships were outside all day at target practice. It has been claimed that rainfall often followed heavy firing, whether true or not, weather conditions have been on the side of supporters of the theory on numerous occasions since the fleet came here.

The fleet was increased today by the arrival of the battleship Arkansas from Bremerton, in command of Rear-Admiral McKean. The Arkansas will make this her base hereafter, and Admiral McKean has taken up his residence at the Virginia Hotel at Long Beach.

The importance of the naval base at this port is now becoming manifest in business circles. The payroll has already reached nearly $250,000 per month, all of which goes to men stationed here. Besides this, there is a huge sum expended every month for supplies and rations.

BOARD FIRES TEACHER WHO REFUSES TO QUIT.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

ANAHEIM, May 21.—The board of trustees of the Anaheim grammar schools has passed a resolution annulling their contract with J. R. Abernathy as district superintendent of schools. The two members voting for his dismissal were William Chambers and George Sloop, the member voting against the resolution being L. F. Pomeroy.

The resolution states that he is being removed for cause, but makes no specific charges. Abernathy is still holding his position and refuses to vacate. Without question the matter will have to be settled in the courts.

PORTERVILLE, May 21.—It has been announced by Mr. Paul C. McAbee, manager of the Porterville cannery, that the plant would open full capacity just as soon as the apricots are ripe. He stated that a carload of sugar and a million and a half cans had been received for packing purposes.

MYSTERY SURROUNDS REDONDO SHOOTING.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

REDONDO BEACH, May 21.—Mystery surrounds the shooting of William Herman by an Italian, Anton Costa, which occurred on the beach here early this morning. Witnesses state that Herman was walking along the beach when Costa overtook him and without warning fired two shots, one going into the man's hip and he other entering his right side. Costa ran into the Redondo Hotel grounds where he was arrested by Policeman Fred N. Gardner and two young men, H. Shirley and John Webster.

Herman was taken to the County Hospital in Los Angeles after first aid treatment had been given by Dr. E. G. Butt. The injured man was conscious, but if he knew of any reason for the shooting he refused to give it, beyond the fact that he had seen Costa about a year ago and had an argument with him. Herman claimed that he knew nothing of the man and did not know where he lived.

Costa is being held by the police here. He asserted when questioned, "I know I am in for it, but I'm glad it's over, he has caused me anguish for over a year." He said he lived in Santa Ana and had come to Redondo Beach about three weeks ago. That the attempt was premeditated is the belief of the authorities as in addition to the revolver with which he did the shooting Costa carried an inch bolt of solid iron about a foot and one-half long, a long-bladed knife and a large pocket knife.

Herman has been a resident of Redondo Beach for some time and while he is well known along the water front, little could be found about him personally. He has no family and gave the name of a sister, Mrs. Margaret Pitts in Jacksonville, Ky., with the request that she be notified. His age is given as 50 years.

HELD FOR FORGERY.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

ONTARIO, May 21.—Arrested on a felony warrant, charging him with having forged the name of Henry Klarr, Prado district rancher, to a check for $40 on an Ontario bank and to have cashed it with a Corona merchant, Clarence Croft, aged 22, was this afternoon turned over to Riverside county authorities following his arrest at his home, 218 East Carleton street, by Officers W. O. Sardy and Arthur Axley.

SUFFERS BROKEN HIP.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

ONTARIO, May 21.—C. H. Goodro of 716 West California street is in a serious condition tonight at the San Antonio Hospital, suffering from a shattered left hip, sustained in an odd accident while employed with a house-moving crew on East I street. He was in the act of adjusting the drum on which the steel cable is wound when the steam roller pulling the house started up, causing the crank handle or sweep to be jerked from his hands and strike him on the thigh.

SIGN ARMISTICE OVER BENEFIT.

Legion Men Get Teutons to Change Their Program.

Play Off, but Concert Will be Given in English.

Affair Now Has Approval of Mayor, ex-Soldiers.

The American Legion and the Southern California Relief Committee, an organization of people of German and Austrian origin, have signed an armistice. The German-language play the committee was to have presented in Clune's Auditorium tomorrow afternoon for the benefit of German and Austrian women and children will not be given, but instead the committee will give an English-language concert at the same time and place. S. C. Hagen, secretary, and Carl Entemann, treasurer of the committee, announced the change in plans to Mayor Snyder yesterday. Then the protesting American Legion committee, headed by Walter Brinkop of Los Angeles Post, showed their good will by tossing $115.75 into the hat the Mayor passed for the fund.

The relief committee planned to present "The Golden Eva," a play in German by Franz von Schoenthan and Kippel-Elifeld. When the Legion heard of the plans it protested against the presentation of a play on such an occasion in a foreign language. The concert, the committee announced last night, has the full approval and permission of the Mayor and the Legion.

Although hastily arranged it will be a good one. The singing section of the Los Angeles School of Physical Training will supply a male chorus and the Los Angeles Festival Choir a mixed chorus. The complete list of soloists will be announced tomorrow morning. There will be a rehearsal at 1345 South Figueroa street tonight at 8 o'clock.

MAYOR ASKS ALL TO AID ITALIAN FETE.

Mayor Snyder yesterday gave out a statement asking that citizens cooperate in making a great success of the celebration to be held next Monday evening at Symphony Hall to mark the fifth anniversary of Italy's entrance into the World War. The Mayor said:

"Los Angeles numbers among her people many of Italian birth and blood, of whom we are justly proud. They have been leaders in our civic work and have proved themselves to be fine, patriotic citizens.

"The friendly spirit existing between our country and Italy should be encouraged in every way, and I urge the many Italian residents of Los Angeles and the American friends of Italy in our city to unite in making this an auspicious event."

"PONY BLIMP" PICTURES.

Pictures of the first flights of the Goodyear pony blimp, D-57, at Goodyear Balloon Field, south of old Ascot Park, are being shown this week at the Superba, Grauman's, California, Tally's and the Kinema theaters.

FILM SPARKLER WEDS.

LEOTA LORRAINE IS MARRIED TO KANSAS CAPITALIST.

By Grace Kingsley.

A romance which culminated in marriage has just come to light in the picture colony. The contracting parties are Leota Lorraine, lovely film actress, who has been playing leads in various pictures, and Bobby McLaine, a well-known and wealthy business man of Kansas City. The wedding took place last Monday night in Pasadena.

Miss Lorraine's home is in Kansas City. She journeyed back there for the holidays at Christmas time and it seems that when she returned to California Mr. McLaine soon followed. The courtship began with the merry Yuletide.

Mr. and Mrs. McLaine are living in this city, but Mrs. McLaine will not give up her screen career.

Fairbanks Honeymoon.

A delayed honeymoon is what Mary Pickford Fairbanks and Douglas Fairbanks are going to have during the trip on which they will embark early next week and in the course of which they will visit Holbrook, Ariz., and thence go on to New York.

The trip is merely one for pleasure and rest, says Mr. Fairbanks. Mrs. Fairbanks being especially in need of recreation and change. They feel that Holbrook, Ariz., is a place far from the madding crowd. Later on they look forward to seeing all the New York plays. Also, it is likely they will buy some new stories for screen production. The happy pair will be gone only a few weeks.

The two stars were scheduled to appear in the all-star cast of "Arizona," to be given June 3, 4 and 5 at Clune's Auditorium, but this trip will preclude the possibility of their taking part.

Mary Haye Engaged.

The death of Clarine Seymour has made it necessary for many of the scenes in which she appeared in D. W. Griffith's picturization of "Way Down East" to be retaken. Mary Haye, a very lovely young woman of the Follies, has been engaged to play the role Miss Seymour had.

Eileen Percy's First.

Eileen Percy's first picture as a Fox star will be staged by Howard M. Mitchell, who has directed Shirley Mason in her last three films. Miss Percy's first vehicle will be "Myra Meets His Family," a Saturday Evening Post story. Work on the feature will commence next week.

New Lesser Enterprise.

Articles of incorporation were filed this week for a new distributing organization to be known as the Educational Film Exchange of Southern California. Sol Lesser and the Gore Brothers are interested in the enterprise and Dave Bershon, general manager of the First National exchange, will have supervision.

The company will handle for Southern California and Arizona the Christie comedies, the Chester Outing pictures, the Chester screenics, the Educational Films and a number of other short-reel comedies, travelogues and scenics.

All-Star Benefit Cast.

The cast for the production of "Arizona," to be given as a benefit for the Hollywood Post of the American Legion at Clune's Auditorium, June 3, 4 and 5, is now complete. Following is the list of roles and players, the latter including some of the most famous names in the film world. There have been a few changes since the previous announcement.

Dustin Farnum will play Denton; Hobart Bosworth will be Col. Bonham, Ethel Clayton will be Estelle; Theodore Roberts, Henry Canby; William Desmond, Tony Mascano; Bessie Barriscale, Bonita; Lewis S. Stone, Sergt. Keller; Roscoe Arbuckle, the doctor; Sessue Hayakawa, Sam the Chinaman; Gloria Swanson, the schoolma'am; Wanda Hawley, Lena; Lydia Yeamans Titus, Mrs. Canby; Milton Sills, Capt. Hodgeman, and Bryant Washburn, lieutenant.

A large orchestra has already begun rehearsals of special music for the production under direction of Sergt. Max Fisher; special electrical effects will be prepared by Sergt. Frank F. Vecker, and scenery and sets are being arranged under direction of Lieut. Tom Forman and Sergts. D. A. McClish, G. H. Hall and Casey Cuthbert. Other members of the production staff are Capt. Walter Long, managing director; Sergt. Gene Lowry, in charge of the box office.

Rehearsals are progressing at the home of Theodore Roberts, who is acting as stage director, having the original script sent by Augustus Thomas.

MacDonald Production Cast.

Sam Rork, president of the Katherine MacDonald Pictures Corporation, has just announced the personnel of the cast of Rita Weiman's story, "Curtain." Included in support of Miss MacDonald are Charles Richman, Lloyd Whitlock, Wilton Taylor, Florence Deshon. James Young will direct.

Florence Deshon Engaged.

Florence Deshon has been engaged by Fox for the leading role with William Russell in a film version of Ridgewell Cullum's story, "Twins of Suffering Creek."

Miss De la Motte Loaned.

Marguerite de la Motte, who has signed a long-term contract with Benjamin B. Hampton, has been loaned to the Vitagraph for one picture, and will go to New York this week for a few scenes of eastern locale.

NOTED DUFFIL CASE REVIVED.

Three Suits Growing Out of Will Fight Are Tried.

First Wife of Son and Heir Awarded Handsome Sum.

Forbidden Marriage, Battle Over Trust Recalled.

Three suits involving the specific performance of a trust, the interpretation of a trust and a settlement of an account were on trial before Judge Works yesterday, reviving the noted Duffil case.

When Eugenia A. Duffil died, leaving an estate valued at $1,500,000, a clause in her will declared that if her son, Harry Duffil, married Mrs. Alice McNamara his share in the estate should be materially reduced.

Harry Duffil agreed with his first wife, Martha Duffil, to give her one-fourth of all the property he should receive from his mother. He got a divorce and, despite his mother's prohibition, married Mrs. McNamara. A controversy arose over the trust created under the will. The estate was not distributed to Harry Duffil and the income piled up until it approximated $240,000.

Martha Duffil claimed one-fourth under the agreement with Mr. Duffil. The question arose whether the property awaiting distribution was income or principal; in other words, whether she would get $60,000 outright or the property would go back into the estate.

Judge Works decided yesterday it was principal and that Martha Duffil should get her share of it.

Another suit created the question whether Martha Duffil should pay Hunsaker & Britt, attorneys for Harry Duffil in the memorable fight to break the trust, counsel fees, the Supreme Court having decided the trust inoperative. Judge Works held Martha Duffil should stand part of this expense from her interest because, through the legal fight, Harry Duffil had obtained for her a larger share than she would have otherwise received. The suits were brought by the Los Angeles Title and Insurance Company. The attorneys represented were J. P. Sex and Kemp, Mitchell & Silberberg. Mattison B. Jones, Hunsaker, Britt & Cosgrove, and Mitchell, Mulford & Dryer.

CARVED OWN CAREER.

Now Wife Won't Return, Film Actor Says; Divorce Is Granted.

Hugh Ryan Conway, known as Jack Conway in motion-picture circles, declared in divorce proceedings in Judge Crail's court yesterday that his wife, Viola Barry, now in New York, started her own career as a film actress when he told her he was not able to place her as leading women in his own production. Later he said he talked over with her about returning to him and she declared she wanted to continue her career.

Mr. Conway was granted a divorce and the custody of a minor child. A property settlement was effected out of court under which Mr. Conway agrees to pay his wife $200 a month for a year. The couple were married Jan. 29, 1911, and separated Feb. 6, 1917.

NEGRO JUROR ACCUSED.

William Goodwin Held to Answer for Accepting Money.

William Goodwin, a negro cement contractor of 3710 Mercury street, was held to answer yesterday by Justice Summerfield on a charge of receiving and agreeing to receive a bribe from George M. Towles. Bail was fixed at $3000, in default of which Goodwin was lodged in the County Jail. Goodwin, while a juror in the trial of Oliver M. Towles, cwharged with manslaughter, was accused of accepting $75 from George Towles, a brother of the defendant, to influence the verdict in the case.

WOMAN IN SEA END?

Clothing and Note Found at Venice Bath-house Suggest Suicide.

Venice police are investigating what they believe to be a suicide following the finding of an unidentified woman's clothing in one of the dressing rooms of the bath-house last night with the following note:

"Dear Jerry, Please forgive this rash act—

"Lovingly, "CLARE."

Several imitation diamond rings and $1.50 were also found in a safety-deposit box. The clothing was discovered when attendants were cleaning out the rooms about 9:45 p.m. Nothing was found that would serve to establish the woman's identity nor to show what time she had entered the establishment.

CONTESTED WILL PROBATED.

Judge Stephens yesterday admitted to probate the will of John R. Cox of this city, under the terms of which he bequeathed $500 each to the Garvanza Congregational Church, the Y.M.C.A., the Masonic Home at Covina and the Pacific Chapter, No. 198, O.E.S., and the residue to his niece, Miss Nettie Emerson. The estate was valued at $2300. Mollie Calhoun of Seattle, a niece, contested the will.

INCORPORATIONS BREAK RECORD.

Nine Companies With Ten Million Dollars File Articles.

More than $10,000,000 worth of new corporations filed articles of incorporation at the County Courthouse yesterday. This huge sum represents the combined capital stocks of nine different companies. Of this amount $2,004,613 has been actually subscribed. This makes a record that has not been equaled in this county for years, if at all.

WASHINGTON PARK— BASEBALL, TODAY
Los Angeles vs. Seattle
Game Called at 2:30 P. M.

Seraphs Take a Turn at Winning and Defeat Seattle; South Prevails Over North at Golf

ANGELS SNATCH SLIPPERY GAME.

Manage to Dent Winning Streak of Siwashes.

Snake Ball Game from Fire in Last of Ninth.

Overdue April Showers Slow Up the Proceedings.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

The Angels step higher where playing in the slush than they do on a sun-kissed field. In a contest containing liquid streaks, gobs of mud and goofey plays they finally wrested a victory from the Siwashes, 7 to 6.

But as it took a wild pitch by Lefty Schoer in the ninth to turn the trick, not much bragging is being done in local sporting circles.

There were a number of occasions when it seemed that the slimy game might wriggle from the clutch of Killefer's athletes, and notably in the final round, when Seattle overcame a four-run lead and tied the count.

The argument, which originally was between Geary and Keating ended in a maze of left-handed stuff with Thomas and Scherr shooting with the southpaw.

KNOTTED IN FOURTH.

Seattle knotted the score in the fourth, and it hung on a two-all basis until the seventh, when Geary, suffering from bad support, was soaked for four runs. The visitors picked up a run in the eighth, and tied it with a three-run outburst in the ninth. In this round, Keating was dusted off, technically speaking, that is, he would haveb een dusted off had there been any dust on the diamond. As it was Keating walked from the field with large gobs of mud clinging to his heels.

However, outside of a splash of wildness, due to the slippery condition of the pill, Keating hardly could be held responsible for this ninth-inning jam. There was one muddy boot, and several foggy plays in his rear.

GEARY STEADIES.

Geary steadied after the seventh-inning lacing, but was deleted in the ninth for a pinch-hitter. Thus Schorr got in just in time to get charged with defeat. The new pitcher walked McAuley, who reached third on a sacrifice and an out, Schorr, making a supreme effort to throw Sam Crawford something he couldn't hit, pitched the ball to the grand stand and Jimmy counted.

April showers, twenty-one days overdue, made the track heavy and the suction of human hoofs being withdrawn from the mud as the athletes ran, mingled with other strange sounds, including a kid in the grand stand, who chattered like a baby monkey, and a bloke with leather bellows, who made a noise like a Par's siren announcing an air raid. By the fourth it was raining

MRS. KENNETT WINS FINALS.

Defeats Mrs. Roos for State Championship in Golf Tourney.

BY PAUL LOWRY.

It was the south against the north yesterday in the finals of the women's State golf championship over the green fairways of the Los Angeles Country Club, and the south won.

Playing with the same stroke and nerve that characterized her matches in the early rounds, Mrs. Luther Kennett, of the Coronado Country Club defeated Mrs. C. A. Roos of Beresford, 4 up and 3 to play.

That the northerner was unable to carry the match farther than the fifteenth green was due entirely to a notable lack of steadiness on her part. Mrs. Roos went to pieces at critical moments and failed to hole out almost unmissable putts that would have either halved or won certain holes for her.

PACE IS SWIFT.

While Mrs. Kennett did not display the brilliance of which she is capable at times, the pace she set from green to tee was too swift for Mrs. Roos to follow.

By her victory Mrs. Kennett added further laurels to her already illustrious record. The Coronado golfer is a five-time winner of the Southern California title, having achieved that distinction by defeating Miss Doreen Kavanaugh over the Annandale links recently.

Mrs. Kennett succeeds to the title held for the past two years by Mrs. Hubert Law of San Francisco. Mrs. Law won the honors in 1917 over the same links where Mrs. Kennett yesterday pinnacled to the heights, defeating Miss Edith Chessebrough, 3 and 1. Last year she nosed out Mrs. Roos, 1 up, on the twentieth hole at Del Monte.

WAS NORTH'S BEST.

Mrs. Law came south with a contingent of ten other Northern California women to play in the titular tourney, but on the advice of her physician withdrew at the last moment. This left Miss Chessebrough as the north's best representative and she fell heir to the "take-a-chance" skill of little Miss Margaret Cameron, 1 up at the nineteenth, in the second round.

That Mrs. Law could have defeated Mrs. Kennett is doubtful. She might have made the going a little tougher for the Coronadoan, but the latter turned loose with such a display throughout the week that it left might little room for the San Franciscan to build eventual victory.

According to deep dyed-in-the-wool golf critics, such as J. Duncan Dunn, the L.A.C.C. pro., Mrs. Kennett's victory may be considered in the light of a triumph for the exponents of the natural grip on the other hand the overlapping grip artists, as championed by Mrs. Roos and descendants of Harry Vardon, the British wizard, are distinctly routed.

LINKS HIT SLOW.

The match was played under depressing skies that threatened to leak at any moment. The links were a bit slow, due to the moisture absorbed from the previous night's freshet.

The rivals for premier honors of the State started out very evenly, halving the first two holes. Mrs. Kennett won the third and fourth, and began to evince her superiority in approaching and putting. In the matter of tee shots the pair were about equal throughout the bout.

Mrs. Roos won the fifth hole, her first of the tilt, by sinking a five. Mrs. Kennett took six, and was one up. This lead she increased to two by annexing the sixth. The seventh was halved.

ARRIVES AT TURN.

Winning the eighth and losing the ninth Mrs. Kennett arrived at the turn in 43 and two up. Mrs. Roos had 51.

The tenth hole was halved, Mrs. Kennett won the short eleventh, and the twelfth was halved, as was the thirteenth. The fourteenth went to Mrs. Kennett and the match was over on the next green when the best the north's representative could do was to halve the hole in 5. Mrs. Kennett played 77 strokes to Mrs. Roos's 83 in the course of the morning's combat.

The afternoon was devoted to mixed foursomes. Mrs. Kennett and Dr. Paul Hunter turned in the best gross score—an 83, and Mal. and Mrs. D. G. King had the best net with 96-20-76.

In the finals of the defeated eight of the championship flight Mrs. Van Dyke defeated Mrs. Kennett 1 up (19 holes.)

FAN FAINTS WHEN OAKS SMASH PILL.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, May 21. — One fan fainted in the stand, presumably from the sight of the fearful carnage, when Oakland completed the last rally in the eighth inning and made certain a 13-to-6 victory over Sacramento here today. Del Howard's players drove two of Sacramento's pitchers off the mound and had the third well on the way to the showers when the game ended.

Pat Ragan, hurling for Oakland, became wild in the seventh and was replaced by Kremer. The score:

VERNONS LOSE IN A DRIZZLING RAIN.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SALT LAKE, May 21.—Salt Lake won from Vernon 9 to 5 today in a drizzling rain. In the fifth inning bunched hits and three walks by Houck netted Salt Lake five runs and in the seventh Sheely knocked a homer with two men on. DeVormer, Tiger catcher, was ordered out of the game in the seventh by Umpire Phyle, who alleged he threw sawdust in his eyes. The score:

FRESHMEN CREWS TO CLASH TODAY.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SEATTLE (Wash.) May 21.—Varsity and freshmen crews of the University of Washington and the University of California meet on Lake Washington here at 4:30 tomorrow afternoon. Both varsity teams spent today working over the three-mile course and rowing authorities predicted a close finish. California's shell, sport writers say, has displayed the best form, while the Washington boat appears to have the most power.

FRENCH ATHLETES IN OLYMPIC TRYOUTS.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

STRASBOURG (France) May 21.—More than 1000 athletes from all parts of France will compete in the second of a series of French Olympic tryouts here Sunday and Monday. The contestants represent the winners of preliminary trials held in the chief cities and colonies of France during the last few months.

ENGLISH GOVERNMENT SANCTIONS TEAM.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, May 21.—Government recognition of the British Olympic committee's efforts to secure a representative team to compete in the Olympic games at Antwerp has been made by the appointment of a House of Commons committee to assist in the work.

It is expected the British team will number at least 250 athletes.

MAJOR LEAGUE RESULTS.

SPEAKER'S HOME RUN WINS FOR CLEVELAND.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PHILADELPHIA, May 21.—Four home runs during today's victory of Cleveland over Philadelphia ran the week's total of four-base hits in the local park to thirteen, a record for five days' playing. Walker, playing for Philadelphia, made three of the thirteen.

Philadelphia bunched hits off Caldwell and took the lead in the first inning, but Smith's homer in the second tied the score, and Speaker's home run in the third scored two runners ahead of him and decided the game. The score:

SEALS DOWN DUCKS BY FANCY BAT WORK.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, May 21. — Plain and fancy bat work by San Francisco today beat Portland, 5 to 1. Willie Kamm drove in two runs in the second with a single. The Beavers' lone run came in the seventh, when Schick misjudged Koehler's high fly and it went for three bases. Kingdon hit to Corhan, whose throw to the plate was fumbled by Agnew, Koehler scoring. Love retired in the seventh inning with a sore arm. The Seals tallied again in the third and twice in the fourth. The score:

REROUTING ON PROBATION.

Investigations of Street Car Complaints Under Way; Changes in Prospect.

The Board of Public Utilities has ordered a complete investigation of each and every complaint received from citizens regarding the effects of the rerouting of street cars. Members of the board say they will order the Los Angeles Railway to make the changes recommended by Chief Engineer Osborne, as a result of such investigations. Already several alterations have been made in the rerouting.

Now under investigation are several complaints from patrons of the La Salle-avenue line. W. J. Washburn of 2200 Harvard Boulevard writes the board:

"The shuttle car on La Salle avenue is not patronized, as I informed you would be the case. People generally prefer the lesser inconvenience of walking rather than experiencing the trouble and delay of a change of cars, and I suppose we shall soon see the service abandoned, as previously announced.

"I believe that your board is taking an entirely wrong view of the matter. It is stated that the road does not pay, but this can also be said of all other terminals, and if there is any justification for the abandonment of this line, I can see no reason why the service on a half mile or so of every other line should not also be discontinued and let the people walk the rest of the way. That would also benefit the company.

"I cannot, however, see the logic of your position. These various lines have been built under franchises and many times with the addition of a bonus from the property owners, as was the case in this instance. It is true, I suppose, that the earnings have decreased since then, but I submit that it is entirely wrong to deprive a portion of the citizens of their transportation that the other portion of the railroad shall be the gainer. If the rates are not sufficient to maintain the established service, increase them and give everyone a fair deal."

R. D. Richard of 2208 Western avenue has also complained to the board about the operation of the shuttle car at the end of the La Salle-avenue line, and both complaints are being investigated and a report will be made to the board.

TO SLICE AWAY HILL BARRIER.

As City Council Orders Widening of Fifth Street, Club Women File Protest.

Steps taken by the city to cut through Normal Hill by a condemnation ordinance providing for the widening of Fifth street from Grand avenue to Boylston street were protested yesterday by the directors of the Friday Morning Club in a resolution forwarded to the City Council by Mrs. A. Shepard Barnum, president. The resolutions state that the city bought the land to use for educational and cultural purposes and that the plan proposed will spoil the property.

ANGELS SNATCH SLIPPERY GAME.

so rapidly that the gates to the grand stand were magnanimously opened and the bleacher goats admitted. The crowd looked better when bunched in this manner.

AIREDALE MINGLES.

A meat hound is believed to have worried the Siwashes into defeat. During the game an unattached airedale entered the arena and went out to mingle with the Siwashes, who were trying to play ball. It was a brainy animal and never approached quite close enough to an athlete to be trapped. The game was halted lest the dog get between the feet of some athlete in a crisis. Finally, the stand was paged for the dog catcher, but he wasn't present, and nobody else volunteered to go out and spear the canine.

Wares seemed inclined to let the game proceed, but the Angels protested against Seattle playing a dog in the outfield, especially as the animal was keen for chasing the ball. Noting this trait, Wares expectorated on the ball, called the dog's attention to what he had done and then rolled the ball into the pit. The meat hound, mistaking the ball for a dog biscuit with saliva flavoring, pursued it into the pit and was captured alive.

FORGETS BABY.

The game was exciting, and left one lady in such a dazed condition, that she walked out of the park without taking her baby. The anguished yelps of the kid reminded her that she must have forgotten something, so she went back and retrieved it with her hands.

A brace of errors by Zamlock, and a group of singles by Griggs, Crawford and Bassler gave the Angels four in the seventh. And at the start of the ninth, three to the good, the bugs were offering as high as $10 to an empty tomato can that they would cop. That's how good the Angels looked. Then things unforeseen and unsuspected began to happen. Adams, leading off, drilled one at Crandall. The pill adhered closely to the ground for a time, and then jerked itself loose from the mud so violently that Crandall didn't lay a finger on it.

Adams went to second, where he was relieved by Siebold, who was better fitted to the landscape as he wears scows on his feet. Kenworthy, batting for Geary, took a walk, despite the condition of the weather. Bassler strangled a foul by Wares for the second out. Kopp was passed, loading the water-logged sacks.

HITS FAST ONE.

Keating spanked Bohne with a fast one, forcing Siebold across the platter. Thomas relieved Keating. Wolter grounded to McAuley. Jimmy lost the precious fraction of a second looking for Crandall. Seeing that it was up to him to make the play unassisted at the keystone sack, he toed second, forcing Bohne, and whipped to first. But Harry had the base tied. Kenworthy scored on the play, leaving Kopp at third and Wolter on first.

Both runners started as the sign for the double steal was flashed. Bassler pegged through to McAuley. Jimmy chased Wolter back a couple of yards, and then made a throw home which was late and pulled Bassler up in the air. Kopp furrowed his way through the mud with the tieing run. Eldred out, Niehoff to Griggs.

Right after this, Schoor liberated us from the general mess with a wild pitch, for which praise be given. The score:

LOST GIRL GLAD SHE IS GOING BACK HOME.

In the custody of Capt. Grant Williams, a private detective of New York City, Henrietta Bulte, 15-year-old New York girl, who was located in this city several days ago after having been missing from her home since the 12th of last month, left this city for the East yesterday morning. The child stated just before leaving Juvenile Hall, where she was confined after being found working as a maid here, that she was glad to return to her home.

WOULD ABOLISH CITY MARKETS

Council Stops Appointment of New Superintendent.

Declares System is Failure; May Create a New Job.

Capt. Brinkop to be Named for Fire Commission.

The City Council yesterday held up the appointment by Mayor Snyder of Maj. Sterling S. Boothe to be Superintendent of Municipal Markets. The Council held that the position should be abolished and that the city markets should be done away with, as a failure.

Twelve of these markets were established in 1913, and the number has dwindled until there are now but three, one at Fourth and Breed streets, one at Forty-eighth street and Vermont avenue, and the third at Cahuenga and Selma streets, Hollywood.

Investigation shows that neither the farmers nor buyers patronize the markets.

The Mayor believes that the position should be retained under the title of inspector of foods and markets, and that the inspector should have the power to work to stamp out food hoarding, by investigating and making public the amount of food held in storage and the prices charged in local privately-owned markets, and should prosecute profiteers. The Council will consider the Mayor's suggestion, and in the meantime action on Maj. Boothe's appointment is held up. In case the new position is created and the old one abolished, Maj. Boothe will be appointed to the new place.

The Mayor announced yesterday that Walter Brinkop, who was a captain of the Three Hundred and Sixty-first Infantry during the war, will be appointed to succeed Maj. Boothe as a member of the Fire Commission. Capt. Brinkop is chairman of the Los Angeles Post of the American Legion.

S.P.C.A. "ARRESTED."

Charge of Doing Business Without License will be Fought.

Charged with operating a business without a city license, the Los Angeles Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals was arrested yesterday by Warrant Officer Ditzen and taken into police court. Anyway, that is what the court records show, and the society will have to appear for trial on June 3.

What did happen was the arrest of a representative of the society on the charge of operating a business without a license. Police Judge Frederickson heard a plea of not guilty, and set June 3 as the date for trial.

LOSES WIFE, SEEKS COIN.

Joy Rides and Cafe Visits Figure in Los Love Suit.

Claiming that Ray E. Duff alienated the affections of his wife, Hazel B. Ellis, Richard Ellis yesterday filed suit for $25,000 damages through Attorney F. H. Luth. The complaint states that Mr. and Mrs. Ellis were living happily together until the defendant gained her affections and caused her to leave home and disregard her husband. Mr. Ellis says Mr. Duff took Mrs. Ellis to cafes and on auto rides. It is charged she remained away from home several nights.

COUNCIL IS ASKED TO ATTEND MEMORIAL.

The members of the City Council were yesterday invited to attend the G.A.R. Memorial Day exercises to be held at the Bible Institute auditorium at 2 o'clock on Monday afternoon, May 31. R. M. Crouch is chairman of the G.A.R. General Committee, which is arranging the exercises.

PEYCKES DIVORCED.

Noted Musician Testifies in Support of Father's Suit.

Edmund Peycke was granted a divorce from Christine Peycke by Judge Taft yesterday. Freda Peycke, noted musician and composer, was a witness for her father, telling of her efforts to effect a reconciliation and the apparent hopelessness of bringing her parents together.

Judge Taft, commenting on the case, said that Mrs. Peycke had been liberally provided for by her husband but that she held to the belief that her family and the world had conspired against her. Since the litigation started, Mr. Peycke has become totally blind.

JEWS TO CELEBRATE.

Plans are being formulated for the celebrating June 21 of the restoration of Palestine to the Jews. The celebrating on June 21 the restorposition Park in the afternoon, following a parade through the city streets. Details of the program have not yet been arranged.

Buttonlath

—A Perfect Bond for Plaster—

Fire Resistant-Prevents Plaster Cracks

Never before have builders shown greater discrimination and care in the selection of material for their structures.

They demand the very best construction consistent with lowest possible costs.

The unusually large and rapidly growing demand for BUTTONLATH is satisfying proof of its superior advantages as a modern, economical lathing material of durable quality. BUTTONLATH possesses a positive mechanical bond that prevents checking and plaster cracks, is fireproof, a perfect sound deadener and an insulator against both heat and cold.

BUTTONLATH saves time, labor and plaster, and has advantages no other plaster base can offer. It may be imitated, but never equaled. When you build specify BUTTONLATH.

Slaves to Custom Pay the Penalty

The laws of nature are unalterable and unavoidable—break them and YOU pay the penalty.

Abnormally crowding the feet, and barbarously pinching the toes into pointed shoes with their senseless high heels is cruel.

Impoverished circulation and distorted feet are the direct result of incorrectly shaped and faulty-fitting shoes.

Constant jarring while walking, with excessive pressure on sensitive nerves, produces a continuous shock to the entire nervous system which affects every part of the body.

Ground Gripper Shoes support the feet as nature intended—no crowded toes, no falling of arches, and no undue restraint of circulation, or constrained muscles and nerves.

New Desert Oil Field? Hay is Scarce; Bargains in Bonds.

BY CHAPIN HALL.

A new crop of oil millionaires is incubating in the Hall of Records, where sixty county employees, most of whom are connected with the road department, have taken over four sections of desert land in San Bernardino county, eighteen miles west of Barstow. The father of the movement is Ralph F. Beegan, right of way agent for Los Angeles county, who says that he has the most optimistic reports on the property from geologists and is firmly of the opinion that a profitable oil pocket will be developed at approximately 1900 feet.

One of the sections will probably be leased, Beegan says, in a short time, and active drilling operations commenced within six months. Twelve wells are projected in the immediate vicinity by the Hiawatha Drilling Company and the Kramer Consolidated Oil Company, has a well a short distance away which has made a showing, the oil running 38 gravity, with paraffine base.

The property was purchased outright from the Southern Pacific Railroad through the Title Insurance and Trust Company, and the purchasers have formed a co-partnership. Because of interests held by investors in Indiana the district has been named the Wabash oil field. It is on the line of the Santa Fe Railroad, and there is no stock offer connected with the operation.

The affairs of the partnership are administered by a board of five trustees of which Road Commissioner George W. Jones is chairman. The other members are William D. Armstrong, John C. Zeenhuyzen, Maj. Carl B. Wirsching of the road department and George H. Starbuck, who is a deputy county assessor.

Should the geologists prove correct in their deductions, a new and important development at a reasonable depth, and with excellent shipping facilities will result. The field as mapped is eighteen miles long by seven miles wide and the four sections controlled by the Los Angeles officials are almost in the geographical center.

Market Comment.

George M. Reynolds upon his return from Washington said the railroad tie-up is the crux of the whole situation, and with that out of the way money would ease off quickly. The immediate movement of piled up freight is necessary to reduce price levels and relieve the strain of the nation's credit.

Closely following this interview comes a statement that reports to the Interstate Commerce Commission show a rapid return to normal traffic, and priority movement of empty cars is fast relieving the congestion.

It is reported that $40,000,000 in gold is en route from London to New York.

Twenty industrials sold yesterday at an average price of 88.16, an increase of 0.80 per cent. Twenty rails 70.23, an increase of 0.23 per cent.

The market was irregular and nervous with sentiment very much mixed.

Judge Gary denies the report that he intends to reduce wages 20 per cent.

A report is current that the Federal Reserve Board will request banks not to call old loans secured by Liberty Bonds.

Time to Buy Bonds.

The local representatives of the Harris Trust and Savings Bank have been advised by the syndicate managers of the recent $5,000,000 bond issue of the Southern California Edison Company that more than $3,000,000 of the issue has been placed with the investing public. In this connection a statement made recently by the president of one of the largest savings banks of New York is of interest: "I shall miss my guess unless within ten years we all look back upon this year of 1920 and wonder why we did not sell the roofs over our heads and invest the proceeds in gilt-edged securities yielding over 7 per cent."

Experienced bond men have repeatedly pointed out that by the purchase of relatively temporary securities, the investor overlooks the fact that five years hence he must reinvest his money at lower interest rates. "If at the time the short term piece matures," says a well-known financial publication, "the investing market is on a 1 per cent lower basis, the bond buyer has lost his golden opportunity to make a permanent investment, at present prices, which are unprecedentedly low."

"The present investor," says another publication, "is attracted by high coupon rates. According to distributors they prefer a bond with a 7 per cent coupon, selling at par, to an equally good bond below par selling at a figure to yield even more than 7 per cent. As a matter of fact, the latter type of bond has the advantage, in the opinion of some bond men, of deferring the rate represented by the difference between the face value and the market price until a future date when possibly the income taxes will be lower and less will be taken away from the investor."

Jeffries Elected to Directorate.

W. P. Jeffries was elected to the board of directors of the Los Angeles Trust and Savings Bank yesterday. Mr. Jeffries is prominent in business and financial circles, being president of the lithographing and printing company bearing his name, and also president of the Angeles Mesa and Company, owners of Angeles Mesa.

Los Angeles Stocks.

The market was in better shape yesterday than it has been for some time. Especially encouraging was the improvement in Liberty and Victory Bond issues, which sold up a point and more over Thursday's close. The buying was heavy. Oils were stronger, industrials good, mines fair. The volume showed more active trading.

Food in Storage.

Los Angeles storage of eggs increased during the week ending May 19 from 54,713 cases to 60,915 cases, a decline of about 16,000 cases over the corresponding week in 1919. Butter also showed a heavy increase, current storage being 228,259 pounds, against 184,533 pounds a week ago and 114,870 pounds last year. Cheese declined from 308,162 a week ago to 269,161 pounds. Last year at this date there were 307,029 pounds on hand. The apple storage is practically steady at 75,541 boxes, compared with 71,060 boxes in 1919. Potatoes show heavy losses, both for the week and year. There are only 8110 sacks of spuds in cache, 7730 sacks less than the preceding week, while for the corresponding date in 1919 there were 84,810 sacks. Onions are weak and the supply nominal, 110 sacks. This compares with 125 sacks a week ago and seventy sacks in 1919.

The Hay Market.

Receipts of alfalfa this week show no material increase, and are remarkably light for the season. At the offices of the Alfalfa Growers of California it was said yesterday that it is becoming more and more apparent that important changes in the line-up of production and distribution are apt to materially affect the supply available for shipment to the central consuming markets.

There has been a net decrease in acreage in favor of other crops, and this together with shortage of water for irrigation, and the use of more hay for dairying purposes is likely to have a marked effect upon the price.

The first cutting is practically sold, and there is a question whether the remaining cuttings from the reduced acreage, and a probably lighter yield, will furnish sufficient hay to supply local demands. Adjoining States, which have been dependent upon to make up a California shortage, are worse off than we are, and the situation all around is serious.

San Francisco buyers have recently been making offers for second cutting around $30 per ton f.o.b. shipping point. Southern California conditions are improving daily in regard to condition of hay received, the demand and price. Choice alfalfa was quoted yesterday at $38 per ton; No. 1 dairy alfalfa, $34 per ton; standard alfalfa, $30 per ton, and stock alfalfa, $27.50 per ton.

Credit Men Elect Officers.

J. A. Cattell has been elected president of the Los Angeles Credit Men's Association, in place of Frank W. Black, who retires at the end of a successful term, during which the association has had a fine growth. Other officers chosen are: R. L. McCourt, first vice-president; F. St. Spaun, second vice-president; Jay Spence, treasurer; F. W. Black, F. M. Couch, W. W. Grether, H. S. Botsford, directors for two years; C. W. Fernholtz, A. C. Jones, directors for one year; F. W. Black, J. A. Cattell, F. M. Couch, A. J. Goldwater, F. B. McComas and E. L. Ide, delegates to attend the convention of the National Association of Credit Men, to be held at Atlantic City, June 1 to 5. The association will also be represented at this convention by H. W. Louis and A. P. Stepan, who will be in the East at that time. The party leaves here for Atlantic City May 23, with scheduled stops at New Orleans, Washington and Philadelphia.

Tide is Turning.

In Gibson's current monthly forecast, appears a note of bullishness for the first time in months. Upon analysis, Gibson takes the stand that the general economic condition is

MAY COTTON DOWN 393 POINTS AT NEW YORK.

HEAVY LIQUIDATION; BREAK IN LIVERPOOL CAUSES SHARP DECLINE.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, May 21.—The feature of the local cotton market today was the heavy liquidation which occurred among some of the largest spot and trade houses, together with further selling by the recent bull element among the local and Wall-street traders. Nothing very important developed until toward the end of the second hour. Although prices had gone off before that time 40 to 50 points from the selling shorts referred to following another sharp break in the Liverpool market and cables reporting a collapse in cotton contract prices for Egyptian cotton on the Alexandria market, it was not until somebody with a belated long interest in May contracts to liquidate tried to sell them before the trading in May absolutely ceased under the rules at 12 o'clock sharp this forenoon. The incident of a drop of 395 points to be exact, in May contracts from the early high level of 42% cents to 38.90 cents with the market dropping to that level from 42 cents in 15 last half hour however, cannot so much comment it started fresh liquidation in the whole list.

The last price of May was 38.80 cents at 12 o'clock against 42.98 cents its high record, reached at the opening of the market on Wednesday and 41¼ cents prior to that on April 17. Brokers representing the largest spot houses in the trade sold it down. Shortly after that a small class of southern liquidation orders came in and also a lot of fresh hedge selling.

PRODUCE IS WEAK; DEMAND SLUGGISH.

PRICES DECLINE FOR SOME OF LEADING LINES; OLD POTATOES FIRM.

A weak undertone developed on the local produce market yesterday for all lines of offerings, despite the fact that receipts were very small. Comparatively few farmers appeared on the market on account of the rain, and the arrivals by rail were limited as to quantity and variety. Throughout the session the buying demand was dull, and prices showed a general downward trend. Old potatoes, which advanced 50 cents to $1 per hundred on Thursday, were unchanged, however, although there was little evidence of any buying interest at the higher level. New potatoes remained firm and unchanged. The only commodity to advance yesterday was Imperial Valley tomatoes, which moved up 25 to 50 cents per crate, best stock selling to retailers as high as $2.50 per crate. Supplies were were fairly liberal, but all offerings were readily absorbed by retailers and peddlers.

Other lines were mostly weaker. Summer squash, local stock, declined 10 cents per lug box, although Imperial Valley stock held steady at the level of the preceding day. All varieties and grades of beans dropped 1 cent per pound, fancy wax beans bringing 7 cents per pound yesterday, and the best grades of Kentucky Wonders 9 cents per pound. Cherries and apricots were more liberal in supply, and prices for these commodities ruled slightly lower at the close. Fancy apricots declined 1 cent per pound, while cherries were 3 cents per pound cheaper for all grades. Cucumbers ruled weak and in poor demand at $1.50 to $1.75 per box, a decline of 25 cents per box. Eggplant slumped 5 cents per pound on account of lack of buying interest, and despite the fact that supplies were limited. Local lettuce ranged from 60 to 90 cents per crate yesterday, as compared with the preceding day's range of 60 to 90 cents per crate.

In the shipping market, cabbage and new onions were practically unchanged at the level of the preceding day. Cabbage however, was in better demand, and the market ruled slightly stronger, although the majority of sales were made at about the level of Thursday's market.

JULY CORN COLLAPSES ON SELLING MOVEMENT

ALL GRAINS DECLINE ON HEAVY PRESSURE BY RIORDAN INTERESTS.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, May 21.—The grain markets collapsed in the last ten minutes of trading today after being weak with a few rallies during the day.

An avalanche of selling was on from start to finish, especially at the last. The semi-demoralization at the finish was due to selling of a large line of the Riordan interests, which caused corn weak and carried prices down faster than it was possible to keep track of.

July corn led the break with a decline of 13¼ cents from the close of Thursday while May was off 9 cents and September 7¾ cents. There were sales of July as low as 81.57½, around the close, although $1.58 was the lowest official price.

All grains slid off with corn, oats losing 2¾ to 6¼ cents with July leading. Rye was panicky and lost 14¼ to 16¾ cents and barley 4½ to 7 cents. There was no good support to any of the markets throughout the day the main buying coming from profit-taking by shorts and buying against bids, the latter paying large premiums where they were held at the last.

The range:

	Open.	High.	Low.	Close.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, May 21.—Wall street was in a more cheerful frame of mind today, this feeling finding definite expression in a recovery of prices, even the mercurial issues participating to an appreciable extent.

Virtual resumption by the government of control of the country's transportation systems as a means of relieving the protracted and harassing freight blockade and, a spirited rally in Liberty Bonds and Victory notes from their acute depression constituted the outstanding factors.

It was commonly believed that purchases by the Treasury Department contributed measurably towards today's rebound of war flotations, but bond dealers ascribed much of the buying to private investors attracted by the unusually high interest returns.

General credit and monetary conditions manifested no symptoms of relaxing from their high tension, but from various quarters came further assurances that the "period of readjustment" had already borne fruit. Considerable call money was loaned at 7 per cent.

The price-cutting campaign proceeded with unabated vigor, according to reports received by foremost financial and mercantile interests and the effect of this increased deflation is expected to strengthen the bank positions at centers where reserves recently have shown greatest declines.

In stock market rails of all descriptions made extreme gains of one to two points, steels and equipments one to three and oils, leathers and sundry specialties one to four. In most instances, however, these were reduced at the close. Sugar, motor, textile, and shipping issues were under pressure. Sales amounted to 750,000 shares.

With one or two exceptions Liberty and Victory issues finished at top prices, net gains running from 1 per cent in the first 4's to 5.04 per cent in the fourth 4¼'s. Foreign issues also were higher, but the domestic list in general was irregular. Total sales, par value, aggregated $24,750,000. Old United States bonds were unchanged on call.

Bradstreet's Weekly Review of Trade.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, May 21.—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say:

"Events of the week have been many and varied and the word irregular only fairly describes the situation. Chief among the events have been further efforts to restrict credits and deflate the much-extended financial situation, the featuring of so-called cut-price sales at retail, the further cutting down of wholesale and jobbing business pending a clearer view of the effects on general merchandising of the retailers' efforts to reduce unwieldy stocks created by past free buying and bad weather, the active intervention of the Interstate Commerce Commission to break the strangling congestion on the country's transportation lines, further liquidation of securities, especially bonds, for which it is demonstrated there exists a demand, and finally a rather better crop situation which needs only good weather to become a fair to good prospect. Weekly bank clearings: $8,393,343,000."

Best Treatment for Catarrh S.S.S. Removes the Cause From the Blood.

Once you get your blood free from impurities—cleansed of the catarrhal poisons, which it is now a prey to because of its unhealthy state—then you will be relieved of Catarrh—the dripping in the throat, hawking and spitting, raw sores in the nostrils, and the disagreeable bad breath. It was caused in the first place because your impoverished blood was easily infected. Possibly a slight cold or contact with someone who had a cold. But the point is—don't suffer with Catarrh—it is not necessary. The remedy, S. S. S., discovered over fifty years ago, tested, true and tried, is obtainable at any drug store. It has proven its value in thousands of cases. It will do so in your case. Get S. S. S. at once and begin treatment. If yours is a long-standing case, be sure to write for free expert medical advice. We will tell you how this purely vegetable blood remedy cleanses the impurities from the blood by literally washing it clean. We will prove to you that thousands of sufferers from Catarrh, after consistent treatment with S. S. S., have been freed from the trouble and all its disagreeable features. Don't delay the treatment. BUILDING A FAMILY

A poorly nourished family is a liability; a well nourished family is an asset—a self-sustaining, self-reliant defense against hunger and want. Shredded Wheat is the perfect food for children and grown-ups. Contains all the body-building elements in the whole wheat prepared in a digestible form. Two of these crisp little loaves of baked whole wheat with hot milk or cream for breakfast will make you fit for the day's work. Delicious with fruits.

INSULL TO HEAD LIGHT LEADERS.

National Association Will Elect Officers Today.

Much Gayety Marks Closing Hours of Convention.

Film Stars and Forty-nine Camp Top Off the Fun.

The forty-third convention of the National Electric Light Association will close at the Hotel Huntington this noon, following the annual election of officers. First Vice-President Martin J. Insull of the Middle West Utilities Company, Chicago, will be the next president, it was freely predicted last night. M. R. Bump and Frank W. Smith of New York and Walter H. Johnson of Philadelphia, now the second, third and fourth vice-presidents, are slated to move up one point at today's election.

Fifteen of filmdom's favorite players, headed by Charley Murray, prince of entertainers, brought the entertainment program of the convention to a happy and successful conclusion last night at the Hotel Maryland, where they staged "La Fiesta Electrica," a symposium of star stunts, following a gay dinner for more than 1500 convention delegates.

Among those who took part in the electrical fiesta are Charley Murray, Bob Albright, Tom Mix, Dustin and William Farnum, George Beban, Eddie Cline, Buster Keaton, Slim Summerville, Bobbie Dunn, George Cook, Ben Turpin, Charles Conklin, Fred Ardath, Charles Ray, Wallace Reid, Lew Cody, William H. Crane, Charlie and Al Christie, Dorothy Devore, Helen Darling and the Helen VanPelt company of classical dancers.

Each of the film stars did his or her best stunt for the 200 spectators who were crowded into the Maryland ballroom. Twelve toe dancers were a brilliant feature of the program. The fiesta closed with a serpentine parade of bathing girls through the lobby of the hotel, with a little pickininny bringing up the rear. The bathing girls were clad in conventional seaside costumes.

TOUCH OF FRONTIER.

A touch of the old West was discovered by the "gay dogs" of the convention early last night in what the entertainment committee called "The Forty-nine Camp." This was located in the old Maryland grill in the basement. The rooms had been decorated to represent a typical log cabin, the walls being ornamented with mounted deer, elk and mountain sheep heads. The effect was truly picturesque and smacked of the early days in California.

Arranged along the walls were all manner of gambling devices, from roulette wheels to faro layouts, chuckaluck and paddle wheels. The delegates bought at the bank pesos which they played in the games. All winnings were exchanged for merchandise at the bar, where soft drinks were served. When the camp was in full swing last night it resembled a scene at the "Last Chance" in Hangtown, or Nome on the eve of a "mush out" for the winter. Those in attendance said they had never seen its equal for merriment.

The Hotel Maryland was a blaze of glory yesterday, decorations of roses and popples twined around pillars and over light shades being so effective as to excite comment on all sides.

The old Cadillac Club negro jazz band furnished music for the "Forty-nine Camp," a fifteen-piece orchestra played for the stunt show put on by the film stars, and a twenty-five-piece orchestra played for the dance in the Maryland dining-room.

ABOUT REGULATION.

Carl D. Jackson, chairman of the Wisconsin Railroad Commission, talked before the convention yesterday on "The Trend of Regulation." He expressed the opinion that the solution of the present problem of economic production and distribution lies in the use of natural forces. He declared that electrical development is yet in its infancy. He advised handling big public utilities outside of politics and declared that regulation is needed to protect and encourage investment in power projects as well as to safeguard the public.

In the absence of Frank M. Kerr of Butte, Mont., a paper on "The Electrification of Steam Roads" was read by H. H. Cochrane. In this discussion Mr. Kerr said, in part:

"If all the steam railroads in the country were electrified with power furnished from large steam generating electric stations, the total fuel required would be equivalent to 53,500,000 tons of coal, as against the actual figure for railroad coal used during the year 1918, of 176,000,000 tons. Thus, by electrification of the railroads, 122,500,000 tons of coal would have been saved.

HUBBY HEAVES SPINACH ABOUT.

But Wife of Motion-Picture Rough Rider Fails to Win a Separation.

"He said I was the darnedest cook he ever saw and threw a handful of spinach against the wall," testified Mrs. Meta Stine, whom Judge Taft yesterday refused to grant a divorce from Ben Stine, a rough rider in the employ of a film company. The incident, she said, caused her mental anguish.

In denying the decree the court remarked that he had little sympathy with trial marriages. The evidence showed that the Stines married Dec. 12, 1918, and separated last February 17.

Even if power necessary to run the railroads were furnished from electric generating stations using coal for fuel and with a large part of the power supplied from water-power plants, the saving would be considerably increased.

"The cost of purchasing electric energy is in some cases given undue prominence by roads considering electrification. That this is not necessarily a controlling item is indicated by the following figures: The total yearly cost of operation on the C. M. & St. P. railway averages about $11,000 per mile for the entire system of 10,000 miles. The cost of electric energy purchased for this road's mountain division is $16,000 per mile, or less than 15 per cent of the average total cost for the system."

IN TEACHERS' CAUSE.

Twenty-seven Organizations of Long Beach Demand Pay Rise.

Long Beach rallied to the support of the underpaid teachers yesterday and demanded that adequate pay be granted to the educators of America's future citizens. Twenty-seven organizations of Long Beach, representing 7960 members, forwarded resolutions to the offices of the Citizens' School Survey Committee, in the Chamber of Commerce Building, demanding for the teachers of city and county an adequate wage scale.

Walter R. Hepner, chairman of the Long Beach teachers' salary Committee, announced yesterday that all the organizations supporting the demand will make a strong appeal before the Board of Supervisors. The organizations include: The Medical Society of Long Beach; the Keel Club, Long Beach Council; Knights of Columbus; Gaviots' Chapter, Daughters of American Revolution; Brotherhood of Grace, M. E. Church; Veterans' Union; Taubman's Men's Bible Class; American Legion of California, Post No. 37; Kiwanis Club; Palos Verdes Lodge 389; F. and A. M.; Knights of Pythias; Chamber of Commerce; Ebell Club, Woman's City Club; Parent-Teacher Association; Woman's Christian Temperance Union; Friday Morning Discussion Club; Grand Army of the Republic, Post No. 181, and five chapters of the P.E.O., of Long Beach.

AS DRAFT DODGERS.

Informations are Filed Against Thirty-three to Clear Records.

To clear the records of the local draft boards and avoid the operation of the statute of limitation that begins to run for three years after June 5, 1917, the date of the draft, the following informations were filed in the United States District Court yesterday by Asst. U. S. Atty. Crane, covering the cases of men who were selected for service and failed to report to their respective draft boards. The bond in each case was fixed at $500.

The list of accused draft dodgers sought includes: George Weisham, Charles H. Ryan, Samuel Young, Raymond Martinez, James C. Brown, Dick A. Boyd, Clim Gordon, Newton G. Two letters that speak for themselves

THE SIGNAL CORPS SCHOOL
Camp Alfred Vail, N. J.
April 12, 1920.

Dear Rodis,

Yes, I am in the Army now, and here at Camp Vail, learning telegraph operating and telephone and telegraph repeater work. I like the life and I really believe I am fitting myself for a good paying job when my enlistment is up.

The work is laid out so that it reaches the average man and you don't have to be a high-brow to start in.

The school now has ten commissioned instructors, three consulting engineers from civil life, and twenty-four non-commissioned instructors and eighteen privates.

I am a private myself but I can be promoted up to one hundred and five dollars a month, all practically clear money, for everything you need is free.

How are James and Hiram? Give my regards to your father.

Let me hear from you some time.

Yours as ever,

Dewey

My address is:

Dear Sir: In response to your request to have inquired into the character of the instruction given at the vocational school which the United States Army has established as Camp Alfred Vail, New Jersey, we beg to report:

We find that the courses in practical mathematics, electricity, magnetism, general telephone work and telegraph operating have been laid out and conducted upon such a thorough and practical basis that they provide an excellent preliminary training for men desiring to enter the telephone business.

We are calling to the attention of the operating companies associated with the Conference the fact that men who have taken this preliminary training will be available for telephone work as they return to civil life, and we are recommending to their favorable attention the records of these men as to have a distinct bearing the indorsement of either "Very Good" or "Excellent" and a certificate showing that they have successfully completed the course.

Yours very truly,

Vice President

Man seeks the Job — Job seeks the Man

Army serves both

Lead a good healthy life
Learn a trade or get a schooling
Get military training
Be with men from your own home State

Here are your Home State Regiments of the Regular Army
22nd Regt. Infantry
Now at Camp Kearny, Cal.
19th Regt. Infantry
Now at Douglas, Ariz.
82nd Regt. Field Artillery
Now at Fort Bliss, Texas.
35th Regt. Coast Artillery
Now at Camp Lewis, Wash.
11th Regt. Cavalry
Now at Presidio of Monterey, Monterey, Cal.
9th Regt. Engineers
Now at El Paso, Texas.

MORE than one hundred trades are being taught in the schools of the new democratic peace-time Army.

Thousands of men who have joined are fitting themselves for bigger jobs, for earning more money. Employers in every State, in almost every line of business, are looking for men with this training.

Ask if there's a vacancy.

Puritan Ham and Bacon

Ham and "Hams"

Ham is one thing—"Hams" another.

"Hams" are on the market in great profusion—"hams" of every grade, size and quality; only a small percentage of the hams which we produce is eligible to the Puritan label.

But Ham—Puritan Ham—is a quality brand—an unusual product, distinctively better, uniformly good.

Puritan Ham today will be the same sweet, tender flavory Ham tomorrow. Conditions, no matter from what source, will never change the quality. It will always remain Puritan.

Ask your dealer, and remember
